SPOTLIGHTS

Business: Hilltop Market Day

July 17th we're having our biggest event to date. We will have disc golf, corn hole, music, Moore's Food Truck, and tons of vendors such as:

Anything Sews, Lorraine's Bake Shop, Collection by Raquel, Eng Land Honey, Brandon Rawlinson Art Divine Vines and Decor, Simple Kimmie Art, Aqualime Natural Skincare, Star Peaces Art, Wolf and Moon Jewelry, KaitKreates Art, Teresa Makes and Bakes, Lyra Creations, and Ms Craft Princess Greeting Cards.

Art: Armory Learning Arts Center

We love art deco style, and one of the best examples of it in the area is the Armory building. But that is only the smallest of reasons to love them. Where else can you take a class on watercolors, pottery, photography, fencing, corset making, ukulele, blues guitar, zumba, tango, or scads of other topics? They have classes geared towards both kids and adults, as well as this month offering free classic movies to come watch out on the lawn! Check them out at 1018 Madison Ave.

Music: The Plug Uglies

The Plug Uglies are a social club that supports punk and metal music, with chapters located across the Southeast. Montgomery has one of the larger chapters, and their members have long been integral to helping keep the underground music scene alive. Members of that group are directly behind the show on the 17th, and the Punk Rock Prom on the 24th for example.
