James Ford Rhodes High School

CLASS OF JUNE 1946

James Ford Rhodes Alumni Association 2013

NEIL D. MATHEWS

Members of the Class of June, 1946:

Abraham Lincoln once said: "Education is not given for the purpose of earning a living; it's learning what to do with a living after you have earned it." May the four years which you have spent in this school simplify for you to some extent the job of earning a living, and also make it easier for you to reach the right conclusions about what to do with the living you earn. Those of us who have associated with you during your high school years extend our best wishes to each of you.

Sincerely,

Neil D. Mathews

We, the senior class of June nineteen hundred and forty-six, proudly dedicate our annual to a teacher whose amiable character, ingenuity and perseverance have brought to the top the many musically inclined personalities in our class. Through the many stage productions under her direction we have become educated in co-ordinating our abilities for use in later life. We therefore express our most sincere appreciation to Miss Esther Keller.

CLASS HISTORY

When the class of June '46 entered Rhodes to begin its four-year stay, the changes which war causes were just beginning to take effect. On the morning of September 9, 1942, three hundred and twenty-six eager freshmen listened attentively as Mr. Ferguson explained briefly what high-school would be like. Miss Simpson, Mr. Hoffman, and Mr. Van Kannel were the fortunate teachers to have charge of boys' homerooms, while the Misses Ballash, Manning, and McGinness were assigned the task of shepherding the girls.

The war, however, did not immediately affect us as it did many of the upperclassmen, mainly because the courses we were taking were basic requirements and those, unfortunately, didn't change. However, such war-time subjects as Pre-Induction, Aero-Physics, and others which would be useful to followers of a military career were introduced later on.

Also inaugurated was the Military Prep gym program for senior boys. It was thought that this body builder, (?) like the gruelling obstacle course on the underground track, would last only for the duration; but apparently Mr. Seedhouse hasn't heard that the Japs have surrendered.

Another change was the cancellation of the McDiarmid Trip. Dick Sistik, Adele Kopcok, Lois Grasmehr, and Dick Tubbesing were the four "brains" of our group who were rewarded with a dinner and night ball game instead of the usual Michigan jaunt for their scholastic attainments in junior high.

In making a name for themselves (a good one, that is) a number of our classmates got off to an early start. The Junior Journal was a much better paper when Lois Gatz, Ruth Cain, Lois Grasmehr, Joan Schuster, June Getzlaff, Jean Metzger, Cliff Mager, Jim Pauloski, Esther Wing, Joyce Farver, Shirley Guth, Beverly Brandt, Jim Layer, and George Stepanek became members of the staff.

One of the first of our group to gain school-wide reputation was Dick Reiss. His cartoon drawings in H.R. 306 attracted the attention of the writer of "Rhodesways," and we had to buy him a larger hat.

And still the war was making its claims. Mr. Henderson left for the Marine Corps while the Navy attracted Mr. Moran and Mr. Hoffman. When the latter left, his homeroom was turned over to a young teacher by the name of Miss Plummer ('nuff said).

The armed forces were beginning to cause a male shortage, and the spring of 1943 saw a musical, "Uncle Sam Serenade," produced instead of the usual spring play.

As we entered the tenth grade, Mr. Holden took over the job of Student Council faculty adviser, a post he still holds.

Just about this time the "Rinky Dinks," those super-girl athletes, started on a career in which they reigned as undisputed queens of volleyball, basketball, and whatever else they played. (Now, maybe some other team will have a chance).

Bob Riddick and Ray Widowsky were the first of our grid heroes to make first-string varsity, while Norm Protiva showed his social pull by becoming the first of our "men" accepted into the Boys' Leaders. Speaking of firsts, Wally Gates was the first and only sophomore ever to run for Rhodes in a state cross-country meet.

The Boosters' Club was disbanded in September, 1943. (No profit.) About this time a canteen was the favorite topic of discussion, but that was as far as it got.

All of us remember the big banquet held that January in honor of Les Horvath, Rhodes alumnus whose pigskin-lugging earned him a berth on the All-American team.

