EMAC MORTGAGE FUND, LLC

STRATEGY AND OPERATIONS OF THE LLC

The Offering

The LLC was formed by Creative Capital Group, Inc., a California corporation, that serves as the Manager of the LLC, to provide Investors with a real estate lending investment vehicle that seeks to deliver steady cash flow returns.

Investors in the LLC will be admitted as Members of the LLC and will receive units of Membership Interests in the LLC.

The LLC was designed to deny the Manager any share of the profits of the LLC unless and until it achieves the Preferred Return, a feature intended to motivate the Manager to focus on the bottom line.

No Load

The Manager is seeking to capitalize the LLC with approximately $50 million of capital commitments.

The LLC was designed with no “front end load,” meaning other than eventually reimbursing the Manager for formation expenses, cash reserves and operating expenses, 100% of the remaining invested capital will be deployed in mortgages.

Low Overhead

The LLC was also designed to keep expenses at a minimum. No portion of the Manager’s overhead will be allocated to the LLC, although it will pay its own expenses for accounting, audit, legal, tax return preparation, loan commissions, borrowing costs, loan servicing and collection costs and LLC taxes. While the LLC will pay the Manager an Asset Management Fee each month, out of that fee the Manager will bear all executive management and other personnel compensation and all other overhead, such as rent, utilities, insurance, postage and office supplies.

Fund administration is conducted by FCI Lender Services. All payouts and distributions are conducted by Fitch rated FCI on a monthly and quarterly basis.

Holding Title

The investments by the LLC will all be secured by deeds of trust or mortgages on real estate. The LLC will be vested on every promissory note and deed of trust or mortgage it owns.

OUR SUCCESS FACTORS

Approach

The Manager's team is comprised of real estate professionals with long-term business and management experience. They are dedicated to placing the LLC first in all aspects of their decisions.

LLC'S Goals

Generate steady returns for Investors without undue risk.

Diversification

The LLC will attempt to diversify its portfolio both as to the number of borrowers it has but also the geographical location and asset class of the properties that secure its loans.

Limited Capital Exposure and Risk Period

The LLC will target average loan amounts of $100,000 - $1,500,000 with a 6 month to 30-year term; however, loans for a term of more than 5 to 10 years will usually have an adjustable-rate feature, thereby mitigating exposure to fluctuating interest rates. Most loans will have a term between 6 and 36 months.

All loans and acquisitions are modeled with a downside risk analysis. After the LLC has raised $10 million or more, no single loan will exceed 10% of the LLC's capital.

Reporting

The Manager intends to create and maintain strong internal controls and risk management procedures, which include the downside risk analysis referred to above and portfolio tracking.

OTHER LENDING CRITERIA

The LLC may also participate in loans with other lenders (including other limited liability companies organized by the Manager), by providing funds for or purchasing a fractional undivided interest in a loan meeting the requirements set forth above. The Manager will treat the LLC equally with all other limited liability companies and other entities controlled by the Manager when making such fractional loans.

Purchase of Loans from Affiliates

EMAC MORTGAGE FUND, LLC

OUTLINE OF POTENTIAL RISKS

→ Risks Related to Members' Investments

All real estate lending investments are speculative in nature and the possibility of partial or total loss of capital exists.

There is no assurance that the LLC will be successful in producing any profits or even in returning any capital to any Investor or Member.

→ Risks Related to Real Property Lending

The LLC's profitability depends on the ability of our non-prime borrowers to repay their loans, which may be affected by local, regional, and national real estate market and economic conditions beyond the control of the LLC.

Favorable real estate and economic conditions may not necessarily enhance a borrower's ability to repay due to circumstances specific to a borrower and beyond the LLC's control.

→ Risks Related to the Lack of Diversification

The LLC intends to fund loans on all property types but shall focus on properties in California.

The LLC's investments will, therefore, not have the geographic diversification present in certain other types of investment programs and the lack of diversification may increase the LLC's exposure to adverse local real estate, economic, and market conditions and other risks, such as natural disasters or acts of terrorism.

→ Risks Related to Loan Defaults and Foreclosures

The loans made by the LLC are secured in whole or in part by real estate and therefore bear the risk of defaults by borrowers.

→ Risks Related to Volatile Interest Rates

Because the LLC intends to include an adjustable-rate feature in loans over 5 to 10 years in duration, the LLC will be subject to the level and volatility of short term and long-term interest rates affecting the lending industry

→ Risks Related to the LLC's Business and Competition

The business of real estate lending and investing in real estate within the LLC market area is highly competitive and the LLC may be competing with a number of other lenders, investors, and developers.

Because these other competitors may have greater financial resources and/or more experience in making the types of loans and investments that the LLC intends to make, the LLC may not be able to compete successfully against existing or new competitors.

If the LLC is unable to respond adequately to competitive challenges, its business and results of operations would be harmed.
