NEIL D. MATHEWS

Members of the Class of January 1948:

In the years of your lives, up to this time, you have experienced two of the worst social dislocations in the history of our country—the depression of the early thirties and the past war. Certainly brighter days lie ahead, and we trust their arrival will not be long delayed. Each of you will have your part to play in the establishment and operation of guarantees against a recurrence of catastrophies such as these. May your individual parts be done with intelligence, courage, and the broad outlook of world citizens. Best wishes to each of you.

Sincerely,

NEIL D. MATHEWS

WILLIAM T. MARTIN

We, the January class of "48", dedicate this yearbook to one of our greatest friends among the faculty, Mr. Wm. T. Martin who has always been more or less a father to us. We shall always remember the congenial gentleman who always has had a smile for the members of our class whether he knew them personally or not.

He was often forced to defend his assertions against the vigorous verbal attacks of his class, but always did so willingly, with fairness, never losing patience with us.

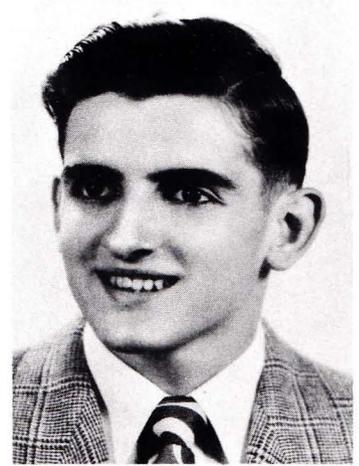

He is known to many of us as Father Time, due to his never-failing presence officiating as time keeper at our varsity grid-iron battles.

So in simple Rhodian lingo, we say, Mr. Martin, you're one heck of a swell guy!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

CLASS OF JANUARY, 1948

Here is what we leave you
Lowly lower grades
The memories of he-men
And mello 12A maids.

From the balcony

Reel I Splice I

The 12A class leaves Mr. Martin all the available stocks and bonds in the city of Cleveland.

Splice II

To Miss Simpson we leave our hopes for some new "Boards of Education."

Splice III

In regards to "Vannorsdalls acres" we leave a labor problem (ask the huskers of 114.)

Splice IV

To Mr. Schmidt we leave the lipstick on Maryellen Shaw's atomic whistle and Francis Stone's big blue eyes staring at the missfits in the ranks of the blue and white band.

Splice V

To Miss Thomson and Mr. Tanko we leave our senior class problems. We hope they'll recover for the senior classes to come.

Splice VI

To Admiral "Boom" Hoffman we leave the pole position in the annual Sadie Hawkins Day Race.

Reel II Splice I

John Scerbik and Bob Paal leave the football benches for someone else to warm.

Splice II

The 12A class of James Ford Rhodes leaves Wally Onizchak's crutches to future senior gym classes.

Splice III

Shirley Cutting leaves old J.F.R. in the middle of writing her book "The Harvey Boys."

Splice IV

Lydia Scherer leaves her rippling laughter to all those who come after.

Reel III Splice I

The senior class offers sympathy to coaches Moran, Holden and Vannorsdall. We are taking "Jocko" Armstrong with us.

Splice II

To all injured members of Rhodes' athletic teams we leave the services of Don "Lester" Kovach's big black limousine.

Splice III

To coach Moran we leave a serious gap in his forward wall.

Splice IV

We leave Miss Keller and the Glee Club memories of the giddy days when we spent a long and interesting period studying the holes in the ceiling.

Reel IV

The senior class wishes to congratulate the James Ford Rhodes faculty members for putting up with us for eight semesters.

Amen

CLASS HISTORY

T'was a cold and blustery day, January 31, 1944 when 125 wide-eyed young souls tripped up the steps of dear old Rhodes high. Frozen through, a few bold ones managed to question, "Where's the auditorium?" And from there on it was happy days.

Wasn't it wonderful how we romped at the Freshmen party? Oh, those wonderful Student Council people.