That spring, Rhodians really went over the top in the big stamp drive, and Mayor Lausche presented us our Minute Man flag, which, for some reason or other, didn't fly very often from ye ol' flag pole.

As our 11A semester rolled around, we were really beginning to be big hot-dogs. The class wanted and needed organization, so we cast ballots in favor of Glenn Nally, president; Bob Riddick, vice-president; Nick Lubinsky, secretary; and Al Cheselka, treasurer. That spring we had an afternoon informal. (The ham sandwiches were super.)

In May Frances Forystek reigned as queen at the annual district track meet. It seems Al Cheselka had a lot of money, or something, and so he became Student Council president, Bob Cummings being his chief assistant.

Then came September, 1945. We were on the threshold of being the big "things" in school. Some eager beavers already had "senioritis."

The class elected Dick Sistik to handle the helm, while Nick Lubinsky was his first mate. Adele Kopcok kept the log, and Lois Mackulin collected enough in class dues to buy a ship of her own.

Snow Road Park was the scene of our picnic (boy, were we original) with hot dogs, donuts and cider dished out to fill our hungry stomachs. The only major calamity of the day was Miss Manning's flat tire, which was hastily replaced by willing male (and female) hands.

After two years of hard work, Ruth Cain and Lois Grasmehr became co-editors of that best seller, the "Rhodes Review."

To reach our goal in the Victory Loan Drive, a bond auction was held in October '45 with WJW sportscaster Earl Harper acting as auctioneer. Lois Mackulin, Glenn Nally, and Norm Protiva were among the dates bid for. Bob Cummings outbid all other competitors for Miss Hier's job, as Rhodians raised more than twice their goal in this big drive.

At the '45 Charity tussle Doris Erber copped second highest award in the drum majors' competition. (The Rams didn't play that year 'cause Ray Widowski and "Baldy" Miller were in the Navy.) Gridders of the class who earned letters that year were Bob Riddick, Ray Krejci, Al Lovejoy and Harold Zimmerman.

An operetta, "The Emperor's New Clothes" was produced that December and played to a sell-out crowd both nights it was presented. Mary Samouris Dorothy Olenick, Ed McKeon, Barbara Ward, Loretta Kmiecik, Lois Nelson, Arline Bacon, Ruth Rieman, Don Leine, and John Rockwell were listed among the leading roles.

In the early part of January, we "tossed" an informal for the 12A's. Cake, ice cream, and milk kept the stag line quiet, while records and Don Leine's Band, which arrived late made the joint lively.

By this time the war had been over for five months, and our class, which had inaugurated many war-time activities, was now helping the old alma mater back to a peace-time schedule. Many males of the class who were eighteen could now look forward to finishing school, and some boys who had enlisted for three or four years now wish they hadn't.

In January, (last week of same) '46 — came the revolution. We were now the almighty, supreme, etc., etc., beings of J.F.R. Bob Riddick was given the hopeless task of trying to guide us through our last four and one-half months, while Norm Protiva was picked to carry on when "Tennessee" was absent. Adele Kopczok was responsible for powder on the "boss's" suit, and Lois Grasmehr sent us all to the poorhouse after extracting class dues.

It seems the 12B class got tired of having Bob Cummings (the "Franklin Lewis" of the local sports sheet) and John Kuzma around, so they sent them up to us.

Lenore Podwils and her social committee kept our active class happy with our first social gathering of the semester, an afternoon informal. This was followed by the 12B-12A informal, a picnic, an evening informal, and, of course our prom. (Social note: the 12B's also had their prom that semester. Any loan company will be glad to help out those who took in both affairs and are still in the "red.")

During our four-year stay many in the class became prominent in major activities. Glenn Nally Ron Schmidt, Al Cheselka, Glenn Kiesel, Wally Gates, Dick Sisteck, and Norm Protiva were the muscle-bound guys who became Boys' Leaders, while the girls' gym classes had to contend with Cora Ann Brandes, Bev Brandt Claire Case Doris Erber, Lois Grasmehr, Betty Heiser, Anne Jurko, Adele Kopczok, Lois Mackulin, Jean Metzger, Dorothy Olenick, Lenore Podwils, Alice Romanchuk and Barbara Ward.

