Are We There Yet?

There's something about 26.2 miles that preaches without ever opening a Bible.

I've run two marathons —And let me tell you, there was no background music, no slow motion, no Rocky soundtrack. Just pain. Around mile 18 your legs are on fire, your lungs are arguing with your chest, and your legs are saying, "Are we there yet?"

But something shifts. The pain doesn't disappear — it becomes purposeful. You lift your eyes. You see the finish line in your mind. You picture that medal. And suddenly quitting isn't an option. Paul said, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith." That's perseverance. That's a man saying, "I didn't quit."

Salvation isn't the finish line. It's the starting gun. God didn't save you to bench you. He saved you to send you.

Hebrews says lay aside every weight and the sin that entangles you. Notice — weight and sin. Not everything slowing you down is sinful. Some things are just heavy. Comfort can be heavy. Distraction can be heavy. Even good things can become weight if they steal your focus.

You're not a slave anymore. You're a son. Every time you choose obedience over compromise, you build endurance.

One day your race will end. I don't want to say I was comfortable. I want to say, "Lord, I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith."
