JUNIOR PROM

Your Own Special Way

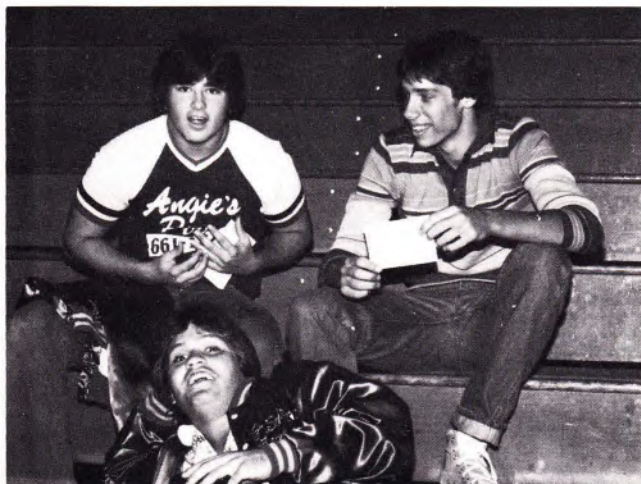

May 11, 1979 . . . Elks Hall

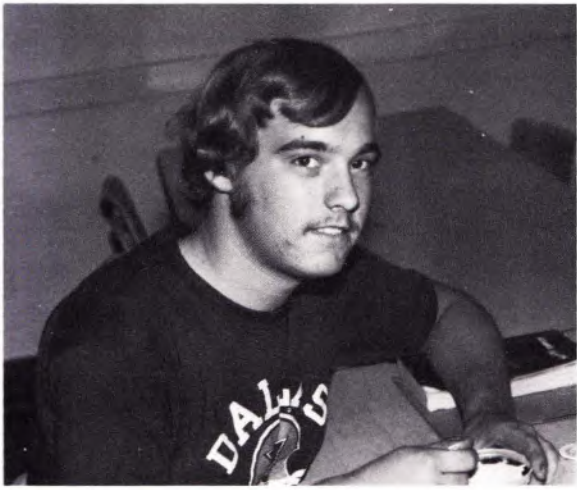

The Junior Prom was memorable for all students who attended. The theme was "Your Own Special Way." The occasion was extra special to the Juniors of "79". The band, Friendly Persuasion, added to the quality of the affair with its own special style. All in all it was a fantastic finale to a perfect junior year.

Dedication

We, the class of 1980, wish to thank you for the years of service you have given us. We take this opportunity to publicly recognize your interest in our class and Rhodes High School. In our opinion, your support and encouragement extended further than the classroom and touched each of us personally.

We will always remember that you had an active role in our extra-curricular activities.

It is for these reasons and numerous others that we, the class of 1980, dedicate this yearbook to Mr. John Bonza.

Dear Graduates —
Congratulations! One of many goals has been achieved and now it is on to others. The faculty hopes that you will utilize habits engendered here to set continuing goals: respect for persons, respect for work, respect for learning. With these tools you can't fail to be successful as responsible human beings, the ultimate goal.

ACTIVITIES

Skating Parties

Caught in action . . .

Hey! I finally got it.

The skating parties were fun experiences to all the people who attended. The bumps and bruises were worth it and the music was great for skating. These parties proved that Rams really know how to do it on ice!

ACADEMIC CHALLENGE

It was good ego boost for us and our school. We went into the competition as underdogs. We really did not expect to win and the first round seemed to confirm this belief.

I felt bad until we started to catch up in the later rounds. I think the fact that the Rhodians in the audience were the largest and loudest group of spectators encouraged our best efforts.

We never knew the score in the last round, and so, we didn't realize that we had won the game. As the audience came to congratulate us, I was more stunned than anything else; later, my feelings changed to joy and pride.