The National Honor Society thought highly of Bev Brandt, Ruth Cain, Al Cheselka, Alberta Cook, Lois Grasmehr, Betty Heiser, Anne Jurko, Loretta Kmiecik Adele Kopczok, Lawrence Lange, Elma Ludwig, Lois Mackulin, Shirley Mencke, Louise Mueller Jim Pauloski, Jane Pystole, Paul Schieve, Dick Sisteck, Dick Tubbesing, Dorothy Olenick Helyn Polkabila, Dorothy Werner, Dorothy Yakir, Alice Romanchuk, Lenore Podwils, Jim McClelland Irene Holz, Earl Johnson, and Dorothy Schuman; whereas the Council on World Affairs has such notables as Elma Ludwig, Dorothy Werner, Dorothy Yakir, Doris Erber Cora Ann Brandes, Ruth Cain, Jane Pystole, Evelyn Dracon, Jim Pauloski, Jim McClelland, Bob Riddick, and Bob Valentino to study world problems.

Linguists of the class were June Getzlaff Lois Grasmehr, Edith Harrison, Betty Heiser, Lois Kendziora, Art Malek, Herman Meier, Bob Meixner, Ruth Merkle, Laverne Nickel, Paul Schieve, Helios Siegmuller, and Dorothy Werner German Club; John Rockwell, Bob Riddick, Dick Tubbesing, Jane Pystole, Ruth Cain, Dorothy Olenick, Alice Romanchuk, and Joan Blickensderfer, Latin Club; and Claire Case Helyn Polkabila, Naomi and Norma Savoy, French Club.

Visual Aiders who later became noon movie operators under head-man Lawrence Lange were Paul Schieve, Jim Pauloski, Al Cheselka, and Dick Sisteck.

Norm Protiva ended his basketball career by making the All-Scholastic hardwood team. "Pro" netted 124 points to finish third in the scoring race.

Local grapplers who won letters were Milan Kay, Elwood Hassinger, and Ben Jambor.

Coach Holden lost such outstanding cindermen as Al Cheselka, Leo Friedel, Wally Gates Lawrence Lange, Ray Leveranz, Glenn Nally, Ron Schmidt, Dick Sisteck, and Bob Valentino. Gates, Lange Friedel, and Cheselka were also members of the championship cross-country team. Wally Gates and Dick Sisteck competed in the national A.A.U. meet in New Jersey in 1945, Wally having won the distinction of being the only high-school boy in the country to hold two A.A.U. National Championship Medals.

Not to be forgotten are those members of the Citizens' Club who helped to make the cafeteria a cleaner place in which to eat: Al Cheselka, Bob Cummings, Elmer Fenner, Leo Friedel, Wally Gates, Anne Jurko, Lois Kendziora Lawrence Lange, Nick Lubinsky, Elma Ludwig, Vera Magee, Jim McClelland, Jean Metzger, Jim Pauloski, Paul Schieve Ron Schmidt, Dick Sisteck, Bob Valentino, Barbara Ward, Dorothy Werner and Ed Mueller.

Yes, we could go on and on listing the accomplishments of this class and the services its members have rendered to the school. And as we look forward to graduation, we feel certain that what gains have been made in the past are only trivial in comparison with those that will be made as this class goes out into the world to tackle bigger tasks — for the most important part of this history is yet to be written.

CLASS PROPHECY

It is 1957 and all through the land at this dark and momentous hour, we pay tribute to the successful careers launched by the June class eleven years ago.

Walking down Cleveland's Fifth Avenue we are met by the tumult of the cheering crowd.

Looking up, we notice on the building the words "Bernard Roberts Circus." Still only children at heart, we dash inside.

