

LITTLE EXPLORER'S

March Newsletter

what we will be learning

This term we are exploring cultural differences and celebrating special events from around the world. As Eid approaches on the 19th and 20th, we will be introducing the children to simple, meaningful experiences linked to Ramadan and Eid. During this time, we will share a gentle, age-appropriate story inspired by Ramadan and Eid, focusing on themes of kindness, family, and celebration. We will be focusing on feelings, sharing, and understanding that some families have special traditions. We will be learning that during Ramadan, some families fast during the day and come together to eat and celebrate at sunset. The children will have the opportunity to add handprints or fingerprints to a class tree to represent caring and sharing, reflecting the values of Ramadan.

Updates

You may have noticed a few new faces recently, which has caused some confusion. Our room staff are Taylor, Larissa, Melissa and Sophie. Thank you for your understanding.

Reminders

please send your child with a warm coat for cool or rainy mornings. A labelled sun hat is helpful as the days warm up. Make sure all clothing is clearly labelled to avoid lost items.

A spare set of clothes is appreciated for outdoor and messy play.
