TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Today's readings can be quite unpleasant. Envious instigators plot revenge against a righteous soul. James explains that greed and envy are at the root of conflict between people. Jesus again warns his disciples that soon he will be handed over to men intent on killing him. But there is a loving Christian response to all this. Listening to today's readings, note the difference selflessness can make.

Did you know that Catholics can make an Act of Spiritual Communion?

When unable to receive Holy Communion, pray the prayer below:

A Prayer for Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.

I love you above all things and I desire to receive you in my soul.

Since I cannot at this moment receive you sacramentally, Come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace you as if you were already there and unite myself wholly to you. Never permit me to be separated from you. Amen.

Stewardship Reflection

That through our service and our sacrifice we may grow closer to Jesus and help others to know the love and care of Our Lord. "If anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and the servant of all." Mark 9:35 Jesus teaches us that we are called to love one another. Love involves sacrifice. Sacrifice is a word that many of us don't like to hear. We think it means that we must give up something that we want. However, the literal meaning of sacrifice is "to make holy," from the words "sacer" = sacred and "facere" = to make. In other words, we make our lives holy by sharing our gifts in the service of God.

The Monastery of the Infant Jesus is a monastery of 21 Dominican cloistered Nuns located in Lufkin, Texas. They are inviting young women (18-35 years old) who are interested in a life of prayer to learn more about their community. Please contact the Vocations Director at (936) 634-4233.

Decrease So Others Can Increase

Happy Sunday! What must I decrease in order for someone else to increase?

This question today goes against what the world teaches us about increase. The world does not encourage us to decrease but promotes increase. The world encourages and promotes pleasure, lifestyle, and excess.

- How many of us eat more food than we need?
- How many of us have more clothes than we need? Do we have closets full of clothes but still regularly buy new ones?

Brothers and sisters, please remember...it doesn't matter very much how you look to people on the outside; what's in your soul is far more important. Remember that Jesus Himself had a very simple appearance. The Bible says in Isaiah 53:2 that Jesus "had no stately form or majesty that we would look at Him, nor an appearance that we would take pleasure in Him" but He was magnificently handsome on the inside.

- How many of us have excess possessions?
- How many of us consume, in excess, TV, video games, social media such as Facebook and Twitter, or Netflix, or texting? Could we use some of that time in prayer? To communicate with God? To help someone in need?
- How many of us excessively spend money?

And these are but a few excesses where we are continuously trying to increase.

The world also encourages us to seek glory...for us to seek greatness. Some of us compare ourselves with others and desire their praise. The appetite for glory and greatness seems to be inbred in us. Who doesn't cherish the ambition to be "somebody" whom others admire rather than a "nobody"?

But just to be clear, desires for increase are not necessarily bad but I bring them up to give you a backdrop on the readings today and Jesus' teaching. The disciples were just like us in today's Gospel reading from Mark. They were concerned and arguing about which one of them was the greatest. They were focused on who was number one. They really picked a bad time to have this discussion about who was at the top. The reason it was a bad time because Jesus was telling them about his upcoming death and resurrection. This is the second time in Mark's gospel that Jesus tells his disciples about his upcoming death and resurrection. He knows that soon He will have to suffer in order to bring salvation to the world. He says in verse 31, "The Son of Man is to be handed over to men and they will kill him, and three days after his death the Son of Man will rise." This is profound. What kind of feelings would you have if you knew you were about to die? What kinds of things would you be worried about if you knew your end was near? How did the disciples respond? They didn't. They didn't understand what Jesus was talking about. Mark says "But they did not understand the saying, and they were afraid to question him." I imagine they didn't understand because the disciples expected Jesus, the Messiah, their God, to 'rule' like a king, like King David, and didn't expect him to serve others and die (like a slave). They couldn't imagine him being killed because he was God who was sent to 'save the day'. They didn't understand and consequently dismissed that he was foretelling his death and resurrection. They instead were focused on which one of them could ride on the coattails of his greatness.

How did Jesus respond? Jesus used this opportunity to teach them about decrease. Jesus taught them about decrease by demonstrating that they need to serve the lowly, the people who are in need. The gospel says, then he sat down, called the Twelve, and said to them, "if anyone wishes to be first, he shall be the last of all and servant of all." It then says he took a child and placed it in their midst. He used a child because children had no status in ancient times. They had no say so. They didn't have any kind of weight or status until they were considered an adult.

So Jesus showed that the disciples can have true power when they can decrease and serve the lowly, like the child. It is when they serve the lowly, they receive him, & when they receive him, they receive the true power in God. The gospel says, "Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me; and whoever receives me, receives not me but him who sent me."

Jesus, himself, is our model. In Matthew 20:28 it says, "He came not to be served, but to serve." The apostle Paul said to the Philippians in 2:7, that Jesus "emptied Himself by taking the form of a servant and being born in the likeness of men." Jesus lowered himself (He whose place is at the right hand of God the Father) and took on our lowly nature that He might raise us up and clothe us in his divine nature.

In other words, Jesus decreased so that we might increase.

Another great example of 'decreasing so others can increase' is our Pope, Pope Francis.

I read an article about the Pope a few years ago in the NY Times. It is titled: A Humble Pope, Challenging the World. The article did a great job about describing the changes or decreases that the Pope has made since his election.

One of his first changes was that the Pope decided to live in the Vatican guesthouse instead of the Vatican Palace.

He also made a change with his morning Mass. He does the Mass with gardeners, janitors, and Vatican office workers in his audience. Previous Popes would have Cardinals and dignitaries in their audience. The article goes on to say that he preaches, without notes, as a simple parish priest. The Pope has made it a priority to focus on the poor and those in need. He has made taking care of refugees as a priority. He will house a Syrian refugee family in the Vatican. He has asked the world to do the same for refugees. He has also challenged the world to end hunger by 2025. What a lofty goal. Our Pope has been effective because he is humble. The lowly and those in need have been increasing because the Pope is humble, and he has decreased. He has not let his status as Pope, or his worldwide fame get in the way of serving those who are most in need.

If we want to be filled with God's life and power, then we need to empty ourselves of everything which stands in the way — pride, self-seeking glory, vanity, excesses, etc.

And as I said earlier, there is nothing wrong with increasing if we do it for God's glory.

God wants us empty vessels so he can fill them with his own glory, power, and love. Are you ready to humble yourself and to serve others as Jesus did and as the Pope is doing?

I pray that we can all serve those who are the most vulnerable members in our society. I pray that we can serve those who are not in a position to serve themselves. Jesus assures us, in the readings today, that when we serve those in need that we are serving Him.
