TWENTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

When Jesus noticed how the guests chose the places of honor,
he told them a parable.

The virtue of humility is extolled throughout today's readings. Sirach teaches, "Humble yourself the more, the greater you are, and you will find favor with God" (Sirach 3:18). The psalmist writes that God makes a home for the poor, orphans, widows, prisoners, and the forsaken. Though not directly mentioning humility, the author of Hebrews alludes to the signs of the old and new covenants, which leave us humbled. Finally, Jesus teaches the Pharisees that God exalts those who humble themselves. May God's world inspire us to embrace humility.

Did you know that Catholics can make an Act of Spiritual Communion?

When unable to receive Holy Communion, pray the prayer below:

A Prayer for Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love you above all things and I desire to receive you in my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive you sacramentally, Come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace you as if you were already there and unite myself wholly to you. Never permit me to be separated from you. Amen

Stewardship Reflection

That generous giving means sharing with those who cannot repay us. "Rather, when you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; blessed indeed will you be because of their inability to repay you." Luke 14:13-14 One of the main principles of living a stewardship lifestyle is to give without expecting anything in return. This is difficult for some to comprehend in our "consumerist" culture that we live in. This is even difficult for many parish communities that have become heavily dependent on parish fundraising events to support the mission and ministry of their local parish. Generally speaking, at a parish fundraiser, you pay money and receive something in return, it's just a financial transaction. This is opposed to our parish offertory at Holy Mass, where you unite your sacrifice with Jesus', renewing our covenant relationship with Him.

NEXT WEEK'S SECOND COLLECTION

On the weekend of September 7th, parishes in the Archdiocese will host a Second Collection to support the University of St. Thomas and the Catholic University of America. This special collection provides vital scholarship funds for students at the UST and CUA.

The Journey to Second Chance Ministry will meet on Wednesday, September 3rd at 6:00pm in the Harris Center Auditorium.

Some reflections inspired by online copyrighted

Twenty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time (Year C)

The common theme of today's readings is the importance practicing humility and avoiding self-glorification or pride. Humility is one of the virtues that enables us first to accept others as God's children, our brothers, and sisters, redeemed by the blood of Jesus. The virtue of humility also encourages us to offer them loving and sacrificial service through acts of charity, mercy, and forgiveness. Humility allows us to accept ourselves just as we are, before God, with all our defects and faults. Humility, therefore, prompts us to be thankful to God for giving us blessings, talents, and capabilities, for our own use, and for serving our brothers and sisters in Christ. And for giving Him glory and strengthening us every day with His grace. It is humility which opens our eyes, ears, hearts, and minds to the poor, the needy, the disadvantaged, and the marginalized people in our society, thus practicing Christ's option for the poor. Today's Gospel teaches us that we must act with humility and see ourselves as the servants of the community rather than those whom the community might feel honored to serve.

We need to practice humility in our personal and social life: In our personal lives we grow into humility as we come to realize, as I said last week, that everything, we have is a loving gift from God and, therefore, we have no reason to elevate ourselves above others. True humility requires that we neither overestimate us nor underestimate our worth. We must admit the truths that we are sinners, that we do not know everything, and that we do not always act properly. Nevertheless, we must also recognize that we are made in the image and likeness of God, and that we are called to help build the kingdom of God with our God-given gifts. We are of value, not because of those gifts, but because we are loved by God as His children and redeemed by the precious shedding of blood by His son Jesus.

In our social life, such a conviction should lead us to associate ourselves with the so-called marginalized or "lower classes" of the society — even the outcasts, and our enemies, because they too are the children of the same God. This change of attitude will in turn, change our social attitudes. We will begin to connect with and serve the homeless, the handicapped, the elderly, and the impoverished — the "street people" of the world with the love of God. Our family life also becomes holier and more enjoyable when the husband and wife, in all humility, accept themselves as they are, accept each other as God's personal gift to them as a couple-made-one, and show the generosity and good will to serve each other, forgive each other, and offer their lives prayerfully and sacrificially for the welfare of their children.

For Jesus, the daily human needs of the poor are the personal responsibility of every authentic Christian, who proclaims to be a humble believer. In addition, humility is the mother not only of peace, but also of many of the other virtues, like obedience, fear, reverence, patience, modesty, meekness, and gentleness. The first reading, taken from the book of Sirach, reminds us that if we are humble, we will find favor with God, and others will love us more fully.

The second reading, taken from Hebrews, gives another reason for us to be humble, contrasting the Old Testament God of Power and majesty with the New Testament God. His only begotten and Incarnate Son, Jesus, who has appeared to us in humility, taught us the way to the Father, to be a glorified community with Christ and the Father, the angels, and all the saved in the new heavenly Jerusalem. The Incarnate Son of God humbled Himself, taking on human flesh and living our lives so that he might die to save us. He invites his followers to learn how to live from him because he is "meek and humble of heart." Saint Paul, the evangelist reminds us that Jesus was lowly, particularly in his suffering and death for our salvation, so we should be like him that we may be exalted with him at the resurrection of the righteous. Paul implies that we must follow Christ's example of humility in our relationships with the less fortunate members of our society.

In today's Gospel, Jesus teaches us the practical benefits of humility, connecting it with the common wisdom about dining etiquette. Jesus advises the guests to go to the lowest place instead of seeking places of honor so that the host may give them the place they deserve. Jesus' words concerning the seating of guests at a wedding banquet should prompt us to honor those whom others ignore, because if we are generous and just in our dealings with those in need, we can be confident of the Lord's blessings, and we will be welcomed through the narrow door. On the other hand, if we act out of pride and selfishness—we can be sure that our efforts will come to nothing and there will be wailing and grinding of teeth.
