Exclusive Access to The Old Course & Authorised Provider of St Andrews Old Course tee times.

ProScot Golf Tours Ltd takes immense pride in our authorisation to offer guaranteed tee times at the iconic Old Course. This rare and prestigious opportunity is part of our tailor-made golf packages, which are meticulously crafted to ensure an experience befitting the legend of St Andrews.

Playing The Old Course at St Andrews is a dream cherished by golfers worldwide, a dream we are uniquely positioned to fulfil. As one of the select few companies globally granted the status of an Authorised Provider of St Andrew's Old Course tee times, ProScot stands in a privileged position to turn your golfing aspirations into reality.

St Andrews Old Course (Ballot)

Founded: 1552

The oldest and most iconic golf course in the world. The Swilcan Bridge and Hell Bunker are recognised across the globe, yet the greatest feature of the Old Course is that despite its grand status it remains a public golf course, open to all.

Handicap limits 36: Proof of Official Handicap required on day of play.

Ballot Process:

- To enter the ballot there must be at least two players and all names, Home Clubs and handicaps will be required.
- The ballot closes at 2pm two days before you hope to play.
- The result of the ballot is available after 4.30pm the same day the ballot closes.
- If successful, a current official handicap card (Golf Club affiliated to a Golf Union/Association) record or certificate must be presented to the starter prior to play. Unfortunately they do not accept letters of introduction from your local Club Professional.
- As the Old Course is closed on Sundays there is no Friday ballot.

Green Fee will be payable direct to the starter on the day.

Kingsbarns Links

Founded: 2000

Golf at Kingsbarns dates back to 1793, according to golf historian Bobby Burnet, with a nine-hole course once located on part of the current site. During World War II, the military took control of the course, as they considered the Kingsbarns beach a potential invasion point. The course vanished until American architect Kyle Phillips revitalized the area at the close of the 20th century.

Phillips drew inspiration from various courses, including Royal Dornoch, to create a design that blended seamlessly with the natural landscape. With the aid of earthmovers who relocated hundreds of thousands of tonnes of earth, Kingsbarns’ distinctive terrain was shaped. When the course officially opened in July 2000, it was met with widespread acclaim, and the layout fits so effortlessly into its surroundings that it feels like it has been there for centuries.

A highlight of Kingsbarns Golf Links is the breathtaking view of the North Sea, visible from almost every hole. The course also features its own burn, the Cambo, which was uncovered during the earthworks. The landscape is perfect for golf, with rolling fairways, natural humps, and deep hollows.

Carnoustie Championship Links

Founded: 1842

The game of golf has been played in Carnoustie for well over four centuries. The first indication that the game was being played in the Angus town can be found in the Parish Records of 1560 when the game of gowff was mentioned and there is every indication that the game has played an important part in the town’s life ever since.

Carnoustie is renowned for its formidable bunkers, with an abundance of them scattered across the course—some alarmingly deep and unforgiving. The par-five 6th hole, measuring 520 yards from the white tees, is widely regarded as one of the best in the world. Known as Hogan’s Alley, it pays tribute to the legendary Ben Hogan, who won The Open Championship here in 1953. The tee shot is particularly intimidating, with two imposing bunkers sitting in the middle of the fairway and a third lurking on the right, ready to punish any errant drives.

Royal Troon Championship Links

Founded: 1878

Founded in 1878 by a few enthusiasts, Troon Golf Club soon outgrew its purely local reputation. The Old Course today represents a stern golfing examination and in particular the inward half of Royal Troon is widely accepted as the most demanding of any Course on the Championship rota.

Royal Troon is a classic out-and-back links course. The opening holes are relatively straightforward, with a series of short par fours running along the Firth of Clyde, offering stunning views. On a clear day, you can see the distant Ailsa Craig to the south and the towering mountains of the Isle of Arran to the west.

The par 71 course measures 7,385 yards from the championship tees, but positioning is more important than sheer distance. Bunkers are scattered throughout, many of which are hidden from view off the tees. There's also plenty of deep rough, along with patches of gorse and broom to penalize errant shots.

It's wise to score well on the outward nine, as the back nine can be challenging, especially when playing into the prevailing north-westerly wind. The stretch from the 7th to the 13th offers a diverse and intriguing challenge, often considered one of the finest sequences of holes in the game.

Turnberry Ailsa Championship Links

Founded: 1902

The Ailsa course at Trump Turnberry is not just a golf course; it's a legend in the world of golf. Renowned for its rich history, including hosting four Open Championships, The Ailsa stands as a beacon of golfing excellence on Scotland's rugged west coast. The course, named after the iconic Ailsa Craig visible from its fairways, has been meticulously redesigned to enhance its natural coastal beauty and the strategic challenge it presents to golfers.

Golfers stepping onto The Ailsa are immediately struck by its majestic setting, with panoramic views of the sea, islands, and landscapes that define the Scottish coast. The course's design takes full advantage of its dramatic location, featuring undulating fairways, challenging bunkers, and greens that require thoughtful navigation. Each hole offers a unique challenge, with the lighthouse and the ruins of Turnberry Castle serving as stunning backdrops to some of the most memorable shots in golf.

The signature lighthouse hole is a testament to the course's blend of beauty and challenge, demanding precision and strategy. The Ailsa's finishing holes are among the most exhilarating in golf, providing a fitting climax to a round that spans the spectrum of golfing emotions.

Prestwick Championship Links

Founded: 1851

Prestwick Golf Club, the Birthplace of the Open Championship, welcomes all golfers from around the world to come and enjoy our testing historic Links. Situated on a stretch of golfing terrain unrivalled in the world, Prestwick is less than a couple of hours travel from all the other Open Championship courses in Scotland and is a must play for any discerning lover of the game.

