JANUARY '60

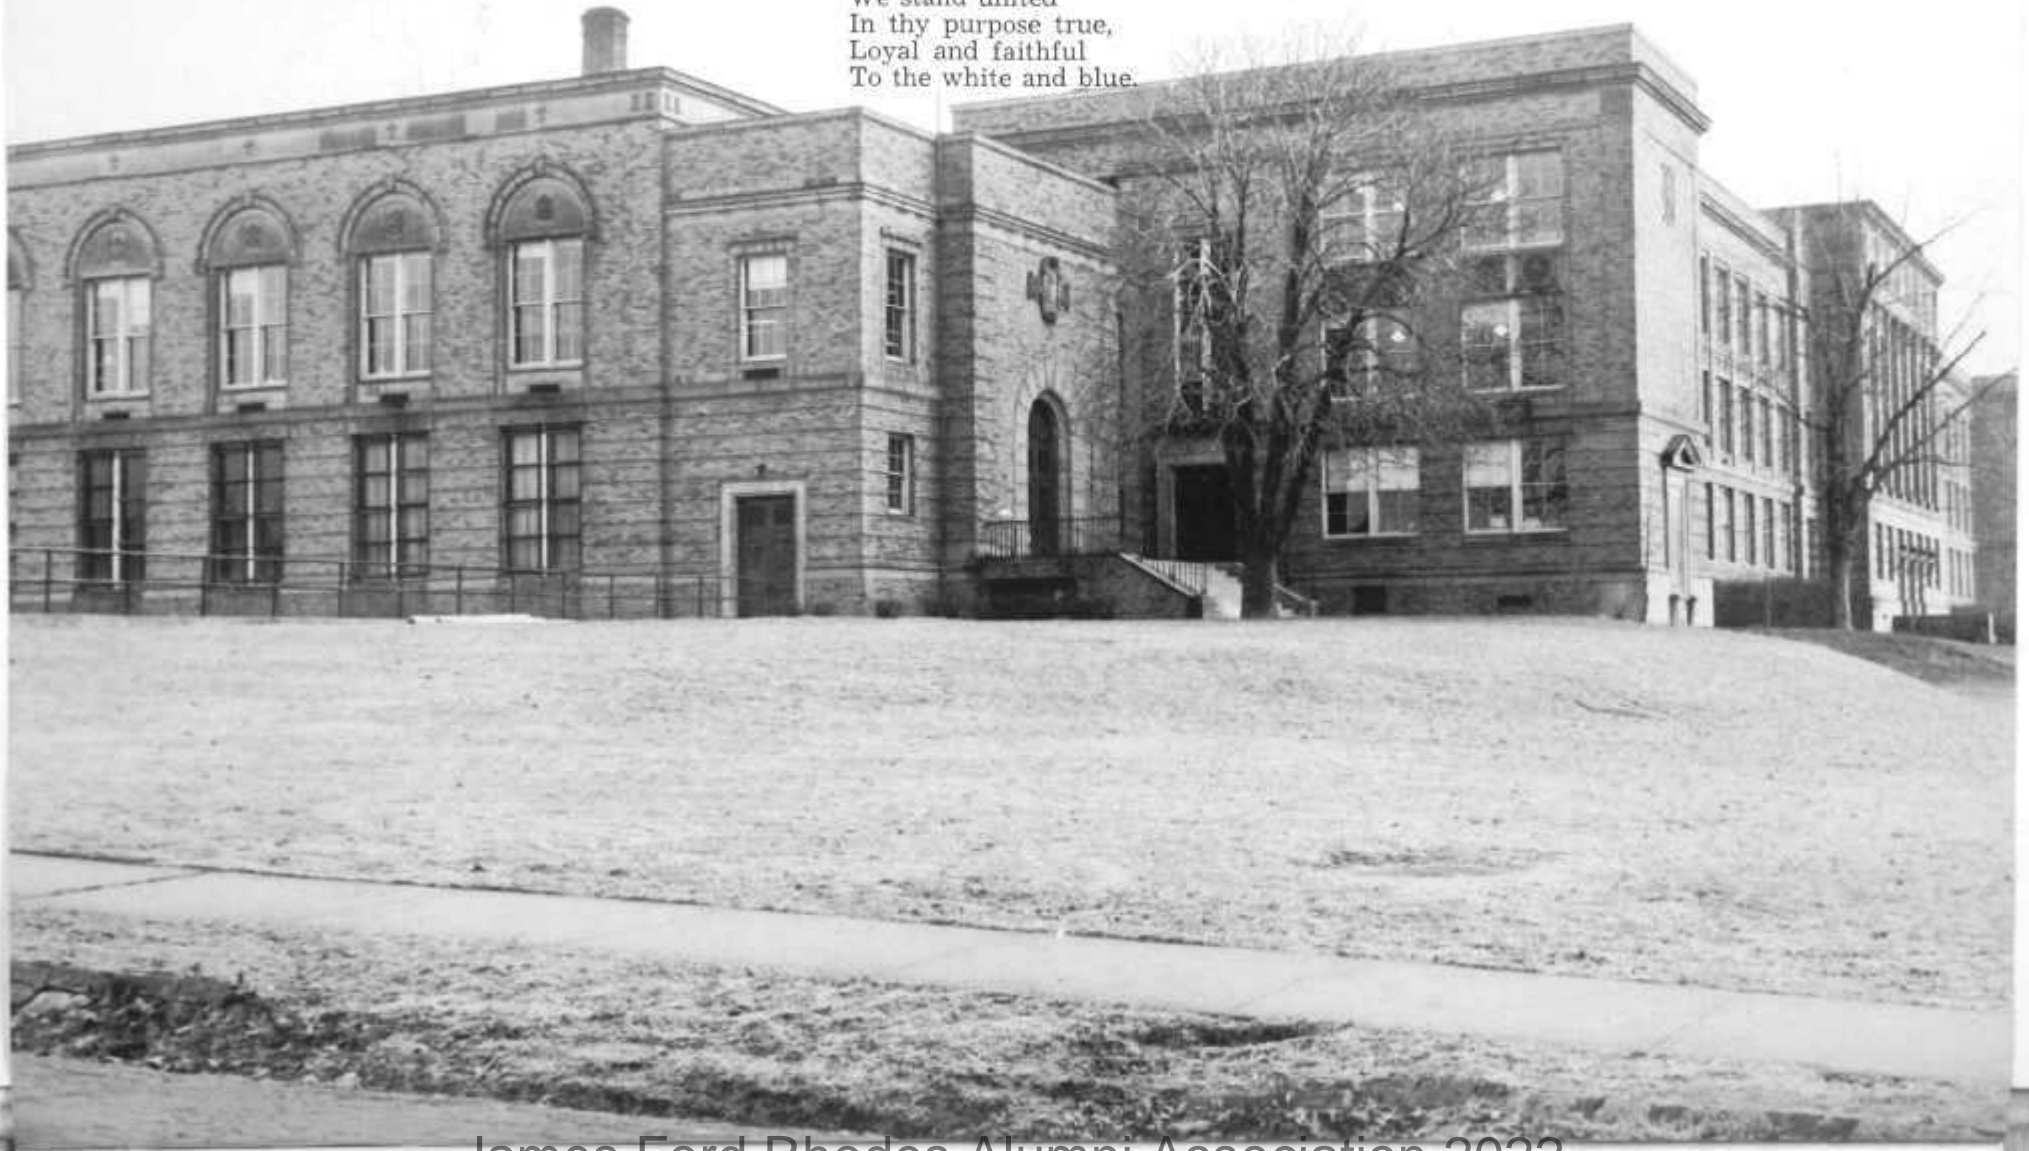

James Ford Rhodes High School

January, 1960

THE RHODES HYMN

Dear old Rhodes High,
Thy wisdom lights our path
Thy friendship true
Stay with us to the last.
We stand united
In thy purpose true,
Loyal and faithful
To the white and blue.

Dear Mr. Herrmann,

Although you have been at Rhodes less than two years, you have given the graduates of January, 1960 much to remember you by. In this space of time you have contributed things that others can see and enjoy. Our beautiful decorations for school dances are the products of your work. You and your class have also made the professional-looking stage scenery for all of the plays given at school. You don't stand on the outside and watch things being done—you pitch right in and help get things done. You don't settle for second best in your work—only the best meets with your approval.

We, the Class of January, 1960, salute you as our home-room teacher and class sponsor. Years from now we will remember your quiet, easy-going manner which helped take some of the pressures off school life. As we look back on our high school years we will remember your warm personality and lasting smile. We graduates wish you many more successful years at Rhodes.

Dear Miss Millard,

With sincere respect and admiration, we dedicate our yearbook to you, Miss Millard. Your background in the field of home economics has qualified you as a professional in the field.

While some of us may not have been in class under your direction, you have, nevertheless, influenced us to become better homemakers during the four years we spent in your homeroom.

In the future, as we look back on our high school career, you will always be remembered as the teacher who helped us to solve our problems and to become better family members.

