Business: 1616 House

It is rare to walk in the door and to so palpably feel the love the owners have for a space. But that holds true with the house at 1616 S. Perry. This once vacant, and left to ruin home, has been lovingly restored to its original beauty. It is now an event space for folks looking to have events in a luxurious locale with scads of historic charm. It is so fantastic to see a home left abandoned get new life, now we just need to get more of Montgomery to do the same! For more check out the1616house.com

Art: The Art of Meghan Clemm

Many folks will know Meghan Clemm as the person behind the camera for their most treasured events, such as weddings or maternity shoots. But beyond that where you aware that she also does fine art photography? She does, and it's fantastic. Often ethereal, frequently whimsical, always haunting. You can see her fine art account on Instagram at: m.clemm

Music: Original Mustard Mag

If you hadn't guessed, we have a special love for zines, guides, and diy information slinging. We also love the punk scene, and that is why we love Original Mustard as much as we do. Put out by Pete Uke, it is a labor of love for our little scene that punches outside its weight class. A low level music mag for low level people is their motto, and we love it. Issue 3 just dropped, check it out at: originalmustardmag.wixsite.com/originalmustard
