

Trusta Industries Limited acquires BSL Gas Technologies Limited

16th July 2025, Henley-on-Thames

Trusta Industries is pleased to announce the acquisition of 87.7% of BSL Gas Technologies Limited (BSL), a market leading manufacturer of gas mixing equipment. The acquisition supports Trusta's mission to build a group of mission-critical industrial businesses in the UK.

Founded in 1989, BSL has a long-established reputation for engineering excellence. Originally serving the beer dispensing industry, the company has since expanded into sectors such as welding, laser cutting, food packaging, and more. Its equipment is trusted by global customers who require precision, reliability, and high performance in industrial gas applications.

"Trusta Industries was established to acquire and grow high-quality UK manufacturers of mission-critical industrial products," said Russell Stuart, CEO of Trusta Industries. "BSL is a perfect fit for Trusta given its strong brand, technical capability, and long-standing customer relationships. We're thrilled to partner with the existing management team to build on its success for decades to come."

David Blanchard, Managing Director of BSL, added: "We're excited to partner with Trusta for the next chapter of BSL's growth. Russell's long-term vision and commitment to preserving our company's legacy were key factors in our decision. I look forward to continuing in my role alongside our fantastic team as we build on our momentum and enter the next phase of our development."

BSL will continue to operate out of its current location and under its current leadership team, ensuring continuity for customers, employees, and partners.

About Trusta Industries

Trusta Industries is an industrial group focused on manufacturers and distributors of mission critical industrial products in the UK. It has a 'buy and own forever' philosophy and places a huge importance on protecting the culture and legacy of its companies. Learn more at www.trusta.co.uk

About BSL Gas Technologies

BSL Gas Technologies is a UK-based designer and manufacturer of gas mixing and handling systems, serving industries including beverage dispensing, welding, laser cutting and food packaging. Established in 1989, BSL is known for its engineering quality and its partnership approach with customers. Learn more at www.bslgastech.com.

For further information, please contact Russell Stuart, CEO, at russell@trusta.co.uk or please visit our website at www.trusta.co.uk