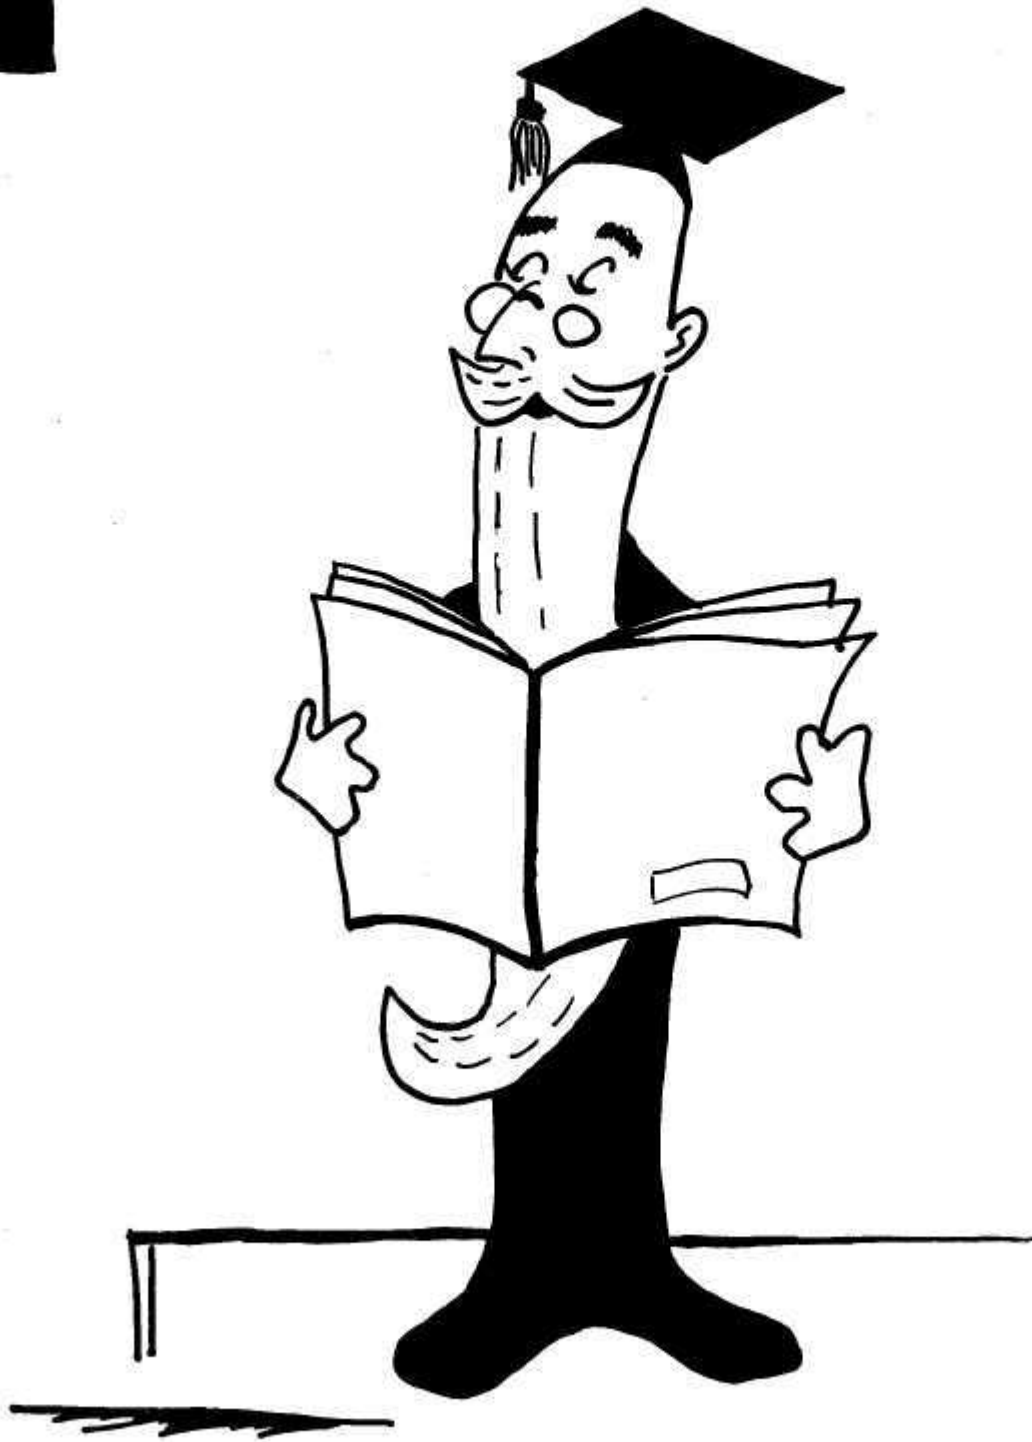

To Members of the Class of January, 1960:

By reaching this graduation time, each of you has made a very promising start in what we hope will be a happy and useful life. Those of us with whom you have been associated at Rhodes High School hope that the life-work you do, and the manner in which you do it, will be such that you will be an inspiration to others who will take your place when you move on. May you make the most of your opportunities and may you never lose sight of the responsibilities you have to those who follow in your footsteps.

Best wishes to each of you.

NEIL D. MATHEWS
Principal

FACULTY

In addition to your successes, each of you in the years ahead will face some obstacles. We hope that your stay at Rhodes has helped to equip you with the necessary tools to achieve success, to overcome barriers, and to face the future with confidence and eagerness.

Harry Blum

This electronic and space age in which you graduates have grown up has transformed for the better the lives of all of us either directly or indirectly. It is our hope that you will try to make your words and deeds match the wonders of this age; that you will not become prisoners of radio, television, and automobiles; but that your education will serve a higher purpose—that of creativity, of beauty and aspiration.

