MASTER CHART TEXT LINE-UP

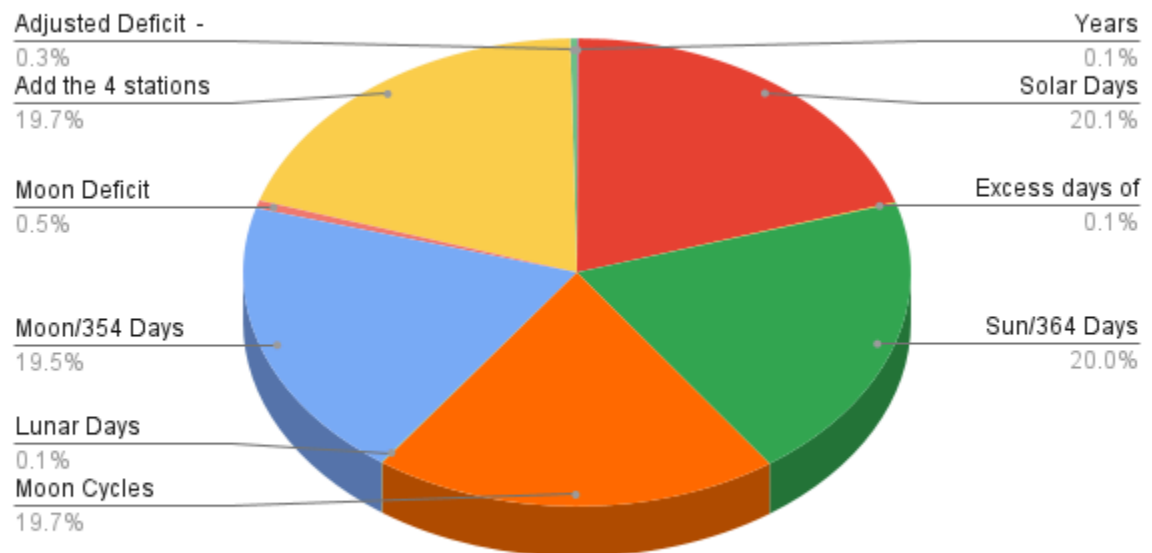

1 Chart: Moon Cycles 1st Moon, Total Days No Drift, Intercalary Days, Alignment, Total

“Timeline of Drift Corrections (2025–2030):

Without intercalary days, the Moon outruns the Sun — these adjustments restore harmony every five years to keep the Jubilee cycle aligned with Enoch’s instructions.

