

$30K on its way in...

The board has agreed to a $30,000 settlement to grant Evergy easement rights for its system upgrade of power transmission lines and poles on Club property abutting County Road 1700 (7th hole). Payment is expected by April.

Construction timing is weather dependent, as early as May. During construction, an orange fence will be erected and entry is prohibited.

And quickly back out...

While January net income was $1,428, capital income and expenditures are not accounted for. The board agreed that the first wave of funds received from Evergy and residential lot sales will be dedicated to covering:

- Equipment needs: Jakobsen rough/fairway mower, replacement for Hustler. If available at attractive price at auction: back-up for greens mower, 2-3 additional carts.
- Operational needs: Chemicals, tractor repair, fuel, mechanical maintenance, cart and mower repairs, reel sharpening.
- Enable residential lot sales: Purchase additional acreage required for driveway, to meet 3-acre regulations for lot size on the north edge of the Club's property, build culvert, driveway, replace fence, pay for survey and perc tests.

INTRODUCING

Zach Burris has been hired as equipment maintenance and greenskeeper effective March 2. Zach succeeds Jarrod Miller, who resigned in November to pursue his contracting business. David Young stepped up to maintain the course in the interim.

Zach has managed the T-Bar Ranch Kennel, performed grounds maintenance and assisted in farming and ranching operations in Havana for 15 years. He moved to Havana three years ago to assist his father with cattle. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, cooking and spending time with family and friends.

Although he is not currently a golfer, Zach plans to pick up the game. "I'm excited for this opportunity to learn greenskeeping on the job," Zach said. "With guidance from Jarrod, club members and Ron Brown, I plan to continue to improve course conditions to help grow the Club."

Especially during his first season, members with resources, skills and knowledge will play a vital role in bringing Zach up to speed. Please welcome Zach and let him know how and when you can assist. Contact him in person, call or text 620-879-2055.
