COFFEE CART PRESENTATION

ABOUT US

MICHAEL

Michael Hutchinson, M.Ed., founder of Inclusion Coffee and Lucky Dog Coffee, has a long career as a teacher of special education and working with kids and adults with disabilities. Michael often speaks with family members of his students about their futures and their opportunities. Finding them very limited, this was the impetus for the business - a job and life skills training facility for those in need of such.

SHANNON

Shannon Funk holds two masters with an MSIS degree, and an MBA, she has an intuitive understanding of the business and IT market. Shannon's children are on the spectrum. She, like many other parents, worries about the opportunities available to them. Having had a career in IT for 20 years, working at the University of Cincinnati and Microsoft, she decided to shift gears and focus on her passion of helping others grow.

Students learn math, communication, collaboration, vocational skills and other life skills. It doesn't have to be at a shop as you can bring it to your campus as well!

RESPONSE TO THE PROGRAM

“One of the best programs that you can do for your students. Not only are they learning job skills but also learning social skills” - Gill M

“My students come off the bus excited for ‘Coffee Cart Day.’ They love not just the making the coffee but also the delivery of the product. They are learning to be more social and feel like a part of the campus since they now see teachers they normally would not see.” - Peter R

“As a resource teacher, I teach my students Financial Lit to help prepare them for life after school. This program helped lay the foundation for their business plans, budgets, and customer service. We are using their proceeds for grants to Prom and Grad Night.” - Eric R

“The parents of the students are really the ones who helped push this program through. Their kids come home happy and excited that they feel productive and accomplished. The parents have told me they have noticed the students being more social and they self-advocate more.” - Alicia M

“ The excitement for the coffee cart has helped to create a closer knit community on our campus by connecting the students and staff on a more personal level; which is something special in and of itself. The teachers see the students more than just a special-ed student.” - Matt B
