HELPING YOU ACHIEVE A BETTER BOTTOM-LINE

The two-day Manufacturing Game® workshop allows the front-line workforce and management to not only hear and see the company's reliability plan, but to "do it" in a simulated environment so that they can truly understand the need for improved reliability at their site and recognize their role in the process. And the workshop provides a chance to put the concepts into practice...not in a year or a few months or even a few days, but immediately.

PARTICIPANTS WILL

- learn the importance of reliability
- learn the need for integrating department functions
- promote work-centered team accomplishments
- identify the "reliability and profitability" trail while taking into consideration constraints on people's time and environmental and safety issues
