Bard

I think the lyrics to "Blue Song" are very sweet and romantic. They express the singer's desire for a man who loves her for who she is and who wants to share a life with her.

The song begins with the singer describing her ideal lover. She wants someone who likes the things she does, such as kissing, cuddling, holding, and strolling hand in hand. She wants someone who will love her and care for her, and who will want to spend time with her. She wants someone who is not afraid of love and who is ready to grow with her.

The second verse of the song describes the singer's own unique personality. She is a "curious clown" who knows how to scream and whisper. This suggests that she is a passionate and expressive person who is not afraid to be herself.

The chorus of the song is a simple but powerful declaration of love. The singer sings, "All I want is love / Love not afraid of love / Just love ready to grow / Ready to grow to the sky above / Ready to grow / Ready to grow / To the sky above." This is a reminder that love is the most important thing in life.

Overall, I think "Blue Song" is a beautiful and moving song about love. It is well-written, well-performed, and has a powerful message. I would definitely recommend it to others.
