PENTECOST SUNDAY

Today we hear two versions of how the Holy Spirit came upon the apostles. From Acts, we hear the Pentecost event, when the Holy Spirit descended in a maelstrom of wind and fire enabled the apostles to speak in languages from around the world. In John's Gospel, Jesus gently breathes upon the disciples, imparting peace and the Holy Spirit upon them. Paul writes of the spiritual gifts the Holy Spirit brings. The responsorial psalm and sequence invite us to call out for the Holy Spirit, who indeed renews the earth and all of us on the face of it.

Need Not be Present to Win

Did you know that Catholics can make an Act of Spiritual Communion?

When unable to receive Holy Communion, pray the prayer below:

A Prayer for Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love you above all things and I desire to receive you in my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive you sacramentally, Come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace you as if you were already there and unite myself wholly to you. Never permit me to be separated from you.

Stewardship Reflection

That through gratitude and generosity, we learn to open our heart and invite the Holy Spirit into our life! “To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good.” 1 Corinthians 12:7 To receive the gifts of the Holy Spirit you must open your heart and invite Him in! Ask the Holy Spirit to guide your thoughts, words and actions every day! Be grateful for all the gifts God has given you! Regardless of our individual circumstances, God has given all of us many blessings. What we do with those gifts is our gift back to God! By generously sharing everything we have and everything we are, we become more “God-centered” and less “self-centered” and our lives truly reflect God’s light, love and mercy.

The Solemnity of Pentecost (Cycle A)

The Solemnity of the Pentecost marks the end of the Easter Season paving the way for the ordinary time in the Liturgical Season of the Church. There are two reasons why the celebration of the Descent of the Holy Spirit on the Apostles remains significant today. First, it is a fulfillment of the promise of Jesus that his and the Father's Spirit shall be sent to the apostles and eventually to us. Moreover, the Spirit will be the one to guide and give us courage to continue the mission of Jesus.

Promises are particularly important to us. We promise many things in life but more importantly when we make permanent commitments in life like marriage, parenting, religious life, and priesthood. Sad to say, we know that some promises are eventually broken especially when we believe that it is only because of our efforts that promises are fulfilled. Instead, we realize that whatever promises we make, especially those that are seen as a life commitment, can only be fulfilled with the help of the Holy Spirit. It is because the Holy Spirit has no other agenda except to lead us to the good who is none other than Jesus. At times, the problem lies in our inability to discern the promptings of the Spiritual gifts and thus, we end up reneging on our earlier commitments.

Jesus promised the gift of the Holy Spirit to his disciples, and to us. The Holy Spirit brings with it spiritual gifts.

The gift of WISDOM, COUNCIL, UNDERSTANDING, FORTITUDE, KNOWLEDGE, PIETY, AND FEAR OF THE LORD. Jesus the Christ, encouraged us to pray to God his Father for the coming of the Holy Spirit into our lives. When Jesus lives in us through the Spirit we become witness to Jesus. As Jesus says in the gospel reading, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you." We witness to Jesus not so much by what we say but by how we live, by living lives that are full of the fruits of the Spirit.

Equally important in Pentecost is the courage that the Spirit can give us if we are open and generous enough to receive the Spirit in our life. Just look at what happened to the apostles. They all fled from Jesus during his passion for fear of their lives. But upon the descent of the Spirit of Jesus onto them, these fearful apostles were gradually transformed. If before they were scared by the religious authorities, with the Holy Spirit, they became confident in the mission given to them by Jesus.

They felt joy amid their suffering in fulfillment of what Jesus said regarding the difficulties his apostles would have to endure. The final sign of their courage was clear in the kind of death they suffered. Except for John, the apostles died a martyr's death. Their self-offering as inspired by the Holy Spirit assured them that following the will of Jesus was more important than their lives. They have been amply rewarded as they are now citizens of heaven and thereby, serve as our intercessors to the Lord who is both risen and ascended.

On Pentecost we receive the Spirit of hope. As one song says, "There is a Balm in Gilead, ... sometimes I feel discouraged and think my works in vain, but then the Holy Spirit revives my soul again."

The Holy Spirit is planting fruits and it's gifts of amazing diversity in the hearts of God's people. Like the graces of the sacraments, they are real, but they are not magic. On this great feast of Pentecost, may we truly welcome the Holy Spirit in our lives and recognize our great transformation, something that we never imagined could happen to us. We may, then, end with this Pentecost prayer:

Come Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful and kindle in them the fire of your love. Send forth your Spirit and they shall be created. And You shall renew the face of the earth. O, God, who by the light of the Holy Spirit, did instruct the hearts of the faithful, grant that by the same Holy Spirit we may be truly wise and ever enjoy His consolations, Through Christ Our Lord, Amen.