The course is a timeless classic, with an authentic design that weaves through rugged dunes and undulating fairways. It features numerous blind holes and deep, sleepered bunkers, complete with wooden steps leading down to their depths. The greens are notoriously firm and fast, some tucked in hollows while others sit atop raised plateaus. Most are relatively small, with challenging borrows to navigate.

One of Prestwick's standout features is the variety and quality of its holes. The 1st, a par four known as "Railway," is one of the most intimidating starts in golf, with railway tracks running along the right-hand side, ready to catch any wayward slices. The 3rd, a short par five (stroke index 1) called "Cardinal," is renowned for its deep bunker, supported by railway sleepers. The 5th, a blind par three called "Himalayas," requires a tee shot to carry over a massive sand dune.

The Kithmore, St Andrews

Rating: 4 Star

The Kithmore, formerly known as The Ardgowan Hotel, has undertaken a £7.5 million investment and will open in June 2026.

The Kithmore, an ode to the Scots word ‘Kith’ meaning friendship, familiarity and a sense of home, will offer a luxury 44-bed hotel, a 60-cover bar and restaurant complete with an extended terrace. The Kithmore is set to embrace its role as a modern classic, joining its sister properties, The Leddie and The Bushmills Inn, as understated, timeless golf retreats known for their quality design and emphasis on delivering local hospitality.

The Kithmore will offer a warm and inviting haven where golfers, visitors and the local community alike can come together, enjoy its homely comforts, and soak in the relaxed clubhouse vibes.

Alongside the inviting interiors, there will be a focus on quality where guests will be able to enjoy a menu expertly designed to celebrate St Andrews’ local larder, providing light bites for summer nights or a comforting spread to refuel after a round on the links.

St. Andrews

Renowned as the "Home of Golf," St Andrews offers an unrivalled blend of golfing heritage, breathtaking coastal scenery, and rich Scottish history. This iconic town is home to the legendary Old Course, as well as a variety of cultural and historical attractions that make it a must-visit destination for golf enthusiasts.

FAQ's

How far in advance should I book my golf tours?

As far advanced as possible. We recommend starting the booking process 18+ Months in advance especially if you want to secure Scotland's Open Venue and Championship golf courses due to very high demand and limited tee times availability. Booking this far in advance helps with booking the best accommodation.

If you are looking for a late or last minute championship or Hidden gems package, Scotland has an abundance of world class links courses and golf accommodation which allows us to offer golf packages with world class golf courses..

Can I customise my itinerary, or do I have to choose from pre-set packages?

Absolutely! At ProScot Golf Tours, we specialise in offering fully customised itineraries tailored to meet the unique preferences and needs of each group. While we do offer a selection of pre-set packages, we understand that every golfer has different tastes and interests. Whether you're looking for specific golf courses, particular accommodations, or additional experiences like sightseeing and local attractions, we'll work closely with you to design the perfect itinerary.

Can you guarantee tee times at premium courses like St Andrews, Carnoustie, or Royal Dornoch?

Yes, we guarantee tee times at all premier golf courses. However, to ensure availability and avoid any disappointment, we recommend booking these courses 12 to 18 months in advance..

Do you offer guaranteed Old Course tee times, or is it by ballot?

ProScot Golf Tours is an authorized provider of guaranteed tee times for the St Andrews Old Course. These tee times are offered as part of a comprehensive package. Our minimum Old Course package includes 5 to 7 nights of accommodation, 4 to 6 rounds of golf, and ProScot Golf Tours transport.

However, we understand that premium packages may not suit everyone's budget. For those looking for a more affordable option, we also offer St Andrews Old Course packages that use the Old Course ballot system to secure tee times for our groups. These packages are designed to be more budget-friendly while still providing an incredible experience.

FAQ's

Can I play more than one course per day?

Yes, we can arrange for 36 holes in one day, provided the booking is made well in advance. The golf courses must be in close proximity to each other, with available visitor tee times that allow for this schedule..

What types of accommodation do you offer?

We offer a wide variety of top-quality accommodations, including private apartments, homes, exclusive-use properties like castles, B&Bs, and 3, 4, and 5-star hotels.

Are non-golfers welcome on the tours, and can they have alternative activities arranged?

We warmly welcome non-golfers and frequently organise tailored packages for them, which include visits to historic sites like Glamis Castle, tours of renowned whisky distilleries such as Kingsbarns Distillery with private tastings, and attendance at world-famous events like The Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo.

What is included in the price of a golf tour?

Our all-inclusive golf tours feature a wide range of accommodations to suit every preference, from luxury to more budget-friendly options. Enjoy access to world-class golf courses as well as hidden gems, along with private transfers to and from the airport, hotel, and golf courses. Additionally, we can offer rental cars and a variety of sightseeing options to enhance your experience..

What is the best time of year to play golf in Scotland?

Scotland is a fantastic golf destination all year-round, with each season offering something unique.

- May to September is the peak season, with the warmest temperatures (12–19°C) and the best weather for golfing. Long daylight hours also allow plenty of time for rounds.
- April and October are great options for those looking to avoid the crowds but still enjoy mild weather and excellent course conditions.
- November to March offers a quieter experience, often at lower rates. While temperatures can be colder and there's a chance of rain, many courses remain open, and you can still enjoy links golf with fewer golfers around.

We can help tailor your trip to the season that works best for you, ensuring the best experience no matter when you choose to travel.