Very best wishes to each one of you.

Helen E. Palmer

To each member of the Class of January, 1960 I extend best wishes for a very successful and rewarding future. Whether you find your place in the home or office, in industry or business, in a trade or in a profession, it is my hope that your high school education may serve you well. If you have learned to make wise decisions along with the acquisition of a broader and more tolerant outlook on life, your years spent at Rhodes High will have been very much worth while.

Carl B. Ferguson

You can't plan your life with laboratory precision; there's such a thing as the unexpected and exposure to the lightnings of opportunity. But you can see that your education will prepare you for many different jobs which make different demands upon you and lead to different rewards. May the satisfaction of your education at Rhodes, January graduates, be the quiet pleasure of exercising it in ways useful to society.

Social Studies Department

Robert Sifritt
Department Head

Social sciences attempt to portray man as an individual and as a member of a group at all times and in all relationships. This study concerns his problems and their solutions so that through understanding, man may live a better life.

English Department

Eugene Hartzell
Department Head

The number and variety of English courses at Rhodes High makes this department the largest one in the school. At least ninety per cent of twelfth grade pupils elect one or two semesters of English after they have completed either 60 or 70 points in required English. This plan of free elections permits specialization in such types of literature as the short story, the American novel, Shakespeare, and modern drama. Courses preparatory to college or job are pre-college English and business English.

Various abilities in communication are tested periodically: vocabulary, spelling, mechanics of correctness, reading level, and grammar. A standard for graduation is a rating of at least 11A on the grammar test.

Dramatics Department

Constance Burton

Dramatics, one of the smaller departments at Rhodes, provides the student body with both entertainment and valuable instruction. Students learn how to portray characters with words and actions that emphasize vivid reality that will capture the audience's attention and admiration.

Math Department

Carlton Hicks

During our four years at Rhodes, the math department has taught us algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. Even more important, the instructors have given us the benefit of their background and experience with many ideas and questions aside from those in the text books. They have helped to mold and shape our own basic philosophy.

Science Department

Raymond Merriman
Department Head

We have grown up in an age of science. The science department, through instruction in Biology, Physics, and Chemistry, teaches us to better understand the world around us and to be better prepared to cope with the uncertainties of the future.

Driving Department

Harry Seitz

In our modern society driving has become an important part of our lives. The driver training courses offered at Rhodes teach us the rules and regulations in the classroom and show us how to apply them on the road. These courses help to put good drivers on the road so that our city may be a safe place in which to live.

Home Economics Department

Marie Ballash
Department Head

Home economics tries to prepare students for their future roles as adults and homemakers. The well-equipped facilities of the kitchen and sewing rooms at Rhodes provide part of that training. Girls are offered courses in cooking, sewing, personal regimen, and homemaking. Boys can take courses in chef, personal regimen, and consumer education.

Roselyn Jamison

Marie Lanese

Leona Millard

Corrine Patterson

Commercial Department

Ellsworth Holden
Department Head

Helping students develop sufficient skills to enter the business world is the objective of the commercial department. Courses in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice provide students with the background to enter this field upon graduation. Students entering college find typing and shorthand invaluable aids.

Language Department

Margaret Thieme
Department Head

Language plays an important part in our lives. It is an essential factor in our civilization. Mastering a foreign language, therefore, is a great accomplishment. Rhodes gives its students opportunities to study three languages: French, Latin, and German. Many in our graduating class have taken advantage of this opportunity and, as a result, have found the English language simplified.

A foreign language does not only simplify our own, but it also maintains our ability to know and understand the customs and traditions of other countries. This is an important point to be stressed, for we in the United States need to know and understand other countries in order that we may understand our own.

Art Department

Martha Kenyon

Art at Rhodes offers students the chance to express themselves in many different media such as watercolor, charcoal, and pencil. Also, many of the art classes specialize in handicraft projects using leather, metal, or clay in order to give students a chance to apply their particular art skills. The interest in art is heightened by the opportunity to gain recognition through competition in exhibits for prizes.

Norman Magden

Music Department

Robert Pfunder

Snappy marches, semi-classical music, and beautiful songs are all an important part of our wonderful music department. Music, both vocal and instrumental, entertains us and helps to take some of the pressure off school life. The fabulous concerts will be remembered by both those who participated in them and those who heard them.

Gilbert Van Nortwick

Industrial Arts Department

Harry Forster
Department Head

The industrial arts department provides many of our students with the training necessary for them to succeed in life. The students learn by experience and soon become quite proficient in many practical skills that will certainly be useful to them in their future lives.

Classes in mechanical drawing, metal, printing, stagecraft, and wood-working are offered to all who wish to improve their manual abilities.

MR. TEMPLIN

Dear Mr. Templin,

We sincerely thank you for your patience and understanding in dealing with us and our crazy ideas. Your pleasant but stern attitude helped us to think before we acted and thus kept us from making many serious mistakes. We thank you very much for your kindness and we sincerely hope that the next 12A class will appreciate you as much as we do.