Some of our 9B girls got a chance to display their talents in "With a Song in my Heart." Weren't those blonde wigs and wooden shoes cute?

Our own Fred Engleman went out for Freshmen Football and broke his leg in two places. How? Climbing over a fence.

Joe Gudlin was the first of our boys to get a letter in track. In football it was Gecking and Armstrong and in basketball it was Armstrong.

And incidentally, by now Armstrong has reached the height where he can place the basketball in the net without effort.

In the 10A, we got a couple of foreigners. They were George Lechner and Bob Krieger and they were all the way from Tech! And Brooklyn, New York gifted us with Ted Yurcak.

Don Gecking and Justine Cheselka got to run the Student Council for a year.

No class is complete without its athletes, both masculine and feminine. The first girl in our class to get in girl leaders was Mary Ellen Shaw. Following her in were Cheselka, Urban, Wiese, Mushat, Owens, Hallahan, Scuba and Smith. Breaking into the boys Leaders were Armstrong and Gecking, who both hold offices in it.

Studying hard in languages brought about merits for a number of our kids. Those that made the German Club were Mary Ellen Shaw, Lydia Scherer, Larry Gedeon, Dick Stause, George Lechner, Louise Wolf, Dorothy Mikolack, Ted Fessler, Eugene Jeffreys, and Albert Leyerle. The French Club members are Hector Fraser, Betty Ziegler, George Lechner and Dorothy Owens. A lone member from our class made the Latin Club, she is Jean Lombardo.

We are firm believers in fun, however there are four traitors in our class who actually study. They made the Honor Society and they are Lydia Scherer, George Lechner, Dick Stause, and Betty Ziegler, Bookies!

Believe it or not, we finally became Seniors and every head swelled at least a couple of inches. Our 12B elections brought about all-around Armstrong for president and George Lechner as vice-president. Dorothy Owens taking the notes and Jeanne Smith tapping the wallets.

We had the thrill of seeing Mr. Hoffman, Mr. Moran, and Mr. Henderson return from serving their country. The girls took over from there.

Our class also brought forth Mary Ellen Shaw as head majorette and Frances Stone as one of the majorettes. Not to forget all our great kids in the band who added gray hairs to three different band leaders.

We had lots of trouble with our 12B informal but boy did we have fun!

And then there were those few energetic bookies who wanted to graduate early. They went ahead in the Twelfth and they are: Lois Leahy, Jean Skowron, Carol Sellers, Lenny Wisniewski, Bob Obojske, and Don Wires, Joy Overly, and Mary Ann Guth.

Coming into our class from a half grade below were: Dorothy Andrusczko, Irene Hallahan, Marge Cecil, Gene Fullington, Phil Giordano, and Will Osborne.

After a summer of freedom, we came back to find ourselves 12A's. What a problem! So we rounded up our class and elected George Lechner as president, Dick Stause as vice-president, Lee Pawlak, secretary, and Larry Gedeon as treasurer.

Then there was our class picnic. And how did you look in a sack?

The football team was honored by four of our boys. Jocko Armstrong, Don Gecking, John Scerbik, and Robert Paal.

Who will ever forget our psychological tests? Everyone was seen exercising their fingers across their lips for days afterward.

Roy Bugay's voice still rings through Rhodes halls as part of the boy's Octette. And so it was with Arlene Crouch in the girls' Triple Trio.

Many of us came into our own in "Melody Fair" F'Rinstance, Lee Pawlak and Ramona Di Lellis with their duet and Shirley Russell's solo. Need we say anything about the Hula Dancers? HUB - - - BA!

Our class sincerely hopes that coaches Moran and Sawyer, plus the needed animals, will turr out more Charity Game contenders in the future.

So as we close, we say: We know we have not made big history as Columbus or Magellan but we do hope that our class has helped in the progression of the history of dear old J.F.R. and what little that we could do, we did willingly . . . and so we leave you Rhodes to classes behind and hope that they may share in the fun and enjoyment that you have brought us.