Through our own observances and gossip we learn:

The chief clown of the circus is Leo Friedel, who is ably assisted by the "Tripple Terrors": Chuck Bichimer, Myron Billy, and Clancy Treciak, world-famous tumblers.

Jim Pauloski, the voice of the P.A. and barker of the side-show, coaxes customers in as he declares "Come, see Pearl Alexander, the girl with the mile-long hair. Get your tickets here. See how "fire-eater" Ruth Meikle is bolting hers straight now. See the ten-cent strong-man exhibition by "Dumb-bell Atlas" Vic Plawzan. Hurry! Hurry!

Ringmaster Cliff Mager has been unable to locate a suitable place in the show for Dolores Orlandi because of the lack of information about her ability to become a human cannon ball.

Ben Hartwick, the big-time fight promoter, is coaching Elwood Hassinger and Milan Kay. June Swaffield is also learning the art of self-defense.

Dorothy Schuman, trainer of the circus horses, is still trying to convince Mr. Folkman that hers is the correct way to mount.

Lois Nelson is featured as a leathernecker.

While watching the lion acts, Ernie Lannoch burst into gales of hysterical laughter. He just caught on to a joke told to him in the 12B.

Marie "the Eyes" Thompson is now hypnotizing snakes.

Don Leine, after receiving a tremendous ovation, has stepped upon the golden podium to direct Kathryn Joyce in the "Herd Girl's Dream."

Lois Grasmehr finally has given up her dream of a tall, blonde, strong forest ranger. She showed up with her husband, a 5' 2" bald office worker with a bay window.

Herman Meier's trained super-rabbits have a well-known school subject down pat — multiplying.

Featured act of the circus is Gerry Durkin and Mr. Henderson's famous "Canine Capers."

Don Buchholz and Eleanor Petitti are billed as "Beauty and the Beast." Or have we got that backwards?

Meixner, "Robert the Thin Man," has done it again. HE BREATHED.

Mildred Dietrick and Alice Romanchuk are ushering at the circus.

Helen "clock-watcher" Galon is the time-keeper, who keeps tab of the performers going in and out.

Edith Krueger is kitchen-helper at Dolores Korp's Bakery, two tents down.

Make-up artist Carl Krause and costume designer Beverly Gorbutt are mulling over in their minds the prospect of sub-contracting their skills with Lavelda Sieman's beauty culture school.

Evelyn Golke needn't worry about competition or try-outs because of her calliope playing.

"Popcorn, peanuts, crackerjack, 10¢" — thus screams Betty Heiser. "Buy yours at Herbal Mary's Distributive Concession."

Pat Kent, though short, is quite a boxer; you see she is the small animal shipper.

Dorothy Kwiecien's laundry takes exclusive care of the costumes.

The office staff consists of Lillian Keshel, Noreen Schmidt, stenographers; Helyn Polkbla, ticket salesman; Dolores Paul, program mimeographer; and Mildred Stacik and Florence
Oshio, the smiling cashiers.

Oh! And we must not forget our spiritual adviser, Virginia Schultz.

Ed Textoris enjoyed the show so much he came back for a repeat performance.

Herb Skala is the dashing model that is on the glass tumblers which are being sold as souvenirs.

Doris Stephens and Joan Schuster have missed an excellent show but they simply had to keep up their absenteeism tradition.

Joan "Tardy" Sagan's frantic attempt to slip into her seat after the circus got under way has been foiled by tripping the light fantastic down two dozen steps.

We noticed Irene Holz still busily writing "Dienes" on every chair in the stands.

Ellynn Parker is the only woman lion-trainer in the business.

We discovered that the famous tight-rope walker billed as the "Mystery Man" is Donald Unke. Doris Haseley is his partner on the high wire.

Lavern Nickel, Lucille Wargo, Louise Huff, and Dorothy Reisinger comprise the Rhodes Quartette, world-renowned aerialists.

Helen Kurpik is the girl in green tights who dances on a galloping horse.

Very practical Edith Kuschmider, treasurer of the circus, has found that money could be saved if Fred Lack and Charles Naujoks were hired to hold down the ropes. Seems as if stakes are too expensive.

