

IDS-Please ask them to imagine a world where every individual takes a stand against domestic and sexual violence, not just through words but through actions. Each of these fundraising ideas represents a unique thread in the larger fabric of community support, weaving together a narrative of hope, resilience, and transformation. As they consider these ideas, ask them to think about the ripple effect of their actions. Our involvement, no matter how small it may seem, can be the catalyst for change in someone's life.
