

Mary, the Mother of Jesus

1.	The Hebrew name "Mary" means or bitterness. The name of Mary has often been associated with the Old Testament names of [Num.
	12:1], of Mara, the name Naomi used to describe her affliction [Ruth 1:20] and Marah [Exodus 15:23], the name of the bitter the Israelites encountered in their wilderness journey. As the mother of Jesus, Mary had many bitter experiences to endure. Her was prophesied in Luke 2:35 by the devout Simeon who said through the Spirit of God that "a sword shall through her own soul". This verse predicted the trials and grief she would go through as the of the Son of God. Her trials would be so piercing at times that it would feel like her heart was actually breaking in two.
	30 piereing at times that it would reer like her heart was actually breaking in two.
2.	One of the main prophesies concerning the virgin birth is found in Isaiah 7:14.
	This prophesy came some years before the long-awaited Messiah was actually born through the Virgin Mary. Matthew 1:16 gives us one of the evidences of Jesus' virgin birth. "Of whom" is feminine singular which indicates clearly that Jesus was born of Mary and not of Mary and Joseph. The angel of the Lord also confirms this for he declared unto Joseph that Mary conceived the child through the [Matt. 1:20]. Throughout the ages, and mythology have tried to counterfeit the virgin birth with many false accounts to lessen the importance of Jesus' unique birth.

	[*See insert A]
3.	The announcement of Jesus Christ is given to us in both the book of
•	Matthew and the book of Luke. Jospeh's reaction to the announcement is given in Matthew 1:19-25 while response to the annunciation of Christ's birth is given in Luke 1:26-56. Both accounts verify that Mary and Joseph were espoused () to be married. The betrothal period in Jewish life was very and as binding as marriage [Deut. 22:23-27]. The betrothal period was marked by the man giving a coin to the girl and by saying a — "By this thou are set apart for me according to the laws of Moses and of Israel". [*See insert B] The engagement period lasted about months in which the home was prepared by the groom and the wedding would be prepared by the bride. She would prepare for married life while her parents would prepared for the wedding festivities. From the moment the woman became betrothed, she was treated as if she was actually So sacred was this engagement period that laws were established to protect the sanctity of the betrothed couple. [*See insert C]

4.	Ever since man sinned in the Garden of Eden and God gave the first promise that theseed (the Messiah) would overcome Satan [Gen. 3:15], the birth of the Messiah was looked forward to with great Godly women through-out the centuries desired to give birth to this Messiah. However, few if any, realized that with this great of being the mother of the Messiah, there would be incomparable mixed with indescribable Although Mary's name means bitterness, it referred to her trials and not her concerning them. While there is no mention of Mary's beauty [Luke 1:38, 45-47], Mary had an inner beauty that came from within. I Samuel 16:7 says "for the Lord seeth not as man seeth: for man looked on the outward appearance, but the Lord looks on the"
5.	Mary's genealogy is found in Luke 3:23-38 [especially vs. 31]which traces her ancestry from David through while Joseph's lineage is found in Matthew 1:1-17 which traces his genealogy from David through [especially vs. 6]. These genealogies of Mary and Joseph are very important for Mary's linage establishes Jesus' line to the throne while Joseph's genealogy gives Jesus his right to the throne. Had Jesus been the son of Joseph, He could not have ruled because of the curse on Jeconiah (also known as Coniah) [Jer. 22:28-30]. It took both Joseph's lineage and Mary's lineage to this curse and give Jesus the right to rule. [*See insert D] Another important fact is that since the destruction of the Temple and the genealogy records in 70 A.D., no Jewish person now living can trace his lineage. The significance to this is for those Jews who are still looking for the Messiah to come, the Messiah will not be able to his lineage to David in the absence of these vital records. Therefore, Jesus Christ is the last claimant to the throne of David and the Messianic line.
6.	Little information is really given in Scripture (outside of their genealogies) about the of Mary and Joseph — although we know more about Mary than Joseph. We can assume from Scripture that they were by the sacrifice given in Luke 2:24 — the sacrificial offering given by a family who could not afford a lamb [Lev. 12:6-8]. We know that Mary lived in the city of when the angel Gabriel came to visit her [Luke 1:26-27], and Mary is said to be the cousin of Elizabeth, John the Baptist's mother [Luke 1:36]. Joseph, on the other hand, is called by God as a man [Matt. 1:19]. Although there is much human speculation about this couple, one thing we do know from the Word of God is that they both exercised great faith and to God [Luke 1:31-38; Matt. 1:24-25; 2:13-15]. They also knew their Old Testament Scriptures and their home was with the word of God. God would not have sent His Son to live with a family who did not honor and walk with Him. [*See insert E]

