Spotlights

A Howl From The Hilltop: We here in Howler land are excited to announce we are starting a podcast! Each episode we will be interviewing folks from the area in order to throw a spotlight on everything from things to do, to causes to get involved in, to neat little hidden spots to check out. If you would like to be on, and talk about whatever you feel like the community need to know about, shoot us a message!

Monthly Board Game Night: This month we are unveiling our newest community night. A board game night has been far and away our most requested type of event, so we aim to please! So if you've been sitting at home, wishing you had someone to play games with, why not come out to the Sanctuary one evening each month and throw down. You are of course more than welcome to bring your own games, but if you don't have any, never fear, we will have some on hand ready for players of all stripes to enjoy.

Music at the Sanctuary: With the death of places like Off the Wagon, Head on the Door, and Bombers, there really isn't a dedicated venue to underground music, such as punk and heavy metal. Thankfully we have the Sanctuary however. If you haven't checked them out before, this is a great month to start, as there are three rad shows happening. For a mere ten bucks you can get hours of live music. You might even have you wristband placed on your wrist by Bob of the Howlers if he's working the door that night.
