TWENTY-NINTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“GIVE... TO GOD THE THINGS THAT ARE GOD’S.”

MATTHEW 22:21

Two famous rulers dominate the readings today: Cyrus the Great and Tiberius Caesar.

In the first reading we hear Isaiah extol Cyrus as God’s anointed. Cyrus was not even Jewish, but he liberated the Jewish people when he conquered Babylon, so Isaiah considered him sent by God. In the Gospel, Jesus distinguishes God’s role from Caesar’s when asked by the Pharisees about paying taxes. As we listen to the word of God, let us think of what belongs to God in our lives.

KPC 138 CANCER AWARENESS

Pick up a pink ribbon and information on Cancer Awareness from the basket in the vestibule of the Church. These tokens will be available throughout the month of October.

Stewardship Reflection

Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's." Matthew 22:21 Everything we are and everything we have belongs to God. We aren't "owners" of anything, we are merely "stewards" of the gifts God has given each of us. All God is asking is that we give back a portion of what He gave us. This is the essence of Stewardship. God should be our first priority in everything. All else comes second, especially our money.

ATTENDANCE

Attendance on October 10th & 11th was 201. The 7:30am Livestream was viewed online by 317. Please join us on Facebook, or bring a friend and come worship with us in the church. You must wear a mask to attend all services in the church.

Pastor's Reflection

Give to God what belongs to God

This statement, “Give to God what belongs to God...” in Matthew 22:21 is amazingly simple to understand upon first hearing but exceedingly difficult to implement. We protect and defend at all cost when someone questions our integrity, prestige and intelligence when asked about our understanding of what belongs to God. Many of us see what belongs to God in material ways and so we give financial and material assistance to churches and other agencies. While not negating the material needs of the proclamation of the Word of God, Jesus today shares with us what is important and belongs to God.

There is an Arabic adage that says: “I fight my brother, my brother and I fight a friend, my brother and I team up with a friend to fight an enemy.” This statement is realized in the gospel reading today. Jesus uses this adage in the story of paying taxes to the Emperor to teach what is important to God. He has come to Jerusalem for the celebration of the Passover Feast. With his teachings, he has questioned the moral and spiritual conscience of the religious leaders and authorities. The hostilities towards Jesus reached the boiling point when he cleansed the temple and charged the chief priests and elders of making “my father’s house a den of thieves instead of a house of prayer” (Mt. 21:13). These activities are happening during the Passover week and visitors from all over the Empire have come to Jerusalem for the celebrations. The atmosphere was charged, and Jesus’ vibrant preaching and actions did not offer any relief.

They had had enough of this Galilean preacher and would rather see him silenced than continue his escapade. All attempts to set him up or implicate him with something have failed. He has outwitted them at every one of their game plans. Jesus continues to anger the Pharisees and other leaders by using parables to tell them that they are losing the Kingdom of God.

So, the Pharisees came up with a brilliant, “bullet proof”, trap that seemed to have no escape route. They teamed up with their archenemy, the Herodians, to trap Jesus on the question of the Census Tax. This approach is significant because the Pharisees hated the Romans who were ruling Israel. The Herodians, however, were favorable towards the Romans and cooperated with them. That the Pharisees and Herodians teamed up against a common enemy, Jesus, is where the Arabic adage is realized. They left Jesus with no room for escape, so they thought. He would be in trouble with either group on this question.

Their malice prevented them from realizing that inherent in the question they presented is its own answer. The coin in question is a Roman coin with the image of the emperor and has an inscription which reads “Tiberius Caesar, noble son of the divine Augustus, high priest”. So, in line with the prohibitions written in the first Commandment, the Pharisees and many Jews were against images as well as referring to Caesar Augustus as divine. However, despite their hatred for the tax, they still had to carry the Caesar Augustus coin with them to pay the tax.

Jesus realized the twofold implications of the question and while allowing for limited cooperation with the Romans, ruled out cheating God of what rightfully belongs to him. In other words, since the coin has the emperor’s emblem and inscription on it, it belongs to him. But you should not forget to give to God what rightfully belongs to God, namely: love, prayer, sacrifice, and obedience.

In the second reading, Paul, in his letter to the Thessalonians (1-5), reminded the Church that by their baptism into the triune God their lives were intertwined with not just their own community but others as well. They have been called to share in the mission of God, the father of Israel who anointed Cyrus, the Persian King, to free Israel from the Babylonian bondage (Isaiah 45 1-6). This same God is the Father of Jesus Christ who Paul presented to the Church.

With indirect reference to the payment of census tax to the emperor, Paul tells us that the characteristics of the community of believers who proclaim the gospel are faith, love, and hope. Faith is demonstrated by action; love is a labor fraught with difficulties, and hope assures the believer that Christ lives and will return.

With the story of the Census tax and Paul’s Thessalonian letter we heard what belongs to God. What belongs to God are fitting praise and service. We are to return these to God with conviction of heart through love, prayer, sacrifice, and obedience.
