

Angelique M. Niare is a dedicated Learning & Development Specialist with a thriving career in special education, where she has made significant contributions to the lives of students with disabilities. Angelique also serves as the Education Program Coordinator for her church Berean Christian Church Gwinnett where she is deeply committed to creating transformative educational experiences that nurture both academic success and spiritual growth. She leads with purpose to ensure that every lesson instills Biblical principles, fosters character development, and equips children and staff with the knowledge they need to thrive. In her role she collaborates with local county government agencies to secure essential grant funding, expanding her church's reach and strengthening the support they provide to families in their community.

Her passion for advocacy extends beyond the classroom, as she serves on the Board of Directors for Solomon's Temple, a homeless shelter where she champions the needs of homeless mothers and children. Having previously served as a Court Appointed Special Advocate for children in foster care, Angelique continues to show her leadership, compassion and relentless commitment to uplifting others. As Founder of Career Moms Academy, LLC and an accomplished author of her book, "The Mommy Manners Handbook: A Practical Guide to Becoming a Well-Behaved Mom"; she uses her platform to empower working mothers to achieve a sustainable work-life balance, overcome obstacles, defy expectations, and reach for their dreams. Through Angelique's advocacy and mentorship, she champions the causes of educational empowerment and of women in the workforce, ensuring that every mother and child has the support and resources they need to thrive and be successful. She has received the 2018 Empowerment Award from the Junior League of Atlanta, a cover story for the Peachtree Papers, and the 2021 Legacy Award from the Atlanta Children's Shelter.

Angelique M. Niare is a Spring 2007 Beta Gamma Chapter inductee of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Incorporated from Dillard University. During her time on campus she served as the Class of 2009 Chaplain from 2006-2009 and was an active member of the Vision Quest praise dance ministry. Angelique embodies the legacy of Dillard University and she takes great pride in empowering her community and ensuring that women, following behind her, including her three daughters have a great example to follow of excellence and perseverance.