Bob Marland, Art Malek, and Al Lovejoy did not get home in time from a hayride the night before to attend the circus.

The only casualty of the performance was Ruth Rieman's dramatic faint caused by over-excitement.

We interviewed Harry Thompson's mother about his behavior, and imagine, she said he was a good child. Harry will do anything for a lollypop.

Elmer Fenner, town gossip gave us the low-down on the rest of the class.

Lawrence "the stomach" Lange has not yet been known to reach his capacity.

For a price, Tom Bischof may be rented out to usher at weddings.

Protiva spelled backwards is "Avitorp," which is the natural remedy for a top-notch forward on "Allmen's" next season.

Kenny Farson may be another George S. and show the boys tow to "Rip —, two, three, four!"

John "Feet" Felber is going to thin out the clientele in his clip joint.

When Barbara "Bubbles" Ward, the female wrestler, goes on a date, she always has the situation well in hand.

Dorothy Olenick in the little cafe around the corner gives out with sentimental ditties that put tears in your cokes.

Edward Mueller and Ruth Cain are busily trying to obtain exclusive rights to sell ice cream cones and air-conditioning units in the "here-after world."

Joan Blickensderfer terminates all her prayers with, "Ah, men."

Bob Valentino is driving the country blind, creating a shetland-sheep-dog hair-do.

Don Walter plans to follow in his father's car tracks.

The Savoy twins read off the same book so they are able to read it twice as fast.

Ron "Porcupine" Carr's crowning glory gives you proof positive of "Vitalis."

Claire Case is making money hand over fist writing class prophecies.

June Fanslau writes the dialogue for Theresa Popchak's dramatic school. Violet Furjanic plans to act out the finished product.

Eleanor Frantz plans to be a Latin teacher and go "roamin'."

A member of our class who has joined the famous Holiday stars known as "The Body," "The Voice," and "The Look," is Betty Bittel, known as "The Whisper."

Glenn Kiesel's print shop prints 'em cheap — for a price. Meanwhile competitor Clarence Williams contends he prints 'em dirt cheap; that is to say, the products are soiled.

June Walters sings?

Jean Tesmer and Lois Walter have just received their 1 210,691st copy of Howie Lund's autograph.

Ed Vozar is acclaimed as the celebrated crooner.

Dana Walters stays home every night and listens to the latest Gershwin records.

Betty Kloos has written a greater novel than F.A., "The Psychology Involved in Raising Caterpillars."

Adele Kopcock still believes in once a secretary always a secretary.

Louise Malinosky continues to make "Denzel"-tory remarks.

Marion Gell has made application for a full-time back-scratcher.

We heard that Michael Hursky, who has been in the Army for ten years, has just been promoted to the rank of private.

Edith Harrison has finally convinced Henry Kaiser to build enough ships to hold her men.

Dick Reiss is now on the concert stage with his rendition of "Clair de Lune."

Frank Heege and Jim Campbell are now owners of the "You-Brought-It-We-Broke-It" garage.

Mary Samouris uses only A-1 table-grade canary seed.

Dick Bell, Norm Gallagher, Jim Layer, and John Rockwell are still trying to "Alpha"-betize the younger generation.

Beverly Brandt enjoys her job of personnel director at Al Cheselka's Bubbling Bubbles, Inc." Quote Bev, "While interviewing applicants you meet the nicest men."

Censors forbid our uttering his name, but we are permitted to spell it: C-u-m-m-i-n-g-s.

Harvey Drude may catch a cold with all the drafting he expects to do.

Harold Zimmerman may get Roeper-ed in any day.

Every Saturday evening Lenore Podwils has date-night for all the athletic youngsters in the neighborhood.

"The Gang," Balzer, Kowalski, Krueger, and Parker, are as unseparable as ever.

Elma Ludwig and Dorothy Werner are now writers of the syndicated column, "Who's Who on the Lower Bowery."

Dan Balog is still getting free meals at his girl's house.

