

Long Version:

Cait Murphy is a versatile singer whose warm alto voice blends the soulful depth of gospel, the raw emotion of blues, and the storytelling essence of folk, while singing across a wide variety of genres. She began singing and playing guitar at the age of 9 and by 13, was performing both gospel and original compositions at churches, events, and competitions throughout New England. After high school, she spent a year in a vocal group that performed musical productions in venues across the East Coast, Nashville, New Orleans, and Houston. Instead of signing on for another year abroad, she left the stage to raise a family and pursue other passions. Now, after more than three decades, she has returned to the music scene with a mature alto voice seasoned by life experience. Her vocal talents have more recently found her on recordings by Chris Albertson and performing in venues across New Hampshire.

Short version:

Cait Murphy is a versatile singer whose warm alto voice blends the soulful depth of gospel, the raw emotion of blues, and the storytelling essence of folk. Her vocal talents have more recently found her on recordings by Chris Albertson and performing in venues across New Hampshire.