Sincerely,

The Class of January, 1960

In Them Thar' Days

In January of the year 1956 a group of 120 or so of us bar' feeted hillbillies come out frum dem thar' hills and went a seeking sum larnin' at gud ol' James Ford Rhodes. Banded together, we war' a hankerin' ta be the graduatin' class of 1960.

Comin' frum dem thar' hills we natcherly didn't know what to expect at this hi-falootin instatashun, but we soon got into the groove at that thar' gatherin' they call Orientashun.

Sum of ar' bigger bak-hill bruthers—"Jodi" Davis, "Zeke" Climaco, "Abe" Victor, and "Jeremiah" Tannenbaum, — led ar' Frosh Football team ta' a successful season.

We done been proud of ar' bruthers and sister, "Lulabelle" Danczak, "Lukie" Allport, and "Clem" Szelesta, who wuz the first ov ar' clan ta make that thar' Honor Roll.

Gee whiskers! Wuz we confoozed when we done got letters an' attitude marks on ar' markin' cards.

Now that wer' not the unlearned hillbillies we wuz when we comed and no longer considered the shoeless class, we wuz well on ar' way ta bein' sophomors.

We now had the qualificashuns of enterin' the club shacks of ar' choice. Them as who cud take it, wuz inshiated into Girls Leaders: "Mazie" Churlik, "Katy" Sandor, "Daisy" Lee, "Amy" Fritz, and "Sally" Kopcok. Boys Leaders claimed "Zeke" Climaco, "Abe" Victor, "Jeremiah" Tannenbaum, and "Oggie" Hutter. "Zuzu" Baszuk and "Lulabelle" Danczak war ar' only Citizen Clubbers.

"Jeremiah" Tannenbaum war the first ov ar' bruthers ta win a varsity letter on his runnin ability.

"Lukie" Allport, tootin' on his horn, done won a musikal award.

Those of us who made ar' ma's and pa's reel proud by reportin the newz for the Rhodes Review wuz, "Nany" Akers, "Zuzu" Baszuk, "Hezakiah" Amos, and "Ike" Rackow.

The first bruthers and sisters ta hold public office in ar' class wuz "Oggie" Hutter, president; "Abe" Victor, vice-president; "Otis" Schweikert, secretary; "Jeremiah" Tannenbaum, treasurer; and "Clarabelle" Enderlein, social chairman.

Dem kids that went ahead in 11A skolarship, service, leadership, and character wuz inducted into the honorable N.H.S. They wuz, "Mazie" Churlik, "Laura Lee" Meyer, "Lukie" Allport, "Jake" Goralski, "Clem" Szelesta, and "Yokum" Mateyka.

Bout this time we had ar' first jamboree that wuz like bein in dem hills bak home cauze it wuz "Snowflake Fantasy".

Now with ar' Junior year over we wuz looking toward ar' last year at that skool of larnin.

Leadin us bruthers and sisters on in ar' 12B semester, war "Gugu" Takacs, president; "Jamie" Holter, vice-president; "Amy" Fritz, secretary; "Lonie" Block, treasurer; and "Clarabelle" Enderlein, social chairman.

Nooly selected members of that N.H.S. club wuz "Zuzu" Baszuk, "Hiram" Buell, "Clarabelle" Enderlein, "Katy" Sandor, and "Coz" Widener.

The big shots ov clubs this year wuz "Jake" Goralski, president ov the German club, Latin club president, "Silky" Sommer, Sr. Choir president, "Jeremiah" Tannenbaum, Glee Club, "Clarabelle" Enderlein, Band president, "Lukie" Allport, Girls Leaders, "Laura Lee" Meyer, Foreign Affairs, "Yokum" Mateyka, Sr. Y. Teen, "Melly" Jack, and "Jake" Goralski, president ov Boosters and National Honor Society.

Ar' bruthers and sisters who done controlled ar' class in the 12A war: "Zeke" Climaco, president, "Elli" Perry, vice-president, "Amy" Fritz, secretary, "Mazie" Churlik, treasurer, and "Clarabelle" Enderlein, and "Lulabelle" Danczak, social chairmen.

In ar' last semester, "Amy" Fritz, "Lulabelle" Danczak, "Sally" Kopcok, "Daisy" Lee, "Maxie" Chaloupka, and "Ike" Rackow, was inducted into that hi-falutin' larnin' group, N.H.S.

Ar' social doins begun with a eatin shindig Sum ov ar' bruthers and sisters got together and provided sum entertainment. Us hillbillies went a steppin when ar' informal "Imagination," rolled round.

The biggest jamboree ov ar' four years wuz ar' Prom, "Toujours L'amour."

The time has come fer us bruthers and sisters ta say gud-by ta each other, and ta the cozins we left behind. Sum ov us will return ta them thar hills, sum off ta the big city, and sum off ta higher larnin', but we will never fergit the gud times we had together those four wonderful yeers at Rhodes.