7.	which means full of Erroneous teachings claim that Mary was "full of favor" in the sense that she can favor to others. However, it only means that she grace from God in being chosen as the mother of God's Son [Luke 1:28]. She became the human instrument in which Jesus would become Jesus, the Son of God existed before He came to this earth [John 1:1-4, 14: 3:16]. As part of the human race, Mary was a who was in need of a Savior [Luke 2:21-22]. Mary was unclean after giving birth and had to give animal sacrifices for her cleansing. Mary herself this in her Magnificat to God by saying, "My soul does magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour" [Luke 1:47]. Only a sinner is in need of a [Matthew 1:21].
8.	Mary was awed by the angel's appearance and by the angel's salutation [Luke 1:28-30]. Gabriel comforts her with the same words, "Fear not" that were spoken to Zacharias when he saw the angel in the temple [Lk.1:13]. Gabriel again comforts Mary in that she has found "favour with God". With this greeting, he proclaims to Mary the mighty mystery of the — God in the flesh —[Lk. 1:31-33]. This same grace given by God to Mary would be the same grace to enable her and preserve her to be the mother to the Son of God in His humanity [I Thessalonians 5:24].
9.	Jesus' life did not with Mary for He was before Mary for His "goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting" [Micah 5:2]. Mary is the mother of Jesus in His not in His [John 1:1-3, 14]. No where in Scripture does it say that Mary is the mother of God has no parents and is known as Yahweh, the Self-Existent One. Gabriel tells Mary she would bring forth a [Is. 9:6; John 3:16, Matt 3:17], and His name shall be called Jesus "for he shall save his people from their sins" [Matt. 1:21]. The Greek name "Jesus" and the Hebrew name "Jeshua" (Joshua) means the "LORD is Jehovah said of himself, "and there is no God else beside Me; a just God and a Saviour; there is beside me" [Isaiah 45:21; Hos. 13:4]. Jesus the Saviour came to earth to so that men could have their sins forgiven and to live eternally with God in heaven. Jesus was appropriately named for His which was to redeem mankind of their sins. Gabriel tells Mary this child will be the Son of God, He will be great and He will sit on the throne of David [Isaiah 9:6-7].
10.	Mary responds to Gabriel's announcement with for she believed that God could perform such a miracle as the incarnation [Lk. 1:34-38]. Mary's words were that of — seeking further guidance from the angel of the Lord for a woman whose heart and life was already to the complete will of God. [*See insert F] This babe would be like no other child born on the face of the earth for this "Holy One" would not be conceived by a man and a woman but by the work of the Holy Ghost. [*See insert G] Jesus would not be born through the seed of a man but through the seed of a woman only [Gen.

