Abbas Alimorad, MA, MPed, PMP is an international keynote speaker, executive leader, author, educator, executive coach, and strategic advisor dedicated to helping individuals and organizations lead through change with confidence, resilience, and purpose.

After arriving in Canada as a refugee, Abbas transformed personal adversity into a lifelong commitment to leadership, education, and service. Today, he brings more than 20 years of executive leadership experience across government, healthcare, higher education, and the private sector, leading complex organizational transformation initiatives, governance programs, and strategic projects.

Abbas currently serves as a Senior Project Management Consultant with Global Affairs Canada and teaches project management at Western University. He is President of the Project Management Institute (PMI) Southwestern Ontario Chapter, serves on the Board of Directors for the Strathroy Middlesex General Hospital Foundation, and contributes to the Honours Bachelor of Commerce Program Advisory Committee at Fanshawe College. He also contributed to PMI's Risk Management in Portfolios, Programs, and Projects: A Practice Guide.

As the author of From Displacement to Leadership: How Adversity Shapes Extraordinary Leaders, Abbas shares his remarkable journey from displacement in Iraq to executive leadership in Canada, offering practical lessons on resilience, adaptability, leadership, and overcoming adversity. His powerful storytelling, combined with actionable leadership frameworks, has inspired audiences across North America.

Through keynote presentations, executive coaching, leadership development programs, and consulting, Abbas empowers leaders to embrace change, build high-performing teams, and transform challenges into opportunities for lasting impact.

His mission is simple: to help people discover that extraordinary leadership is often born from life's greatest challenges.