THE HOUR GLASS

The year is 1975. The place is Moosehead, Montana, at 6:28 in the morning. You are there. A committee of four loyal class graduates is about to embark on an around-the-world search for graduates of the class of January, 1960 to inform them of the coming class reunion.

The committee begins to board the plane when they are greeted by MARDELL McCABE, the stewardess. The pilot boards the plane and the committee recognizes him as being JIM CHALOUPLKA.

Their first stop is New York where the committee goes to the police station to complain about stolen baggage. Here they see MATT NUGENT, chief of police, interrogating JON BEATON, treasurer of the Schemesters Union, about a missing million or so. On their way back to the airport the committee walks through the Bronx Zoo where they see Zu Heber (LEE WEBER), the zoo keeper, attempting to recapture a rare hairy-nosed Ardvark.

As the plane leaves New York, it passes over Yankee Stadium where the committee sees DAVE GIESE, umpire, arguing with JAMES ROMAY, famous homerun slugger, for throwing his bat over the outfield fence. JUDY ARON, Yankee "bat girl" is running out with a new bat.

The plane's next stop is Washington, D.C., where the committee decides to tour the city. As they enter the Library of Congress, they see DAVE ENGLISH, keeper of the vowels, bringing a stack of dusty books to librarian, CLARA ENDERLEIN. Their next stop is the Capitol where they see F.B.I. agent, JIM MATTS, talking with RALPH BOGDANSKI, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, about the increasing theft of parking meters. The committee hears a loud voice and turn to see southern politician, JOHN CLIMACO, arguing with lobbyist JIM CHAPLER over whether the post office department should issue envelopes with tutti-fruitti or rum-flavored glue.

After a twenty minute flight over the Atlantic, the plane lowers its landing gear in London, England. The committee takes a gondola down the Thames River with gondolier KAREN BENNETT. As they round a turn, the gondola smashes into London Bridge which JOHN BELICA has just sold to an unsuspecting tourist. They swim to shore and hire SUE SESZTAK to take them to Oxford in her ricksha. On the trip, bobbie, BOBBIE RUSCH gives them a ticket for going 12 kilometers per hour in a 10 kilometer per hour zone.

The committee is greeted at Oxford by Dean DENNIS ASSAFF. He introduces them to his two secretaries, ANNETTE CUTLIP and PAT BOWMAN and to RAY BENISEK, professor of English.

As the committee heads toward the airport, they stop to hear Sir WILLIAM MA-TEYKA, poet laureate of England, dedicate a jolly good sonnet to the House of Commons.

Once again on the plane, the committee heads toward gay Pareé. Crossing the English Channel, they spot ELAINE CHURLIK swimming the entire distance under water followed by a school of man-eating sharks.

After landing at Orly Airfield outside Paris, the committee decides to have some lunch at the La Parisienne on the Champs Elysees. Entering the club, the committee just happens to find JOHN HOVORKA, the head waiter, and CANDY LEE, the cigarette girl. After ordering some viands prepared by the world famous culinary specialist, LINDA KENNEDY, they watch the internationally-known chorus line consisting of KATHY BASZUK, KATHY BIDLEN, and PHYLLIS SMOTZER.

During the committee's visit to the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles, they see FRED WAGNER, who is the head mirror-polisher and LOUIS MERKLE, the guillotine demonstrator.

Flying over the Riviera on their way to Monte Carlo, the committee reads in Pravda that DAN CALLOT just won the peninsula in the Irish Sweepstakes and has conveniently renamed it "Monte Callot." At the Casino de RUSSELL RACKOW in "Monte Callot," the drowsy dean of the doormen, TED WIDENER, escorts the committee to the best table in the house. Once inside, the committee recognizes the croupier as being MARIE GRUGLE. Chief bouncer ARPER STIRE is seated at a corner table by the rear door.

Enjoying the gay life of the casino, the committee sees MIKE "Bet-a-Million" LESKO win Australia from CHRIS "A buck here and a buck there" GORALSKI while playing the exciting game of Old Maid.

GRACE FRINDT has earned fame as a life guard at the aquarium of this vacation paradise on the Mediterranean.

Leaving the blue waters of the Mediterranean, the pilot veers north to Switzerland. At the International Red Cross in Geneva, the committee locates Doctor DARLENE SANDOR, and nurses CAROL PAYNE and DOUGLAS MacMILLAN.

Attending a session of a Big Four Summit Conference in the Palace of Nations, the committee hears RONALD SZELESTA giving the principal ten-hour speech. Seated at the conference table are the prime ministers of the Big Four: RAYMOND STASIAK Esq. of Luxemburg, Mme. BETTY SIGGELKOW of El Salvador, Sir GARY FRANKLIN of Antartica, and Mme. JULIE KOPCOK of Lapland.

Translating the whole jibberish to the non-English speaking penguins are JOHN UHRIN and KAREN FLEISCHER.