	3:15], by the third Person in the Godnead [Isalan 7:14; Gal. 4:4].
	Jesus would be sinless for He would have a nature — free from the contamination of sin — not because Mary wasbut because the very nature of is without sin [I Peter 1:19; 2 Cor. 5:21; I John 4:10] [*See insert H]. Jesus could not have been mor could He be the Saviour for mankind without the birth. The virgin birth not only protected Mary's own character, reputation and legitimacy of Jesus' birth, but it protected the holiness of the Son of God. Without the virgin birth, Jesus could not have been the sacrifice unto God for mankind's sins [1 John 2:2; 4:10; Rom. 3:25]. Therefore Jesus' death, resurrection and ascension would be a hoax — leaving mankind forever in their sinful state [1 Cor. 15:14, 17].
11.	Gabriel told Mary about her cousin, Elizabeth, who was with child in her old age.
	What could not be accomplished by man was possible with God [Lk.
	1:37; 18:27]. This was not only a sign to Mary that God's announcement from Gabriel would come to pass but also served as a where Mary should go. After the angel departed, Mary immediately departed to visit Elizabeth [Lk. 1:39-45].
	knew Mary would need another godly woman to share this incredible news with.
	There she would find with another godly woman before speaking to her betrothed about her pregnancy. Could you imagine Mary's when Elizabeth being filled with the Holy Ghost confirmed Gabriel's message by greeting Mary as "the mother of my Lord".
12	Many responded to Elizabeth's greating by giving homogo to the Lord [Lk 1:46 EE]
12.	Mary responded to Elizabeth's greeting by giving homage to the Lord [Lk. 1:46-55].
	This song of praise is called "the Magnificat". Mary praises God for her for the Lord's strength and and for His provision. Mary shows her love and knowledge of the Scriptures by alluding to some discernible quotations from the Old Testament — a testimony to the home that Jesus would be brought up in. [*See insert I]
13.	After months, Mary left the home of Zacharias and Elizabeth and returned to
10.	her home in Nazareth [Lk 1:56]. Mary, no doubt, experienced along with the great joy of the Annunciation, the first of the sorrowful experiences she would encounter as the mother of Jesus. Mary now faced by her beloved Joseph and even possible death. Her reputation and moral character would be in question. However, these insurmountable did not keep Mary from doing God's will — even at the expense of her own personal happiness. Her faith was and she was committed to God at all cost. What a wonderful tribute to the faith and resolution of the woman to be the mother of God's only begotten Son.
14.	Mary told Joseph her situation and the circumstances behind it.
	His heart must have as he listened to this unbelievable story which Mary described to him. Joseph was an honorable man who walked with God [Matt.

	1:19]. How could he marry this woman who was pregnant with a child that did notto Him? [Matt.1:20]. No matter how deep his trust in Mary was, only acommunication could relieve his questioning mind and give him the courage he needed to fulfill his holy call from God. Joseph's love for Mary was so that he could not make her a public example [Deut. 22:23-24]. Therefore, he decided to give her a bill of divorcement in private. [*See insert J] As he was contemplating on these things, the angel of the Lord appeared unto Joseph in a and revealed to Joseph the divine nature of Mary's condition. The angel clearly identifies Jesus' birth as a of Old Testament prophesy found in Isaiah 7:14 regarding the virgin birth [Matt. 1:18-23].
15.	The angel of God told Joseph that Mary would have a son — son. As the stepfather (not the father) of Jesus, he would have the privilege of raising the holy child, Jesus. Not only would Jesus' name testify to God's salvation but Jesus Himself would be the to God's salvation [Acts 4:12]. When Joseph awoke from his dream, Joseph the angel of the Lord and took Mary to be his wife. [*See insert K] As the husband of Mary and the stepfather of God's Son, Joseph had the grave responsibility to raise, and educate his family in the ways of the Lord. Just like Mary, Joseph found out that with great comes personal sacrifice. Although Joseph took Mary to be his wife before the betrothal period was completed, he did have sexual relations with her until Jesus was born [Matt. 1:24-25; Gen. 4:1; 17].
16.	As husband and wife, Mary and Joseph travelled to Bethlehem because of a decree from Caesar Augustus that must go to his own city where he was born in order to enroll for [Lk. 2:1-5]. God used this decree to move Mary and Joseph from to Bethlehem in order that His word might be accomplished for Micah prophesied of God some years prior to the Messiah's birth that Jesus would be born in Bethlehem (the house of bread) in Micah 5:2. This taxation occurred during the time of Cyrenius when he was governor of Syria. [*See insert L]
17.	Mary was great with child and when her days were fulfilled, Jesus was born. The miraculous birth of Jesus Christ is one of the main stones to our Christian faith [Lk. 2:6-7; Gal. 4:4-5]. "Mary brought forth her son and wrapped him in swaddling clothes (clothes used for in the Near East during Biblical times). Jesus was born in a manager — most probably "Migdal Eder" — the place where the lambs for the Temple were kept. What an appropriate place for the One who would bring to mankind. John the Baptist called Jesus the Lamb of God [Jn. 1:29] and Peter talked of Jesus' sacrificial [1 Peter 2:24]. This child was both God and man. What indescribable joy must have filled Mary's heart as she held the long-awaited in her arms.

