From Archives

From the Archives – from the Prince Albert Daily Herald – November 12, 1927 –"Prominent in the Armistice Sunday service at St. Alban's Cathedral tomorrow will be the unveiling and dedication of the stained glass war memorial window, the gift of the congregation to perpetuate the memory of those of the former congregation who fell during the great war. The window, which replaces the plain glass one in the west end, is a handsome and appropriate addition in the Cathedral. The window is at present veiled with a large Union Jack suspended by red, white and blue ribbons. Tomorrow three war widows, Mesdames Marshall, Robson and Smith, will be presented with cases of scissors, with which they will release the draping flag. Wreaths from the congregation and from the veteran organizations will be placed on the window." Prince Albert Daily Herald – November 14, 1927 – "… as the flag fell, the Last Post, final military mark of respect for the dead, and later the Reveille were sounded by buglers, Sergeant-Major J. Frost and Sergeant E. Paine, Jr." (see photo on Mailchimp).
