

TUTUM

JOURNAL

MEDIA KIT

We know that childless/childfree women like to support other childless/childfree women in their endeavors. We want to help our readers know what we know: Women in our community offer great products and services.

Tutum Journal is a quarterly digital magazine for and by childless/childfree women. Our readers are your customers/clients, and we know that each issue of Tutum Journal is read by more than one person. Because our content is relevant, inspiring, and informative, our magazine is shared among colleagues, co-workers, friends, and family.

Tutum Journal published by Tutum Global is a global wellness community and as an advertiser, you can write for our blog and magazine with priority publishing and be highlighted on monthly business deals as our founder Jobi Tyson will interview you and bring more exposure to Businesses of the Month on our podcast, website, and social media platforms.

LET'S PROFILE YOU AND YOUR BUSINESS IN TUTUM JOURNAL

We constantly survey childless women to find out what their pain points are. The #1 feedback is visibility and being found. Our readers are not only inspired by the backstories of other childless/childfree journeys, but how and why the business of fellow childless women was started, obstacles that were overcome, lessons learned, and the business owner's secrets to success.

Our profiles are not advertorials or advertisements camouflaged as stories. They showcase the business owner(s) in a compelling human-interest feature that drives readers to your business. This opens the door for current and future customers to learn more about you and the culture of your business.

2022 Advertising Deadlines: Fall "Belonging" Issue: August 27, 2022 • Winter "Joy" Issue: September 27, 2022.