18.	Christ, the second Person in the Godhead to take on form in order to redeem mankind from the penalty of sin [Rom. 6:23]. It was the angel of God who brought the glorious announcement unto the in the field [Lk. 2:8-14]. This babe was from any other child born on the face of the earth for He was God-Man. Three titles were ascribed to Jesus by the angel — Saviour, Christ (Messiah or Anointed One), and (Yahweh or God) [Lk. 2:11]. The shepherds were very afraid. Again the angel comforts them with the same words he spoke to Zacharias and Mary —"Fear not". The angel came to bring them tidings of great joy — predicted in the O.T. and fulfilled in the N.T. A two-fold sign was given to the shepherds to identify this child — he would be wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manager. After this announcement, the heavenly host burst forth with great to God. What a day of rejoicing!! Salvation is come to man. *Look at— The Prophesies and Fulfillment of the Messiah?
19.	The shepherds even before they saw the babe, and they went immediately down to Bethlehem [Lk. 2:15-18]. There in the they saw the babe with Mary and Joseph. After they beheld the holy family, they went forth to the gospel message that the Messiah has come. The shepherds were the first evangelists to the birth of the Lord Jesus Christ. Scripture tells us that Mary "kept all these things in her heart" [Lk. 2:19-20]. Mary had the unique that no other woman shared — bringing forth and raising the only Begotten Son of God. The magnitude of God's would never leave her heart. God's promise and fulfillment of sending His Son, was now a reality. Mary's unwavering faith and complete on God would see her through the deepest of trials.
20.	Eight days following His birth, Mary and Joseph had Jesus circumcised according to the Mosaic law [Lev. 12:1-3; Luke 2:21-24] days after the circumcision, Mary's days of purification were accomplished. She brought a offering and a offering unto the priest in order that he might make an for her before Jehovah and she might become from the source of her issue. In extreme cases of poverty, two turtledoves and two pigeons were substituted for the lamb. This sacrifice of Mary shows the of Jesus' family [Lev. 12:4; 6-8].
21.	While Mary and Joseph were still in the Temple with Jesus, Simeon, a just and devout man who was promised by God not to see until he first saw the Messiah, took Jesus into his arms and blessed God [Lk. 2:25-35]. Simeon blessed the baby and prophesied the that Mary would experience in her life. There was also a prophetess named Anna who gave unto God for the Christ-child and who went and told others of the salvation of the Messiah [Lk. 2:36-38].

