

Antonio Brown is an assistant principal with the Houston Independent School District, where he works to create a positive and inclusive learning environment for all students. He began his career as a classroom teacher, focusing on innovative instructional practices and collaborative professional development. Over the years, Mr. Brown has served in multiple leadership roles, honing his expertise in curriculum planning, teacher coaching, and data-driven decision-making. Born and raised in Chicago, he attended Dillard University, where he holds a bachelor's degree in Urban Studies and Public Policy, a master's degree in Educational Leadership, a specialist's degree in Curriculum and Instruction, and is currently working on his doctorate in Curriculum and Instruction with a focus on K-12. Passionate about community outreach, Mr. Brown frequently partners with families and local organizations to promote student success. In his current role, he remains dedicated to fostering strong school-family partnerships and ensuring every student has the support they need to excel academically and socially.