SENIOR PROPHECY

CLASS OF JANUARY, 1948

Below there is a prophecy
Of future epitaphs.
We nudged a few.
One might be you,
So easy on the laughs.

"Jocko" Armstrong continues to grow up. College buckets raised to twelve feet. Roofs come off stadiums.

Jeanne Case becomes women's physical ed teacher. Tells her motto to students. "Shapely limbs—Many Hims."

Roy "Doc" Bugay sits at home smoking his "Slush pump" while little blondes romp about the unsuspecting track squads.

Lillian Blasik revolutionizes dime stores. Nothing above 5c and 10c.

Raids on weekly sewing circles held at Bob Brenner's and Ray Eirich's.

Annual "Justine Cheselka Day Race" to be held in January.

Glenn Cowgill's coming out party will be held the night before the prom.

Arlene Crouch is the proud owner of a big diamond ring—third finger left hand. - - - (Do we hear wedding bells?)

John Cross gets two years in hoozegow for stealing kisses from Fanny Farmer.

Shirley Cutting is opening a boarding house on Spring road for bachelors only.

Ron Daehler makes his first million. Buys new Cadillac. Throws away keys and walks so no one can leech him for a ride.

Gloria Daso now selling hand painted ties for men. Competing with ancient history museum.

Frank Dydek blows up teacher's college with his own brand of cigarette.

Fred Engleman is a driving instructor for women only (Blondes preferred.)

Love letters found in Cornel Wilde's mail box signed . . . Franks a million, Irene.

Hector "Hoot Mon" Fraser, just released from Klaas' prison, will resume booking at Thistle Down (His job is to catch "foul tips").

How many will fall under the pressure of Irene "Good Head" Hallahan's flashy blue peepers (May all her little Irishmen be the same).

Jack Fuelling and Harry James.

Carol Hillebrecht and Betty Ziegler now own Clague's. Have special rates for nightly hay rides . . . if they are included.

Gene "Politician" Fullington opens men's store next to Luke's. What time did you say Harry Schwarz closes?

Anna Hall and the King of Siam.

Regina Hollen intends to marry a basketball player and raise five little maple-maulers for the future Rhodes quint.

Absent minded office manager, Don Gecking, found flirting with his typewriter. (Wait till Jan sees this. She'll punch'm.)

Low and behold, Josephine Lioi becomes Mrs. Proprietor of the "Shack of Weeds."

Larry "Sol" Gedeon will sell the same thing twice as cheap. Used clothes business hits new high (skirts excepted). Get Gedeon's Gotten Garments.

Phil Giordano makes living from pennies in pockets of cleaning.

Jean Lombardo transferred to Halle's floor cleaning staff. All washed up, eh Jean?

Mary Lou Loughhead whips down "Hitch-up Hollow." Will pull up "Short" to alter.

Andy Holz moves in at the end of fifty-fourth street. (It's dark there).

Marion Masek lives up to her initial name . . . Marions Marryin' some day.

Al Huy is the star attraction at a certain establishment on Ninth and Chester.

The Matejka-Zaza, dare-devil racing team, are entering the "Driving Class Special" in the national air races next year (Less traffic).

Gene "Einstein" Jeffery becomes night watchman at Schuster's Atomic Brewery.

Jeanette Meng has a husband who runs a "Wake you up in the morning" company. Wake up Jeanette.

Tom Kasner named City Transportation Chief. Runs bus line to local brewery. Voted president of club at Rhodes, "Tappa Kegga Beer."

Dorothy Mikolack is the star saleslady in Wurlitzer's cheese box department. (Don't squeeze too hard, Dot.)

Tom Keppler, nationally known cheese cake photographer, witnesses rise of hem lines.

Betty Mushat might be showered with "Reise".

Ron Koepf, with flashy clothes and all, opens up new studio for Arthur Murray on Broadway in New York.