Carol Abraham and Cora Ann Brandes are trying to pick between servicemen and civilians.

Alberta Cook is the parent of the teachers' association.

Frances Forystek has settled down with Hank Sybo; but Eleanor's still playing the field.

Doris Erber is twirling frying pans at Fred Schuller.

Wally Gates is still an anchorman—with the Navy that is.

Ray Krejci is living off the timber of the land—borrowing pencils again.

Donna Chabek is renting her cottage to Ioann Gagliardi, Lois Kendziora, Elmira Reuber, and Helios SiegmueLLer.

The "Diamond Girls" of '46, Betty Wills, Carolyn Hoffman, Alice Motko, and Shirley Mencke, are now the "Dishwater Dames" of '57.

Joyce Farver, Shirley Guth, Frances Meiser, and Alice Wenek have learned to distribute themselves all over the country

By sheer luck we have found that Pat Seliars isn't going to play "second fiddle" to anyone.

Dorothy Drewniak and Rosemary Friedel have received perfect attendance pins at the "McAllister-Zipf Chemical Corporation." We hear that Otto Vleck of the same concern is going to blow his top any day.

Aldene Braun has finally finished her book, "The Tall-Tale Teller."

Doris Jedacek hasn't got enough lines for hooking all her men.

Gloria Longbrake has received her 1,286th proposal.

Bob Riddick hasn't been late to work yet; he starts his first job next week.

Dorothy Yakir's lovely hair has won her the position of a Power's Model. With the same agency is Loretta Kmiecik, the girl with the smile.

"Hot Lips" Tubbesing has left "Harry the Horn" in the dark.

We are speaking figuratively when we say Grace Tompkins is in her usual good form.

Jean Solinsky, Wanda Cary, and Frances Dydek have made good use of their artistic ability. They paint mustaches on billboard advertisements.

Ed McKeon now plays 2nd alto in Phil Spitalny's orchestra.

Jim McClelland and Paul Schieve, long political rivals, are contending for the important office of dog catcher. It is reported that they run into a fight with Jane Pystole every time they pick up one of her cats.

Dick Sistek is now a promising steeple-chaser.

Glenn Nally spends his days picking cinders from his feet.

Mary Ann Dienes and Rosemarie Eggert are now head-nurses at St. Luke's Hospital; and Mary Zamiska, head-nurse at City Hospital.

June Getzlaff is German interpreter for the American Embassy.

Evelyn Dracon's composition includes excerpts from the "Marines' Hymn," "Anchors Away," and the "Field Artillery Song."

Ray Zenkert invested so much money at the pool hall that the manager turned the concession over to Ray in gratitude for his unceasing patronage.

Earl Johnson's golden locks are a realistic fac-simile of new-mown hay.

We now find Lenore Pal is personal and private secretary to Walter Brenner.

Helen Kozyr, Vera Magee, Louise Mueller, Eleanor Nagy, Jean Metzger, Betty Valek, Arline Bacon, and Anne Jurko are still wearin' the green.

Ed Kokai and Russ Henry are now famous flyers thanks to the C.A.P.

If John Kuzma butchers basketball as his relatives do for a living, he's not likely to succeed either way.

Harriet Rohrbaugh's rendition of the "Dance Macabre" really sends you.

Elsie Verga's wooden wedding is approaching.

Nicholas Lubinsky still wows 'em with his "Hi, gorgeous" line. Won't somebody please give poor "Nickey" a pair of glasses?

"Blubber-Lips" Pretzer blows his blustering tuba in the Ninth Street Palace, while

Elaine Pintner accompanies him on the piano.

Russel Reinke is fashion editor for "Seventeen."

Elsye Duly and Martha Halier are packing them in the RKO Palace with their whistling and dancing act. Alice Gilak goes to every performance and claps until her hands are red.

A famous hair-stylist, Paula Squire, has just perfected a "buffing machine" hair-cut.

Ed Cepis and Sophie Barna "Producers" enough milk to keep Jean Kothanek's father in business.

