Rhodes students, especially seniors tend to develop very close relationships with Mr. Croy our "college guy". He helps us when we are confused, and calms us when we were worried. Rhodes seniors owe this man so much for everything he does for us. Special thanks to Mr.Croy.

Letter From the Editor

As my senior year draws to a close, I have been looking back at the year that is now behind us, literally, as I help to put together this yearbook. My intention for this yearbook is to create something that we can be proud of and that we can look back at and see how amazing our high school experience was. I think that we have accomplished this goal. I am proud of us for the intense work that we have done to see this project through. Megan, Beth, and I have proven to be a great team who has worked through all kinds of adversity, working into the wee hours of the morning and dedicating ourselves to this.

So, I hope that you enjoy this yearbook and that you think that it reflects the time that you have spent here at Rhodes. I hope that you hold in your hands something that you will keep and look at with pride, remembering these four years

-Joelle

The weather is changing, becoming more recognizable as summer, and the school has become a buzz. We all feel that the year is almost over and have never been so excited to reach the end of a school year. Greetings between classmates almost always include something about the warmth, graduation, or prom. As we all rush and hold our breath for the end of the year, and commencement, we all should take just a few moments to reflect on all that has happened here at Rhodes. Are we proud of ourselves? Or perhaps could we have done just a little better? We have made friends that will stay with us forever, and learned who we want to stay away from. We have experienced so much. Personal experiences that we learn from, and political experiences that shape our lives. Be excited about graduation, you earned it! Be excited about and enjoy prom! But as you look forward to all these exciting things, do not forget to look back. Learn from mistakes. Never forget where you came from, but also look ahead to where you want to go. Anything can happen.

Graduation Friendship

We're graduating, and we know
Our lives will be different and new;
We're going out into the world,
Our goals and dreams to pursue.

But one thing will never, ever change,
As we go our separate ways;
The friends we've made in school will be
Our friends for all our days.

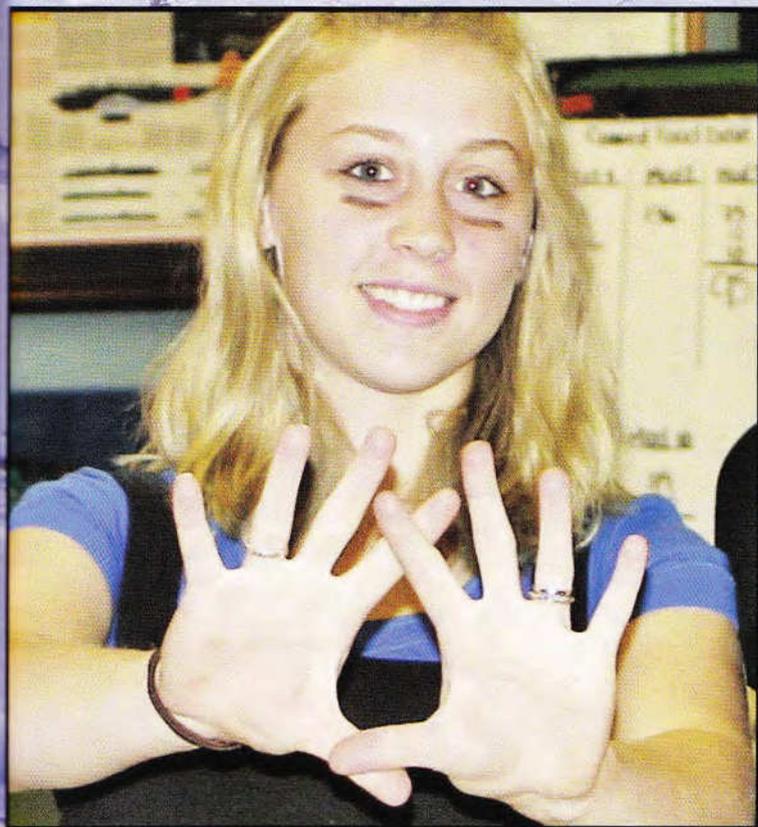

The special ties and attachments we've made,
These bonds will never be broken;
We'll continue to feel that special bond,
Though words may not be spoken.

So it's not "goodbye," but rather "farewell,"
I'll see you again, my friend.
Your friendship means a lot to me,
And it will never end.

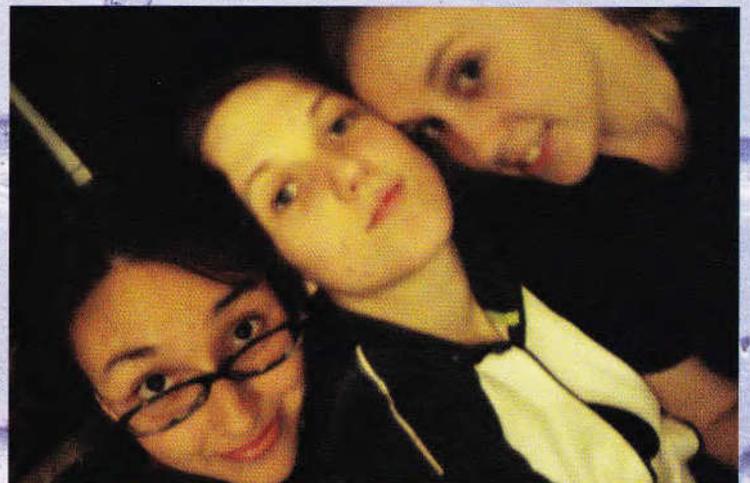

By Joanna Fuchs

"You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own.
And you know what you know. You are the guy who'll decide where to go."

Dr. Seuss

Megan Sturm

this is our time, class of '09

To the class of 2009,

I have a wish for all of us, for our final days here at Rhodes. My wish is that as we walk across the stage on Graduation Day, (or even just walk down the hallway tomorrow) we can do so with all the love and peace we possess. I hope that we can lay down four years worth of resentment, hatred, fear, unkindness, and just plain apathy to say to the person next to us, "It was nice to meet you. I wish you the best."

We have all come from the same place; we began here and we'll end it here, together.

This is our time.

So put aside those high school woes and you might find yourself much lighter than before. Love every second of these golden days and take each moment as a gift. We have risen above and became true upperclassmen. Lastly, remember always that you have more than 250 brothers and sisters in the class of 2009, and we are all here, waiting to help you shine.