From the yodeling Alps, the committee heads "down under" to Johannesburg, South Africa. There the committee contacts TIM ALLPORT, missionary, and his organist, TERRY McHUGH. JOYCE DANCZAK has a monopoly on the manufacture of Tse-Tse fly sprayers, and LEE SOMMER makes candles for the all-electric homes that are defective. Informing the four of the reunion, the committee once again boards the jet and heads for Japan, Land of the Rising Sun.

The committee discovers that in Tokyo, JOE SPRING is making shock absorbers and DICK TANNENBAUM is the renowned Tetley Tea Tester of the Orient. The committee watches WERNER WITTMAN, the Sumo Wrestler, put on an exhibition and locates the Saki works of CHUCK ROSS and his secretary, WALLY MYCHAJLUK.

In another part of the city the committee contacts MARY LYNN BLOCK, honorable big wheel at the Yo-Yo Works and chief yo-yo tester, PAUL TAKACS.

Stopping off at a teahouse before leaving, the committee is served hot chocolate by a French maid, PRISCILLA GERMUSKA, and hears a trio consisting of SUE MEYER, rock-and-roll artist, BILL MORRIS on the banjo, and BILL HEUSER on the tuba.

Thus, having contacted everyone in Japan, the committee ventures south to the warm waters, tropical breeze, and enchantment of the Polynesian South Sea Islands.

Anxious for relaxation, the committee seeks peace and quiet in the Comrad Milton Hotel. To their surprise, the manager turns out to be RUTH PAMER and informs the group that DAVE JACKAM, the Cadillac Limousine salesman of Polynesia, has the penthouse suite.

Feeling a little out of shape from extravagant living, the committee decides to work out in the health studio of KEN HUTTER. After a hard five minutes work at the bowling machine under the direction of health assistants MARJORIE JANOVIAK and JANICE RUBLE, the committee heads for the beach and a swim. At the shore they see the fish breeding station of DONALD PALMER and KAREN SCHAUFLEER. The two raise infusoria for people who are tired of goldfish.

Basking in the sun, the committee watches sponge diver ELMER GRUGLE and coconut cracker GARY MOREHOUSE perform their antics. LeROY KEHOE, the leading skin diver on the island, is training a school of sword fish in the art of fencing and BARBARA MOSES and JAY HENNINGER are making sand castles for sea horses.

All rested, the committee leaves the island of palm trees and hula hoops for the crowded sidewalks of the United States. As they take a last look at the islands, they see whaler JIM CERY being hauled in by the Navy for having harpooned one of their newest submarines. He mistook it for a fish.

Landing at Los Angeles after a ten minute flight from the south seas, the committee goes through Customs where officials DODY RATH and ED KNEUSS uncover bubble gum being smuggled in without declaring it.

The committee tours the Hollywood Sun Times Newspaper Company and finds PAT SHADDOCK, the nationally-famous Abby columnist and BRUCE BUELL, president of the west coast chapter of the Lonely Hearts Club.

The committee discovers that JANET NOLAN and RICHARD WIDOWS have a monopoly on all Hollywood cosmetics with their Flubbudub and Bolderdash Warpaint Cosmetics, Inc.

BRUCE MUENCH is the bubble blower for Lawrence Welk, and ERNEST BERTONE is a trigonometry professor at U.C.L.A. Visiting Disneyland, the committee sees Riverboat RALPH HOLTER, captain of a paddle wheeler, and CHARLOTTE CULP, an accordionist in an all-girl polka band.

Departing Los Angeles, the jet veers over Point Mugu (Western Cape Canaveral) and spots VINCE LEPKA, drill instructor, putting some mice through some calisthenics in preparation for a moon shot. JUDY VANDERWERF, the atomic chemist, is preparing a special noodle-soup fuel assisted by biochemist RUTH HYTIAN. Algebra professor ROBERT SCHWEIKERT is explaining the theory of warped noodles to the space volunteers.

Continuing the flight, the committee goes cowboy as they land in Dallas, Texas. After being greeted by Mayor ART DUREITZ, they hear DOUG DAVIS, news analyst for Radio Cactus Land, advertise THOMAS PREISEL Pickled Pretzels. Later he delivers a speech for ROBERT MORDAUNT, who is running for governor on the Vegetarian Party ticket.

The committee visits the dude ranch of JIM PERRY and sees NANCY AKERS operating an electric milking machine. ROBERT WAAG is a wagon wheel maker and JANET FRITZ fashions buggy whips. Scoutmaster ART HAFT is leading his troop in search of moose, while PEGGY RYAN is collecting needles for haystacks.

Another guest who comes to the ranch is RAY VICTOR, president of Zenith Corp., who is giving his ulcers a long needed vacation. With him comes a lady of the theater, LYNETTE GALLAGHER, a blues singer on the "Pop Gum" show.

The committee sees Dr. MARY ANN JACK, the eye ball specialist at Swift and Company, inspecting the long-horns on the range. RUSS VODICKA, who drills holes in bowling balls, is on permanent leave of absence for "loading" the balls with T.N.T. Too many people were having big "blasts" in the alleys.

