Professional Disclosure Statement

Philosophy and Approach

Therapy is a powerful tool that can help clients in various aspects of their life. From exploring habitual relationship patterns, historical ways of coping, and gaining perspective and understanding of their emotions - a lot can be discovered about oneself. Like most good things, healing does not happen overnight. I believe that healing begins when the client finds safety within the therapeutic relationship and can turn to the counselor to seek warmth, validation, and speak their truth without judgment. In my practice, I focus on connection as a tool for supporting you in making attainable changes, at your pace, that feel good to you. I am a person-centered therapist with an eclectic approach because everyone has their own unique needs and experiences. Some therapeutic modalities that I use are Internal Family Systems (IFS), Somatic Therapy, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT), and Emotion Focused Therapy (EFT). As we focus on the present moment, we will explore attachment styles, family dynamics, generational cycles, habitual patterns, and relational roles.

Formal Education and Training

I hold a Bachelor of Science Degree in Psychology and a minor in Sociology from the University of Oregon and a Masters of Science in Marriage, Couple, and Family Therapy from the College of Education at Portland State University, which is accredited with CACREP (Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs). Prior to becoming a Registered Associate, I was a Counseling Intern at William Temple House and worked primarily with adult individuals and couples/relationships. Other experience includes working as a Lead Recovery Coach at a residential eating disorder treatment program where I helped model healthy food behaviors and intuitive eating. Major coursework included Family Life Cycle & Transitions, Couples Therapy, Grief & Loss, Family Therapy, and Career & Lifestyle Planning, Practicum, Group Supervision, and a year long clinical internship.

I provide therapy services to adult individuals and couples/relationships in a private practice setting.

As a Registered Associate with the Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists (Board), I abide by its Code of Ethics. I am supervised by Dr. Unique Page, Ph.D., LPC, NCC, a licensed professional counselor and Sarah Pattee, LMFT, a licensed marriage, couples, and family therapist in Oregon.