Florence Ertacher has risen from dentist's assistant to full-fledged molar-yanker.

Evelyn "Lazy-foot" Leight will diagnose your case, providing you wash them first.

You would think that after all this time, Lois Mackulin would take enough car-fare to get home from the "Aragon."

John McCutchen and Ray Leveranz's mineral water slogan is, "It's bound to make you sick."

Thaddeus Kusak has made a change for the better "Wolfgang" Kusak.

Ron Schmidt is up in the air in pursuit of Marie Martin whose cloud-walking gives her a lift.

And Ray Ahrens and Lois Gatz read their books through the whole performance.

CLASS WILL

We of the Atomic Age explode our farewells in this our last will and testament. Taking with us super-minds and atomic energy, we will burst forth our knowledge into the outside world. With future seniors we share our wealth of this Atomic Age, hoping they, too, will survive its dynamic greatness.

Bomb I
Music
Explosion I

To Miss Keller and Mr. Gerkowski we leave the job of training new recruits to occupy the many vacancies in the music department.

Explosion II
The Triple Trio will be minus six girls after Ruth Rieman, Mary Samouris, Adele Kopicok, Arlene Bacon, Lois Nelson and Loretta Kmiecik graduate. The Boys' Octette will also be in need of three new singers when John Rockwell, Ed McKeon, and Don Liene depart.

Explosion III
To the choir we leave thirty-four vacant places among the various sections.
Explosion IV

We bequeath to the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs room for twenty-eight occupants for next semester.

Explosion V
Doris Erber resigns her baton to anyone capable of mastering the art of high-stepping band-leader. Nineteen other players vacate their hard-earned places in band and orchestra.

Bomb II
Athletics
Explosion I

To Mr. Seedhouse we leave the task of thinking up new ideas to experiment on other unfortunates.

If Mrs. Neff bids farewell to J.F.R. with us, we wish her luck from the class of '46, and hope that she will find happiness in her absence from Rhodes.

Explosion II
The Boys' and Girls' Leaders will be looking for twenty-one appropriate athletes to replace the members leaving with our class.

Explosion III
In the field of sports there remain many vacancies: three in wrestling, two in basketball, twelve in track and seven in football.

We take with us the Rinky Dink champion basketball and volleyball team which has won victory for four straight years.

We leave a lasting tribute to Mr. Vannorsdall, our former football coach, for giving us some wonderful teams.

Bomb III
Socially Speaking
Explosion I

Socially speaking, we of the graduating class have had our share of activities. Whether it was the Freshman Party or the June Prom, the numerous picnics or the informals, there was good fellowship present.

Explosion II
Lenore Podwils, our social chairman, and her committee bequeath to future party organizers the task of planning social functions.

Explosion III
Lois Grasmehr and Ruth Cain give up the headaches of co-editing the Rhodes Review to the next headline writer. The sports editor Bob Cummings, also wills his job to the one following in his footsteps.

Explosion IV
Then, there are the many homeroom announcers who will their jobs to the next followers of "Mike."

Explosion V
The girls entering the field of medicine, Mary Ann Dienes, Rosemary Eggert, Loretta Kmiecik, Evelyn Leight, Dorothy Schuman, and Mary Zamiska, leave the task of picking a vocation to their classmates who are still undecided.

Explosion VI
Carolyn Hoffman, Lois Nelson, Shirley Mencke, and Betty Wills, the seniors' sporting sparklers, will their chase-to-find-a-man to future bear-catchers.

Explosion VII
Our class also bequeaths for future seniors the job of finding something unique to compare with our two sets of twins; namely Frances and Eleanor Forystek, and Norma and Naomi Savoy.

Explosion VIII
As a sideline, Don Liene wishes to will to his successor the ability of not paying library fines on time.

Explosion IX
To Miss Cherrington, who has courageously suffered the annual wit and humor of her first xx English class, we present fond memories.

In conclusion, we leave to the faculty a long-deserved rest after four years of madness with two hundred and eleven scholars.
