WHY WAS KUCHING, SARAWAK CHOSEN AS THE VENUE?

The capital city, Kuching, is a bustling city on the Sarawak River. As the largest state among the others in Malaysia, there is no surprise to why organisers choose to hold Sarawak Premier International Silat Championship here. The land of hornbills is definitely the perfect place to hold such a prestigious competition. There is so much more to discover in Kuching, Sarawak and that include their history in Silat Melayu Asli Sarawak.

Carrying a different style of silat, Silat Melayu Asli Sarawak focuses more on the importance of buah pukulan. And this will be such a good opportunity to introduce yet another type of Silat to the whole world.

ABOUT SARAWAK

Sarawak, the largest Malaysian state situated in Borneo, stretches along the island's northwest coast, including many beaches on the South China Sea. Sarawak is famous for its rugged, dense rainforest of the interior, and much of its protected parkland. There's only one way for people from Peninsular Malaysia to come visit Sarawak, and that is to travel through aeroplanes.

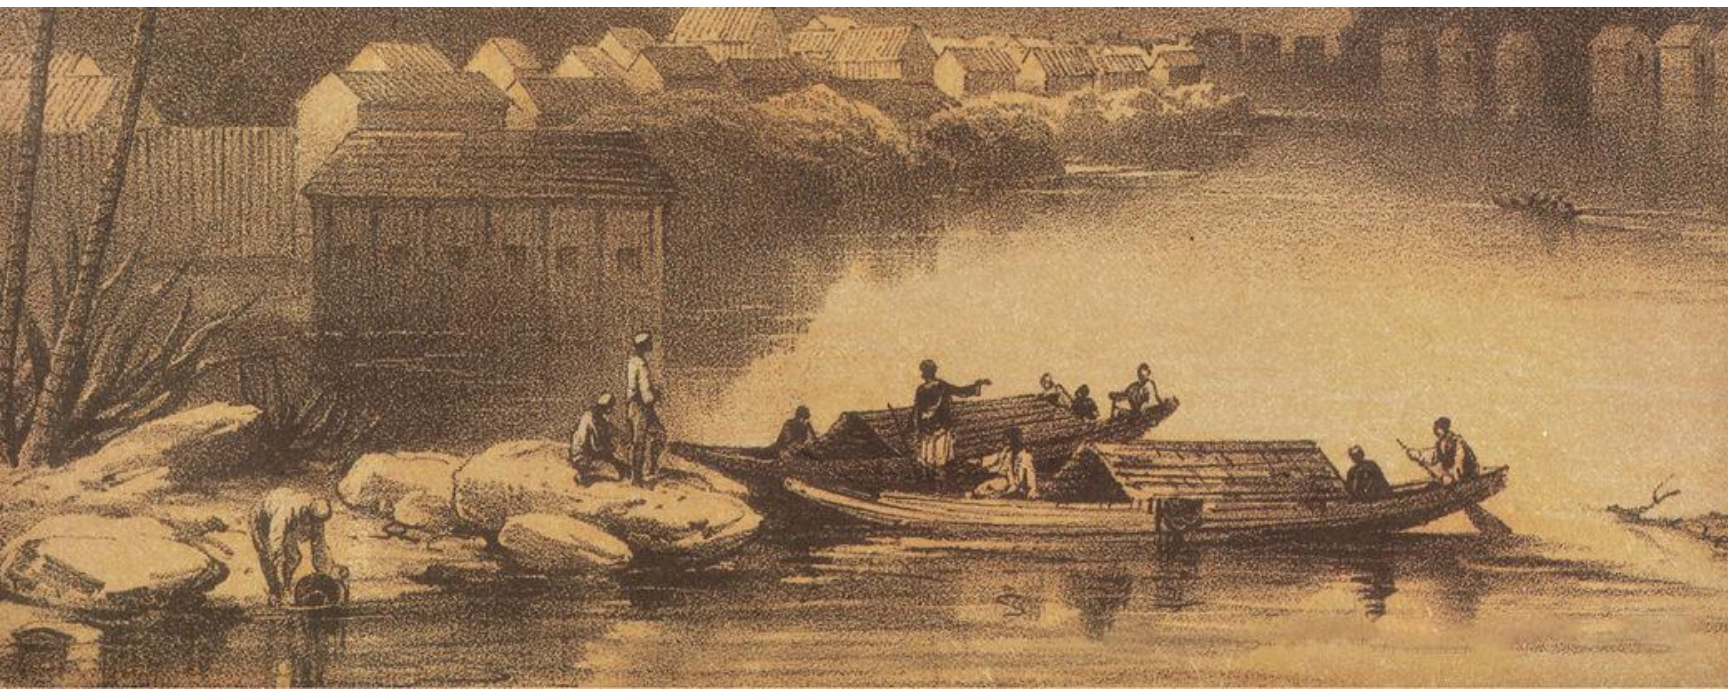

Sarawak's long tradition of open hospitality is what makes city or jungle travel so genuine. A traveller can find himself welcomed in a Kuching market where Chinese women offer free samples of their wares, and also at an Iban longhouse, where he may sit with the chief over a glass of the heady, home-brewed tuak, the ubiquitous rice wine of Sarawak.

HISTORY OF SARAWAK

The name of Sarawak still manages to bring chills to people, older people especially those who still live on white rajahs and Borneo times. Sarawak, the land of abundant rainfall, innumerable rivers weave their way over the state's boundaries into Indonesian Kalimantan and are routed into remote jungle areas.

Borneo is also a Kelabit agricultural centre, a Malay fishing village, an Iban longhouse, a Punan jungle camp, a Melanau sago factory and a Bidayuh rice field all at once.

And that the days of the reign of the White Rajahs and head-hunting have now passed. On 16 September 1963, the Honourable Khir Johari read the historic Proclamation of Malaysia witnessed by Datu Abang Haji Openg Abang Sapiee, the first Yang di-Pertua Negeri Sarawak, Datuk Stephen Kalong Ningkan, the Chief Minister, members of the first State Cabinet and the public at Central Padang in Kuching.

It was a proud moment when Ningkan read the Proclamation of the Independence of Sarawak: "Now therefore I, Stephen Kalong Ningkan, the Chief Minister of Sarawak, hereby proclaim that Sarawak has this day attained independence as a State of Malaysia". This was followed by the hoisting of the federal flag and the playing of the national anthem 'Negaraku'. On this historical day, Sarawak achieved full independence as a member state of the Federation of Malaysia.