2 Chart: Deficit Pie Chart

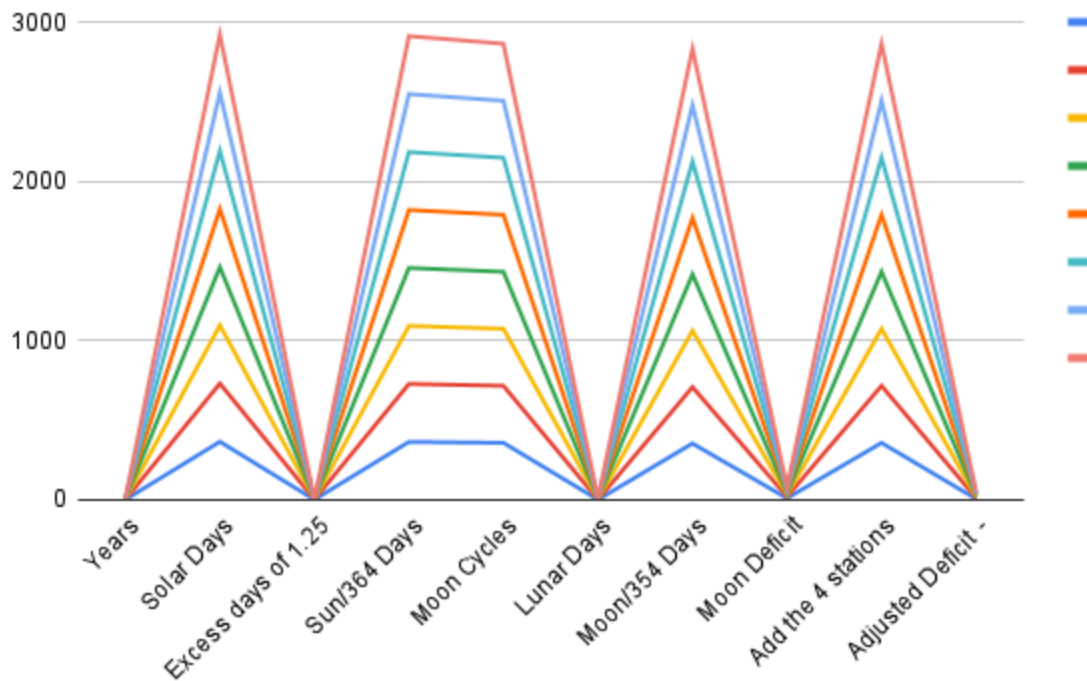

“Breakdown of the Drift Components:

Each slice shows how lunar days, solar days, and unadjusted deficit create imbalance. The ‘Add the 4 Stations’ segment (30 days) re-synchronizes the Moon and Sun, fulfilling Enoch’s calendar law.

Breakdown of the Drift Components:

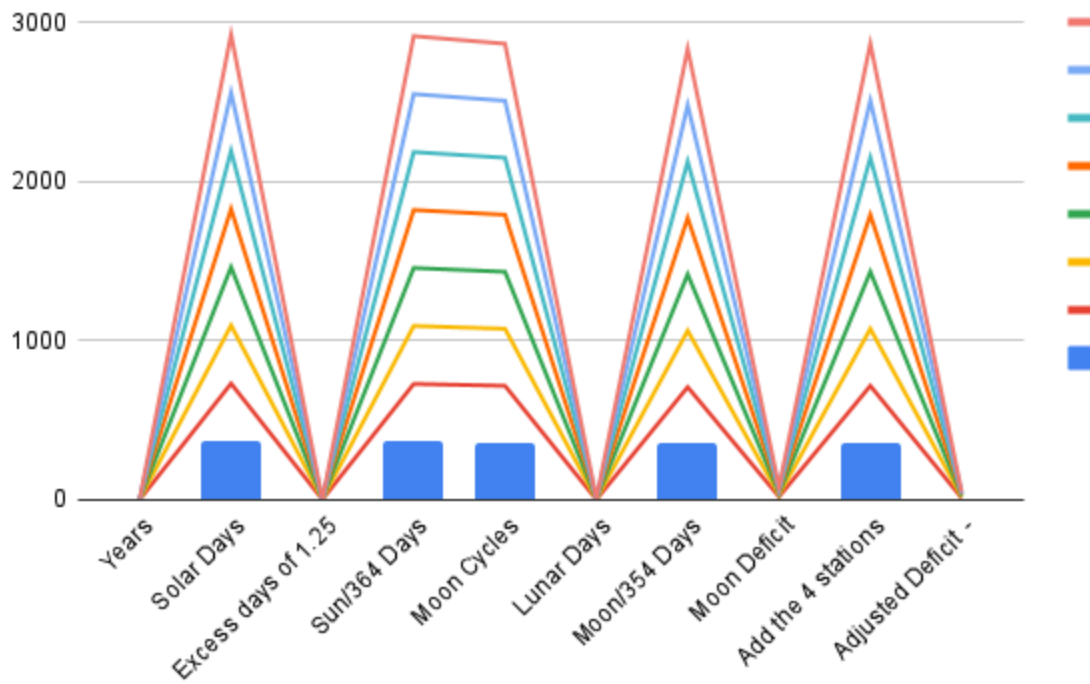

3 Chart: Multi-Line Peaks

“Annual Waves of Misalignment:

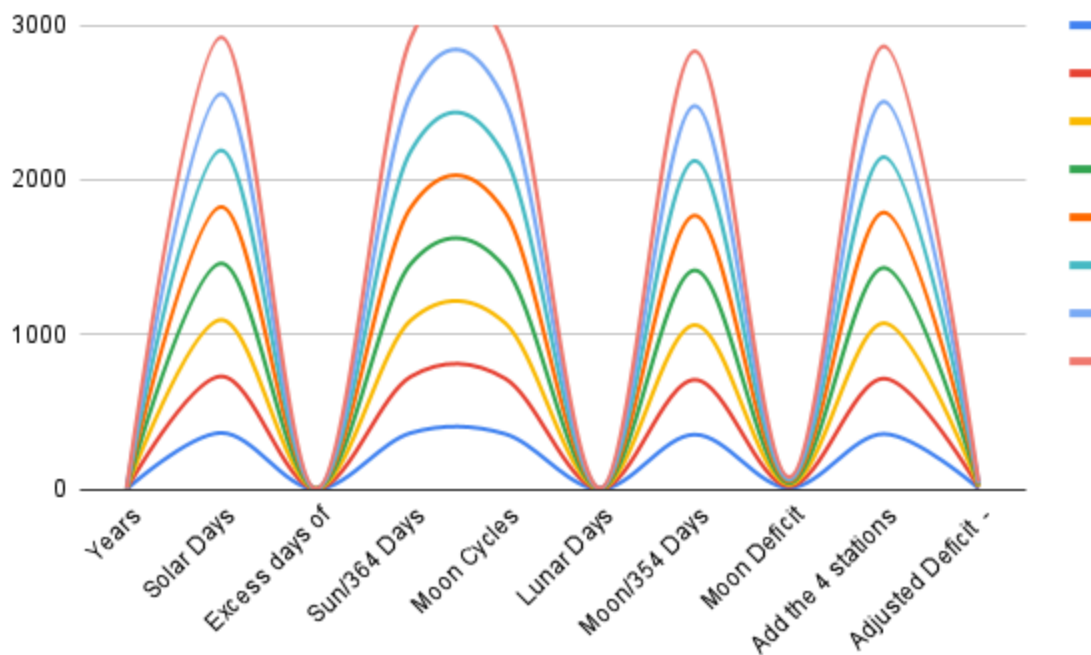

Each peak shows how the deficit compounds over time. Without regular correction, the Moon’s cycle drifts further off the Sun’s fixed position, disturbing the seasons — as Enoch foretold.

Annual Waves of Misalignment:

“Impact of Intercalary Correction:

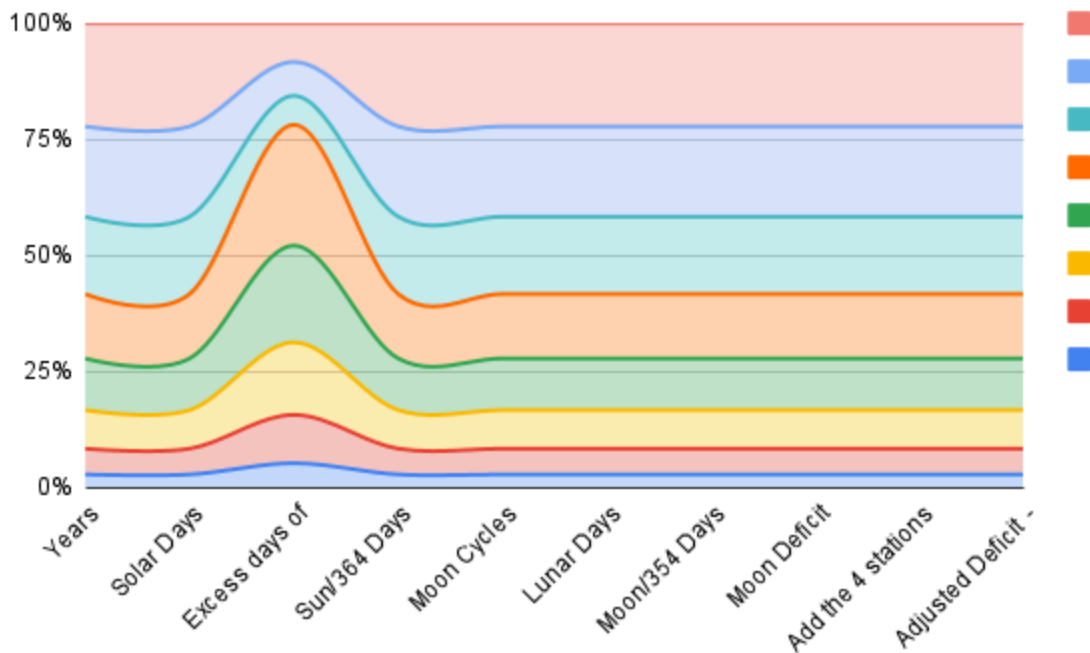

The blue bars represent the inserted ‘Stations’ or days. These stop the runaway drift seen in the lines, flattening the cycle back to Enoch’s balanced pattern. Impact of Intercalary Correction:

“Visualizing the Natural Cycle:

When adjusted properly, the Sun, Moon, and seasons flow in smooth, predictable waves. Enoch’s method preserves this natural order. Visualizing the Natural Cycle:

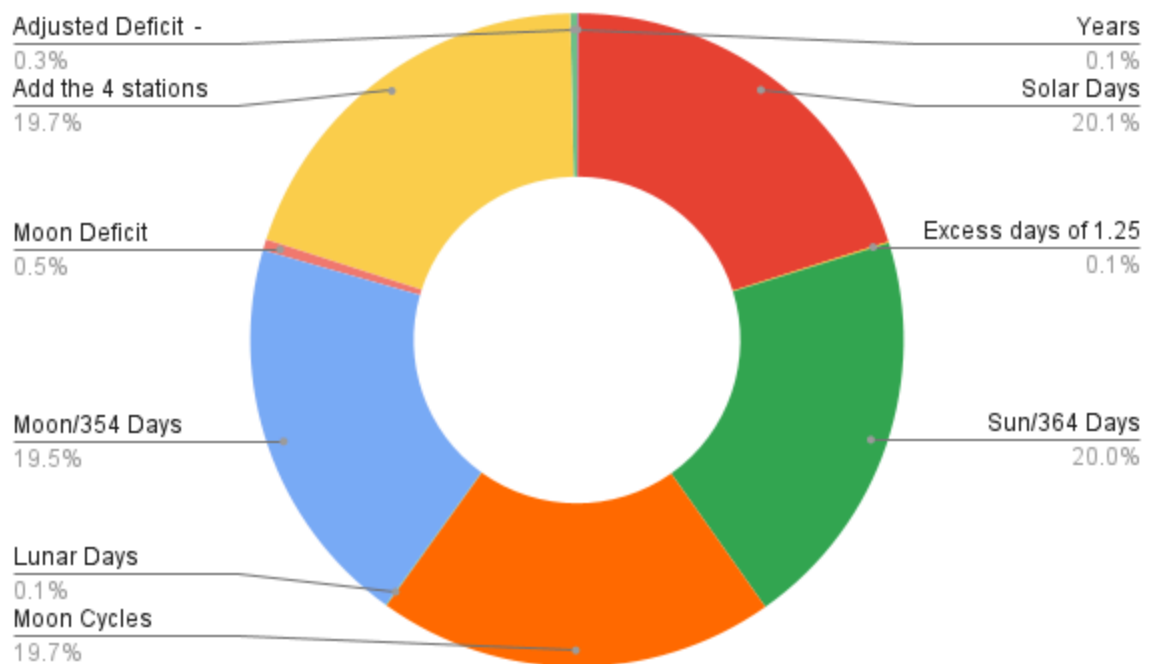

6 Chart: Solar Year, Lunar Year, and Adjusted Deficit

“Accumulated Drift Over Years:

Each step shows how the lunar and solar calendars separate. The cyan bars show the adjusted deficit when the ‘Add the 4 Stations’ method is neglected, proving the need for the 30-day fix. Accumulated Drift Over Years:

7 Chart: Total Days No Drift, Intercalary Days, Elignment

“Jubilee Drift vs. Gregorian Drift:

This confirms that without the extra days, drift builds up just like the Gregorian calendar’s known error. The 30-day correction resets the count, preserving Jubilee integrity and seasonal truth. Jubilee Drift vs. Gregorian Drift:

30 Day
Correction

Early Springs, Late Springs, Indian Summers, and Early Winters, all these familiar phrases expose what the Gregorian system tries to mask: repeated misalignments of God's appointed times.

The truth is simple: what we call 'weather quirks' are really signs of drift. By ignoring the divine order, we misplace the Feasts, confuse the seasons, and disrupt Earth's balance.

It's time to call these what they are: Misalignments — and restore the calendar as Enoch commands.

This is more than numbers on a chart, this is proof that Earth's seasons, Feasts, and climate obey a divine clockwork.

Early Springs, Indian Summers, and sudden Winters are not accidents, they are warnings that humanity's calendar has drifted away from the Creator's design.

The Smith Jubilee Formula and Enoch's 30-Day Correction restore this balance. When we realign the Moon, Sun, and stars, we realign ourselves with the prophetic order of time.

It's time to stop calling these misalignments 'normal' and start restoring the sacred calendar as it was meant to be, for the land, for the Feasts, and for the generations to come.
