The Other Coin: COTY 2026

The Coin of the Year (COTY) nominees are out. World Coin News favorites below with US entries if there are ones. The historically significant category has Barbados 200 years of the public rail. With six trains on the reverse and moving wheels on obverse, Barbados should have this one over our assembly line coin. In contemporary events France, Spain, and UK all celebrated birth of US. Finland celebrates WWII veterans by a very artistic coin. In negative space, an image of the elderly vet on left, with helmet on right and youth on far right. Reverse depicts broken land and swastika. US did not have entry in this category.

Note that Russia's inability to conquer Finland inspired Germany's invasion of Russia in WWII. In best crown-sized coin Chad is favored for their Julius Caesar coin. Not sure why Chad did this, but it's cool.

Best circulating coin is not that attractive from Papua New Guinea, celebrating 50 years of independence. Austria seems to have a lock on best bi-metal coin with their silver niobium coins. Here celebrating digitization. Ukraine is ahead for most artistic coin

A tribute to 1960s artist and fashion designer Lyubov Panchenko with her on the obverse and a portrait from her artwork on reverse. For most innovative Niue has made a silver paper airplane. Portugal got the nod for sustainable development coin for most inspirational although Canada end of WWII, Niue's forest guardian, Ukraine's Hold the Line!, and France's Auschwitz seem more inspirational to me.

Trump's 47, 20 ou, 24 carat gold coins are likely delayed past July 4th by legal challenges as is a $250 dollar bill. Any sign of his signature on other bills?

Treasury Secretary Scott Bessant's mock up of $250 Trump bill above. A very rare 4 dollar gold pattern coin minted for 2 years called coiled hair Stella 12-25 known. A visit to a silver mine in 1688 by Karl XI of Sweden commemorated. With Latin inspection of (peruse)the bowels of the earth.

And a visible to the eyes 1942 over 1 Mercury dime. Basel Switzerland Historical Museum did a display of hoards, mostly coins, but also Roman silver plate and Celtic gold jewelry that adorned huge statues of gods. The treasures on display date from the Bronze Age to the present day. There are a few pictures on-line and a nice catalog in English. <https://www.hmb.ch/ausstellungen/schatzfunde-versteckt-verschollen-entdeckt> Treasure Finds: Hidden, Lost, Discovered, edited by Pia Kamber.

FIFA silver dollar, $5 gold coin and half dollar clad coin. Common reverse is lower left. On sale now.

World's Greatest Mint Errors by Mike Byers, 232pp. around $40 on secondary market. Out of Print already. A great picture book. Frederick of Prussia 1849 coin commemorating suppression of Baden revolt by his field marshal A. Rheim. Neat angel getting ready to chain dragon. Date is July 7 for new Redbook 2027.

Paper & spiral $18, 512 pp., hardcover $27, large print spiral $30. Newman Numismatic Portal 2026 Symposium Videos Now Available:

Double struck 1984 P MS66 by a doubled die. Unique.

Samoa has issue another sliding door 5 ounce silver coin revealing Shangri-La. CIT has a new Liberty out and I noticed Littleton is painting all the Innovation and Native American coins as well as silver eagles. Here's 2026. AI is about to augment and probably replace human coin grading to achieve 90% or better coin grading on the 70 point Sheldon scale. Eye appeal is the last hurdle. Nebraska Territory, 1856. $5

coin of Mattathias Antigonus II (40-37 BC) showing the menorah (candlestick) and showbread table of the Jewish temple. He proclaims himself high priest in paleo-Hebrew and King in Greek. Mattathias fought for many years with Herod and Herod's father Antipater the Idumaeen. Mattathias enlisted the support of Julius Caesar, and the Parthians (Persians) to thwart Herod's designs on the throne. Mattathias gave a large sum of gold and 500 female slaves to the Parthians to overthrow High Priest and King Hyrcanus II, who had defeated the Samaitans and Idumaeans. Herod fled to Rome and got appointed King of Judaea and returned to defeat Mattathias, the last Jewish Antigonid ruler. Herod was half Idumean and a Jewish convert, thought of as not really Jewish like the Samaritans. Herod became king, but not high priest, building a new temple and marrying a Jewish princess Mariamne. The coin is unique and the first appearance of the menorah. It was seized by Homeland Security and Israeli Antiquities Authority in US as stolen along with a silver Athenian decadrachm of Ascalon, Phoenicia, a coin from Alexander the Great's time. One of 2 known. The Paris Mint has re-imagined the Libertas Americana with Minerva (France) stands with Liberty (US) instead of fighting the lion (England). Of course, Lady Liberty is French too and America is a grown up Heracles, not a baby.