22.	It wasn't long before Mary began to see the fulfillment of Simeon's prophesy concerning her suffering. Because of Herod's
23.	Mary and Joseph had other children after Jesus was born. Scripture says that Josephnot Mary until after the birth of Jesus [Matt. 1:25]. Mary then became wholly and completely the wife of Joseph, and they lived together in the sexual of the bushand and wife relationship. Both the books of Matthew [12:53 56] and of the husband and wife relationship. Both the books of Matthew [13:53-56] and Mark [6:3] talks of the and of Jesus. Even in the Old Testament in Psalm 69:8, this prophesy about the Messiah speaks of him as being an alien to his These were, of course, half-brothers and half-sisters to Jesus since they were born of both Mary and Joseph while Jesus was the Son of Mary Luke describes Jesus as Mary's — a term used to indicate that Mary had other sons after Jesus [2:7]. No where in the Holy Scriptures does it teach that Joseph was married before with children or that these children were of Jesus. The natural meaning of the above verses is that there were other children in the family of Mary and Joseph.
24.	Mary experienced yet anotherpiercing incident when Jesus was 12 years old. After returning to the Temple to find Jesus, Jesus tells Mary that they should have realized he would be about doing His business. Although Joseph was his legal father, it was God who was Jesus and only Father. Jesus' heritage separated Him from all others. His mission was to carry out the will of God His Father. Mary and Joseph did not understand what Jesus was trying to tell them [Lk.2:50]. Jesus placed Himself under the authority of His earthly parents [Lk. 2:51]. For the next years, Jesus would remain in the home. The word of God is silent about these years until Jesus begins His public ministry. This is also the mention of Joseph in Scripture. [*See insert M]
25.	For approximately years, Jesus lived with his family. In Luke 2:52, the only thing that God does reveal about His Son during this time is that Jesus grew in wisdom, in stature and in with God and man. But the time finally came for Jesus to leave his home and to start His public ministry. Mary would experience the bitter pangs of as Jesus cuts His earthly ties to do the ministry God had prepared for Him even the foundations of the world. Mary soon learned that from this point on, her relationship with Jesus would be Mary's first lesson came at the marriage feast of Cana, Jesus rebuked will over Him and His divine work, but she was now to be completely dependent upon Him [John 2:1-5]. 26. Mary did not fully all His activities while on earth. In Matthew 12:46-50, Mary again is made to realize that the earthly relationship was _ to Jesus' ministry as the Son of God and the ______ of the world. No earthly ties were to hinder or interrupt His work of redemption. Jesus' relationship to Mary was to the others who would hear His Word and be obedient to it. Although Mary was His mother as man, she was not His mother as _____. After Jesus started His public ministry, Jesus was careful to call Mary " (a term of respectful address) never "mother". Even at the cross, he addressed her as "woman" once again (John 19:25-27). [*See insert N] Mary experienced the ______ of sorrows as she stood at the foot of the 27. cross watching her son die such a horrible and ______ death [Jn. 19:25]. As she stood in silence, her must have been beyond words. Jesus' body was torn and bloody, His hands and feet pierced, His body marred _____ recognition [Isaiah 52:14]; yet, she never left His side, even though all the disciples but one scattered for their lives. Her ______ love for her son would not let her leave the foot of the cross even though her heart was pierced through by what she heard and witnessed. Before Jesus died, He publicly recognized his ______ relationship to Mary. Jesus entrusted Mary to the loving care of his most beloved disciple, John. Once again Jesus referred to her as " but to John, Jesus said "Thy mother". In the last moments of His life, Jesus thought of the _____ of His earthly mother. As a widow and the mother of unbelieving children [Jn. 7:5], Jesus sought a home with a _____atmosphere so that His mother could spend her declining years in a godly home. From that hour on, the apostle _ took Mary into his own home. The last mention of Mary in Scripture is a very one [Acts 1:13-14]. She is 28. found in the upper room along with the disciples, the other women of Jerusalem and her own ____. By this time, her sons became believers in Christ. Mary, at this point along with all the other believers, had already experienced the death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus Christ. Now Mary is seen _____ Jesus' command to wait for the coming of the Holy Spirit [Jn. 16:7; Acts 2:1-4]. Here we find Mary in an ______ of prayer and supplication along with the others in the upper room. She is never found in Scripture as the ______ of worship. Jesus never _____ the worship of Mary either. Quite the contrary in Luke 11:27-28 when a certain woman tried to _____ Mary for being the mother of Jesus. Jesus answered the woman by stating that more _____ are those that hear God's word and keep it. No where in Scriptures do the apostles (those closest to Christ) or other believers prayed or gave _____ to Mary. Their allegiance was to Christ and Him _____ [Isaiah 42:8; Matt. 4:10]. John Mac Arthur, Jr., The Mac Arthur New Testament Commentary Matthew 1-7, "The Virgin Birth", pg. 12, comments on the counterfeit of the virgin birth in fantasy and mythology:

For example, the Romans believed that Zeus impregnated Semele without contact and that she conceived Dionysus, lord of the earth. The Babylonians believed that Tammuz [see Ezek. 8:14] was conceived in the priestess Semiramis by a sunbeam. In an ancient Sumerian/ Acadian story inscribed on a wall, Tukulti II (890-884 B.C.) told how the gods created him in the womb of his mother. It was even claimed that the goddess of procreation superintended the conception of King Sennacherib (705-681 B.C.). At the conception of Buddha, his mother supposedly saw a great white elephant enter her belly. Hinduism has claimed that the divine Vishnu, after reincarnations as a fish, tortoise, boar, and lion, descended into the womb of Devaki and was born as her son Krishna. There is even a legend that Alexander the Great was virgin born by the power of Zeus through a snake that impregnated his mother, Olympias. Satan has set up many more such myths to counterfeit the birth of Christ in order to make it seem either common or legendary.

