Our organization has a structured process to review Form 990, ensuring transparency, accuracy, and board engagement. Every member of our Board of Directors receives training on the purpose, content, and compliance requirements of Form 990 as part of our ongoing board development. We conduct a semi-annual "mock" Form 990 review to assess our financial reporting and identify any potential issues well before year-end. This review involves the Finance key staff, who examine financial statements, program expenditures, and governance practices to ensure consistency and compliance with IRS requirements. Findings from the mock review are presented to the full Board for discussion and approval, ensuring that all board members understand the Form 990 prior to its filing. This process supports internal audit practices and reinforces accountability across our leadership team.

Part and Line Number: Part VI Line 15

The Executive Director's compensation was established and approved by the organization's independent Board of Directors. The Executive Director was not present for or involved in any discussions or decisions regarding their compensation. The Board conducted a review of comparable compensation data from similarly sized nonprofit organizations with comparable missions, geographic service areas, and annual budgets. This included reviewing publicly available Form 990 filings and compensation benchmarks relevant to organizations providing housing stability, eviction prevention, and community-based services. The Board evaluated the Executive Director's qualifications, scope of responsibilities, organizational growth, and expanded program services when determining reasonable compensation. The deliberation and approval process was documented contemporaneously in Board meeting minutes, including the comparability data reviewed, the decision rationale, and the final compensation determination. This process ensures that compensation is reasonable, appropriate, and in compliance with IRS intermediate sanctions and nonprofit governance best practices.