Although the committee is rather tired from their round-the-world search, there is a well satisfied look on their faces as they board the huge jet that will take them home. Now that everyone has been located, the reality of a successful reunion is well on its way. Looking out of a window as the jet leaves the lone-star state, the committee sees a beautiful crescent of the golden sun rising out of the East signifying a new day. What this new day holds in store for us only the Heavens know. But we do hope, however, that this new day will bring a bit of peace and happiness to a well deserving and prosperous class.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Mr. Vannorsdall's Ancient American History Class, doing research for a report on pre-World War III America, consults the second sub-basement archives of Probate Court.

Janet Fritz's sister, left to the Gym Department, volunteers her aid in guiding them through the recesses of this underworld. She brings forth a mysterious scroll, which she slowly unrolls. Inscribed upon it in vivid letters are the words "January Class, 1960," followed by a coded list. In rasping syllables, she questions, "How many cases of Pepsi will it take to make the 12A boys sociable?"

Following the direction of their guide's outstretched arm, they see a door scrape slowly open. One folder lies on the bottom. Scurrying things brush the hand of the inquisitive student who reaches in for the folder. On the first page are these historic words: "We, the noon movie operators, leave Mr. Stevens a vermin-infested projection booth."

The drawers have gotten the hang of it by now and proceed to open by themselves.

Someone, morbidly fascinated by red bound volumes, pounces on a crimson biology book left to Mrs. Ayres for referral of all those unanswered embarrassing questions about Roman Mythology.

Another searcher has found a will composed entirely of footnotes. He can barely make out one reference. Ah yes! Mr. Howard Lawrence.

Brushing away the cobwebs of a hundred years, a chemistry enthusiast is thrilled to find a page covered with chemical formulas. Decoding them, he is disappointed to have found only a method for curing baldness left to Mr. Henderson by Ernest Bertone.

A sentence scorched on one of the cabinets reads: "I, Richard Widows, want to leave, period."

Two students run eagerly to a mildewed folio entitled Miss Ord's Agenda for Tomorrow, Books I and II, by Pat Bowman. As they turn away, they stumble on a lump which rolls into the light revealing this inscription upon its dome. "I Jay Henninger, leave Mr. Hoffman one pothead."

Perched on a shelf is an abacus into which are carved the words "I Judy Vanderwerf, leave my best wishes and this device to all unmathematically minded students."

Having emptied a filing cabinet, a student sees a crumbled mass of paper wedged in a crack. He pries it loose, smoothes the wrinkles, and reads, "We the 12A Class, leave Mr. Lawrence, Don Kubit, gladly." Declining to read further, they move on to an ancient dust-begrimed desk in the shadowed recesses of an alcove.

Sprawled open atop the desk they find a ledger. Under the first heading, unbalanced accounts, are the following notations:

Item	Dealer	Recipient
5 pairs worn out tennis shoes from 12B Gym	R. Vodicka	Mr. Ralls
1 week's supply blown fuses	L. Sommer	Mr. Herrmann

Flipping pages, they come upon a mimeographed list, edged in doodles, followed by this penciled-in paragraph: "I, Kathy Bidlen, leave these, The Rules and Regulations of Rhodes High, to Miss Palmer."

In a pigeon hole they find a pattern for making short short skirts left by Candy Lee.

Under a pile of dust in the outgoing mail basket is a pair of field glasses with a Christmas tag printed, "To Mr. Henderson, for better observation, from the girls in his chemistry classes."

A student, noticing a loose drawer handle rattling, jerks it open. Before him, drawing its last gasping breath, is a pitiful tiny creature. As its body relaxes in final repose, they discern, tattooed upon its hairy little chest, "Mr. Morris's Zilch."

On hearing a startled exclamation by their guide from the adjoining room, the group hurries to see what new find has been unearthed and are just in time to hear one student say, "Hey, some fellow by the name of John Climaco left this Bunsen burner. It's supposed to be boobytrapped. I'll bet it isn't," he says as he strikes the match.

SCATTERED REMNANTS PICKED UP
BY PASSERSBY:

A Formula for Success in Writing Love Letters in Class by Clara Enderlein

A book of Cerian German for use in future classes, for Mr. Levine.

A Book of Immortal Words

Jim Chaloupka: Wouldn't it be funny if we never finished the year book?

Dick Tannenbaum: Write bigger, write bigger!

David Jackam: I dare you to throw that orange pop!

John Uhrin: Git serious!

Joyce Danczak: What, me study?

Mr. Hicks: If you need a couple of points, you might start on these.

Miss McGinness: What dimensions does an acre have?

Mr. Roberts: If I only had the money to buy a pound of butter.

Mr. Van Nortwick: You sing these spirituals like white people.

Mrs. Cook: Brucie Buell, you can be secretary for today.

Mr. Henderson: I know you know it!

Miss Palmer: When I fly, I always go by airplane.

Miss McGinness: Hutter, you lead, the cheer; Am, are, is, was, were, be, being, been.

Mr. Moran: When I was in the Navy—

Miss Davis: You mean none of you took the 180 Word Dictation?