Dr. Ronald Showers, Israel My Glory, "Behold, the Bridegroom Comes", February/March, 1975, Vol. 33, No. 1, pg. 8, talks about the betrothal period in Jewish life:

The first major step in a Jewish marriage was betrothal. Betrothal involved the establishment of a marriage covenant. By Jesus' time, it was usual for such a covenant to be established as the result of the prospective bridegroom taking the initiative. The prospective bridegroom would travel from his father's house to the home of the prospective bride. There he would negotiate with the father or the young woman to determine the price (mohar) that he must pay to purchase his bride. Once the bridegroom paid the purchase price, the marriage covenant was thereby established, and the young man and woman were regarded to be husband and wife. From that moment on the bride was declared to be consecrated or sanctified, set apart exclusively for her bridegroom. As a symbol of the covenant relationship that had been established, the groom and bride would drink from a cup of wine over which a betrothal benediction had been pronounced. After the marriage covenant had been established, the groom would leave the home of the bride and return to his father's house. There he would remain separate from his bride for a period of 12 months.

Ralph Gower, The New Manners and Customs of the Bible Times, "Family Life", pg. 65, discusses the sanctity of the betrothal period and the regulations that govern it:

Once the arrangement to marry was entered into, there was a betrothal that was more binding than the engagement in contemporary society. A man who was betrothed to a woman, even though not yet married, was exempted from military service [Deut. 20:7]. If a girl was already betrothed and was raped by another man she could not become that other man's wife, as would normally be the case [Deut. 22:28-29], because she already belong to her husband-to-be. Such violation involved the death penalty [Deut. 22:23-27 . . .The betrothal could be broken only by a legal transaction (in effect, a divorce), and the ground for such termination was adultery [Deut. 22:24].

John Mac Arthur, Jr., The Mac Arthur New Testament Commentary Matthew 1-7, "The Gracious King", pg. 3 talks about the curse of Jeconiah:

It is essential to note that in His virgin birth Jesus not only was divinely conceived but through that miracle was protected from regal disqualification because of Joseph's being a descendant of Jeconiah [v. 12]. Because of that king's wickedness, God had declared of Jeconiah (also called Jehoiachin or Coniah) that, though he was in David's line, "no man of his descendants will prosper, sitting on the throne of David or ruling again in Judah" [Jer. 22:30]. That curse would have precluded Jesus' right to kingship had he been the natural son of Joseph, who was in Jeconiah's line. Jesus' legal descent from David, which was always traced through the father, came through Jeconiah to Joseph. But His blood descent, and His human right to rule, came through Mary, who was not in Jeconiah's lineage. Thus the curse on Jeconiah's offspring was circumvented, while still maintaining the royal privilege.

Herbert Lockyer, All the Women of the Bible, "Mary", pg. 93:

Among all the godly Jewish maidens of that time in Palestine, why did God select such a humble peasant young woman as Mary: Her choice by God to be the mother of the Incarnate Son is as mysterious as her conception of Him within her virgin womb. When the fullness of time had come for Jesus to be manifested, He did not go to a city, but to a remote and inconsiderate town —not to a palace but a poor dwelling — not to the great and learned but to lowly partisans — for a woman to bring the Saviour into a lost world. . . Mary, then, was selected by divine wisdom from among the humblest and it was in such an environment that the Father prepared His Son to labor among the common people who heard Him gladly. The one of whom He was born, the place where he was born was arranged beforehand by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God. Centuries before Mary became the mother of the Saviour of mankind, it was prophesied that it would be so [Isaiah 7:14-16; 9:6-7; Micah 5:2-3]. Born of a peasant maiden, and having a foster-father who eeked out a frugal living as a carpenter, Jesus was best able to sympathize with man as man, and be regarded by all men as the common property of all.

