PRODUCT CATALOG

ORIGINS

In the following catalog pages, you will be introduced to the industry's finest kitchen and dining room furniture, handcrafted out of solid American Hardwoods.

Hardwood furniture begins with a tree that grows for years before being harvested by a logger, transported to a sawmill and then cut into lumber. It is air dried for approximately 3 months then kiln dried for another 2 to 4 weeks depending on the species and moisture content at the time it was put into the kiln. The surface is planed, color sorted and made into edge-glued panels for table tops and various parts.

Natural occurring variations in hardwoods can be different shades of color especially in oak, hickory or elm. All species can have tiny knots, pits, mineral streaks or mineral deposits. Cherry is the most common to have these variations. Rustic grades of lumber will have much bigger knots, mineral streaks and deposits but have much more character.

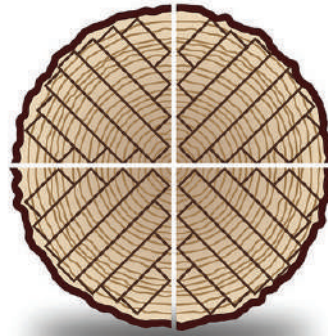

Reclaimed Barnwood is a result of age-old barns being salvaged and made into beautiful rustic looking furniture. You may find knots, nail holes, cracks, and various other characteristic effects in your furniture.

HARDWOODS

TRADITIONAL

QUARTER SAWN

American hardwood trees usually produce a fruit or nut and therefore reproduce naturally. They lose their leaves every fall and are dormant during the winter. Every year, a growth ring forms and provides the grain pattern we see in our furniture. A shorter summer growing season causes a tighter grain pattern. As a result, trees that grow in the south tend to be more open grained than trees from the north.

The traditional method of sawing logs into lumber is accomplished by allowing the log to remain in the same orientation while it is cut into individual boards.

Quartersawn lumber is produced by cutting the log into 4 quarters, then slicing perpendicular to the growth rings, showing parallel grain lines and characteristic flakes of the grain. White oak is by far the most popular species to be quarter sawn.

American Hardwoods are a renewable resource. As a result of excellent management by the United States Forest industry, our timber lands have nearly tripled in the past half century. Today, American Hardwood forests are growing twice as fast as they are being cut.

CARE, MAINTENANCE & WARRANTY

CATALYZED VARNISH

Catalyzed Varnish is the most commonly used finish in the high-end furniture market. When properly applied and cared for, the beauty of your furniture's finish will last for generations. To maintain the beautiful appearance, a few care guidelines must be followed.

- Catalyzed Varnish has excellent resistance to foods, beverages and common household chemicals. This finish offers you a very hard, mar-resistant surface, but like any finish may still be scratched or damaged if not cared for properly.
- Your new finish does not achieve its maximum performance properties for at least 30 days from the time it was applied. This is based on maintaining a temperature of at least 70 degrees.
- Dyes and inks may discolor the finish. The ink and dyes from newsprint and plastic bags may penetrate into the finish when moist.

PLACEMENT

Do not set your table or chairs in front of radiators, heating vents or heating stoves as dry air can cause wood to dry out which can cause warping or cracking.

ULTRAVIOLET RAYS

Ultraviolet rays from direct sunlight or fluorescent light fixtures can cause chemical changes in the wood and finish. Move your table or draw the curtains.

HUMIDITY

Table or chairs should be placed in a controlled environment with an indoor humidity range of 35-45%. If the humidity is not kept within this range, the table or chairs can expand or contract causing a split in the grain pattern or joints of the panels. Seasonal gapping or minor cracks in the grain pattern are considered normal and are not considered a defect of materials or craftsmanship.

CLEAN UP

Clean your table or chairs with a soft cloth following the grain pattern. You may occasionally clean with a non-alkaline soap. Do not use any polishes that contain silicone. Your retailer can recommend a polish or wax.

TABLE PROTECTION

Avoid spilling nail polish remover, alcohol or any other solvents on your table or chairs. When moving or adding leaves to your table, do not drag it. This places unnecessary stress on the joints.

TABLE LEAF STORAGE

Store your leaves in or close to the table or in a like environment. Avoid storing them on end. Do not store in a damp basement or dry attic.

CHEMICAL RESISTANCE TESTS

Below are the results of subjecting our finish to the most common household chemicals:
