

Creative OPPORTUNITY for RESIDENTS IN THE HAWKESBURY

The C.L.A.S.S (Creative Lifestyle and Sustainability Skills) program is a regular creative workshop for selected community members who can benefit from social connectivity and build transferable skills to enhance wellbeing and develop a creative small business.

Specialist Makers will take participants through creative activities.

Makers will share their skills and knowledge in jewellery making, eco dyeing, basketry, mosaic and much more.

Guest talks from business mentors including Western Sydney Business Centre to provide information on developing a small business.

Makers each week will share their business journey, experiences and tips. Concepts like photographing products, using social media and market stalls will be explored.

Objectives

- To achieve social inclusion and manual skill development
- To build resilience and economic choices through business idea development
- Particularly targeting women who are the carers and partners in this farming community and their wellbeing and mental health has a flow on effect

Who

People who:

- are aged between 16-80 years
- can't access creative skills workshops due to location or financial circumstances
- can commit to a 10 week program
- have interest in creative skills and/or upcycling