Herbert Lockyer, All the Women of the Bible, "Mary", p. 94 concerning her submission to Gabriel's announcement:

What amazes one about the Annunciation is the way Mary received it. She was in no way credulous or skeptical. Certainly she asked intelligent questions of Gabriel as to how she could become the mother of Jesus, seeing she was a pure virgin. Following a full explanation of how the miracle would happen, she, with a tremendous feat of faith, replied, "Be it unto me according to thy word". When Mary willingly yielded her body to the Lord saying, "Behold the handmaiden of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word", the Holy Spirit, by His gentle operation, took Deity and humanity and fused them together and formed the love-knot between our Lord's two natures with Mary's being. Therefore, when Jesus came forth it was as the God-Man, "God manifest in the flesh" or "that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God". Son of Mary — humanity! Son of God — Deity!

Charles Caldwell Ryrie, The Ryrie Study Bible, p. 1438, see note on Luke 1:35 concerning "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee":

The incarnation was accomplished by this creative act of the Holy Spirit in the body of Mary. The virgin birth was a special miracle performed by the third Person of the Trinity, the Holy Spirit, whereby the second Person of the Trinity, the eternal Son of God, took to Himself a genuine, though sinless, human nature and was born as a man without surrendering in any aspect His deity.

G. Campbell Morgan, The Gospel According to Luke, p. 24, regarding the Immaculate Conception of Jesus:

The angel answered the biological question saying: The thing shall be done by the direct act of God, the power of the Most High, the Holy Spirit, wrapping thee around, overshadowing thee, producing in thy womb the Man-child; and also, by the same act, by the same energy, by the same force, the Holy Spirit overshadowing, that which is begotten shall be held from contamination with the sin of thy nature, and in human nature. It shall be holy. It shall have being in thy womb by the act of God; and it shall be held from contamination with the sinfulness of thy nature, by the same act of God.

Herbert Lockyer, All the Women of the Bible, "Mary", p. 95 discusses the Magnificat of Mary:

Taking the Lord at His word, Mary praised Him as if what He had declared had been fully accomplished. What a marvelous song of rejoicing the Magnificat is. It reveals poetic and prophetic genius of the highest order, and takes its place among the finest productions of the world. This extemporaneous ode expressing Mary's joy is indeed one of the choicest gems of Hebrew poetry. As given by Luke [1:46-55] this lyric expresses Mary's inward and deeply personal sacred and unselfish joy, and likewise her faith in Messianic fulfillment. It is also eloquent with her reverential spirit. Her worship was for her Son, for her spirit rejoiced in Him as her own Saviour. . . . Mary never claimed anything for herself.

John MacArthur, Jr., The MacArthur New Testament Commentary Matthew 1-7, "The Virgin Birth", pgs. 17-18 discusses Joseph's dilemma:

For the very reason that he was a righteous man, Joseph had a double problem, at least in his own mind. First, because of his righteous moral standards, he knew that he should not go through with the marriage because of Mary's pregnancy. He knew that he was not the father and assumed, quite naturally, that Mary had had relations with another man. But second, because of his righteous love and kindness, he could not bear the thought of shaming her publicly (a common practice of his day in regard to such an offense), much less of demanding her death, as provided by the law [Deut. 22:23-24]. There is no evidence that Joseph felt anger, resentment or bitterness. He had been shamed (if what he assumed had been true), but his concern was not for his own shame but for Mary's. He was not wanting to disgrace her by public exposure of her supposed sin. Because he loved her so deeply, he determined simply to put her away secretly.

John MacArthur, Jr., The MacArthur New Testament Commentary Matthew 1-7, "The Virgin Birth", pg. 21 talk about Joseph's obedience to the angel's command:

We know nothing of Joseph's reaction, except that he immediately obeyed, doing as the angel of the Lord commanded him. We can imagine how great his feelings of amazement, relief, and gratitude must have been. Not only would he be able to take his beloved Mary as his wife with honor and righteousness, but he would be given care of God's own Son while He was growing up. That fact alone would indicate the depth of Joseph's godliness. It is inconceivable that God would entrust His Son into a family where the father was not totally committed and faithful to Him.

