Principal Comments: Matt Wilburn

Senior Ethics day is tomorrow, it is where people in community come in and give real life scenarios to students to work through.

Spring break is coming up in 2 weeks

Prom is early April 7th

Schedules are out for students to sign up for next year.

Black History Month, we had a partnership program with Broad Run HS. The band played at the program followed by legal workshops. It was a very meaningful event.

Nationwide with school shooting and walkouts are high on topics. Students walking out of buildings is not necessarily saying anything. Different messages are being sent and not a common ground. Mr Wilburn is trying to help students have a choice of walkout activities and be a voice in a safe environment. Some ideas for activity options to give students? See something Say something approach, Voice and Choice, Students want to do something. Mr Wilburn said he will share everything with both parents and students ahead of time.

Gayle Sheffield: New Parent Liaison / SB Pantry. Arrange for her to come talk to us? We don't know much about the pantry and want to invite her to come at our next meeting to explain to us “Get Upside”: Have Leonard Snead present the program to us?

Sanders Corner sent out a flyer of how it works

Varun Chharia: Suicide Prevention Concert sponsorship discussion We decided to help spread the word about this activity through email. Student is not one of ours so we feel it not necessary to be a sponsor for it.