E.J.H. is counting on Dot Owens knowledge of distance men to help his cinder-slammers on. Milers included.

Bob "Snooky" Koons, the "Pied Piper" of JFR, chasing all available Janes."

Maryellen Shaw knotted to "Hide-siammer". Little Hanks take up baton.

Don Kovach manages Cleveland Browns. Promoted to bass drummer in the Musical Majorettes (Becomes "saturated").

Grace Skintek gets married. Takes boxing lessons. Repays black eyes.

Clyde Kuebler following in the footsteps of Poppa, taking everyone for a cleaning, especially in and African Dominoes.

Elsie "Happy" Palas becomes vice-president in charge of Tootsie Rolls at Becker's.

Ray Kuehn turns Big Wheel. Gets around.

"Shirley "Mammy" Russell is warbling Black Magic at the Black and Tan club Sunday nights.

"Meetless" Louie Lautermilch has words with president.

Lydia Scherer writes a book called "Manhunters". It may outsell "Forever Gordon".

Future president of the U. S.? Why, George "Cutie Boy" Lechner of course (hoot)!

Eva Scuba (second from right, first row) hoofing it at The Palace.

Al Leyerle is improving his cave man tactics. Baseball bat still good. One girl has fallen for him already.

Francis Stone will wield whistle and stick stuff in college's group of many toots.

Bob "Tootsie" Paal wants to be shut up alone on a little island along the "Barbara" Coast.

Eva Schwerthoffer is getting an elderly man to wash family dishes for her.

Hal Platt will play "Lay That Pistol Down, Babe" once too often. Wife blows his brains out.

Dorothy Urban thrown from horse. Saddles up again. Rides to altar.

Jim Scanlon claims that his jalopy is like any oceanliner. Takes a tug to get it started.

Whose voice is that ringing from the public square "tin cup" district? It's coming from under that black bonnet next to the pavillion. Why's its Louise Wolf.

John "Tarzan" Scerbik will most likely swing from locks of ebony hair. He will fall and wreck his knee again and finally decide to resume football.

Les Schubert turns golf pro so he can go around with an old bag.

Old "Doc" Schumacher lifts price on feed. Less do-nuts on Becker's counters. Bob Krieger and Wally Onizchak have turned to Standard's back room.

Doris Wiese is football coach for line at Yale U. Shows Ed P. how to ward off passes. (Her passes, of course).

Glenn Seeman is modeling some two-hunk bathing suits for Woman's Home Companion. They're just rooty-toot.

Gil "The barber" Skiba really cutting up lately (long skirts, that is).

Betty Logelin has a great weight off her . . . mind. She moved next to the Rye-Krisp plant.

Dick Stause finally learns the ways of the broom (married).

Steve Suredam signed by coach Bun Cook to the Cleveland Baron's line-up. He sweeps empty beer bottles from the ice during intermission.

The Cecil and Zepp bar is open until two o'clock nightly. Located a few doors from the Broadview show.

Gunther Wulf returns home late to wife and rolling pin.

Gerry Wynn becomes millionaire by betting on National Tiddley-Wink Finals." Pennies become common exchange at Becker's.

Ted Yurcak, the tree that grew in Brooklyn, found flirting with Sadie Hawkins.

Ruth Schmotzer receives night diploma. Now read in the dark.

Dorothy Harrison featured with Al Huy.

Diamond Horsehoe reopens. More food. More waitresses. More girls. Less lights. Paul Yurko passes hat.

Elmer Bodnar turns butcher. Expects meat to freeze at present high prices.

Ted Fessler contacts moon. Receives station K-A-S-C-O over moonbeam.

Jeanne Smith almost caught shoplifting cosmetics. Takes a powder.

Services for this corn will be held in Rev. Willy Osborne's field of bones at the end of the ninth chapter today.

Now we've wrecked your future
Paul, Betty, Bob, and Dot.
We'll stop it here.
Not one more smear.
All's forgiven and forgot.