H. A. Ironside, Luke, "The Birth of the Saviour", pg. 62-63 discusses the taxation under Cyrenius:

(Critics say) this taxing could not have taken place in his (Cyrenius') time if it took place at the time when Christ was reputed to be born. Cyrenius ruled over Syria something like 6 A.D., really ten years after the actual birth of Christ, because He was born four years before the change of the calendar from B.C. To A.D. . . . But we know (from archaeological findings) that Cyrenius had been Governor of Syria before that, under the reign of Augustus from B.C. 12 on to B.C. 3. It was during this period that the census was taken, to which Luke refers here in his Gospel.

Herbert Lockyer, All the Women of the Bible, "Mary", pg. 97 concerning Joseph's life:

It is felt that during this period Mary lost the protection of her husband for if he had been alive he would have certainly been mentioned in succeeding events [Mark 3:31; John 2:1; 19:25].

Lorraine Boettner, Roman Catholicism, "Mary", pg. 154 concerning Jesus' relationship to Mary:

While Jesus always spoke respectfully to his mother, He nevertheless made it clear that neither she nor anyone else had any part in the work of salvation. No mere human could assist in that work, and the Scriptures are careful to point out that no assistance or dictation in any form was permitted. When Jesus stepped out of his home life at Nazareth and began His public ministry, a new relationship was established. From that time on, His supernatural parentage was emphasized. For He was the only begotten Son of the Father in heaven. He rebuked the mistaken tendency which seeks to exalt the human relationship at the expense of the divine, the physical at the expense of the spiritual.

Loraine Boettner, Roman Catholicism, "Mary", pg. 155 discusses the difference between honoring Mary and worshipping Mary:

We honor Mary, the mother of our Lord, with the honor the Scriptures give her as "blessed among women". No other member of the human race has received such high honor as conferred upon Mary in that she was chosen to be the mother of the Saviour of the world. She was truly a woman of virtue, and of extraordinary faith. She fulfilled admirable the office assigned to her. She was the chosen vessel to bring the Bread of Life to a sin-cursed world. We honor Mary, and all generations shall call her "blessed" because she believed the word of God and accepted the message of the angel Gabriel. But we do not deify her, nor worship her, nor pray to her, and we are bound to protest strongly when Christ is dethroned and Mary is elevated to that place which belongs to Him alone.

POINTS OF RESEMBLANCE BETWEEN HANNAH'S AND MARYS SONGS

Hannah's Song [1 Sam. 2:1-10]		Mary's Song [Luke 1:46-55]
My heart rejoiceth in the Lord Mine horn is exalted in the Lord	Praise	My soul doth magnify the Lord And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour
The bows of the mighty men are broken And they that stumbled are girded with strength The Lord killeth and maketh alive He bringeth down to the grave and bringeth up	Power & Strength	He hath shewed strength with his arm He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts He hath put down the mighty from their seats And exalted them of low degree
They that were full have hired out themselves for bread And they that were hungry ceased	Provides	He hath filled the hungry with good things And the rich he hath sent empty away

Jesus' Right to Rule

It took the lineage of both Mary and Joseph for Jesus to sit on the throne of King David in order to bypass the curse of Coniah that was in Joseph's line.

MARY HAD THE LITTLE LAMB

Mary had the little Lamb
Who lived before His birth;
Self-existent Son of God
From heaven He came to earth.
[Micah 5:2]

Mary had the little Lamb; See Him in yonder stall— Virgin-born Son of God To save man from the Fall [Isaiah 7:14]

Mary had the little Lamb, Obedient Son of God, Everywhere the Father led, His feet were sure to trod. [John 6:38]

Mary had the little Lamb, Crucified on the tree; The rejected Son of God, He died to set men free. [I Peter 1:18]

Mary had the little Lamb,
Men placed Him in the grave
Thinking there were done with Him;
To death He was no slave!
[Matthew 28:6]

Mary had the little Lamb, Ascended now is He; All work on earth is ended, Our Advocate to be. [Hebrews 4:14-16]

Mary had the little Lamb— Mystery to behold! From the Lamb of Calvary A Lion will unfold. [Revelation 5:5-6]

When the Day Star comes again,
Of this be very sure:
It won't be Lamb-like silence,
But with the Lion's roar
[Psalm 2:12; Rev. 19-11-16]
