Why Choose The Hogan Leadership Forecast Series...

- Strategic self-awareness tool you can use to reach your highest potential
- Trusted as the Leadership Assessment tool by 75% of Fortune 500 companies
- Praised for its scientific rigor, predictive validity, and practical application
- Used worldwide and adapted to different cultures and languages

What it can do for you...

- Understand your leadership strengths and how to leverage them to even greater success
- Shows how you may be perceived by others, your potential leadership derailers and what development will be the most effective for you while recommending areas of focus for growth and improvement
- Discover your own values, unconscious biases and key motivators for maximum success and fulfillment
- Gives you an invaluable self coaching tool you can use over your career lifetime at key transitions

How we do it...

- Complete your online HOGAN Assessments, taking approximately an hour
- Participate in four one-on-one private coaching sessions with your own certified HOGAN executive coach to walk through your 3 HOGAN Leadership assessments (Strengths, Challenges and Values)
- Discuss how your Strengths, Challenges, and Values affect you, your role, your team, your career, and your perceived reputation
- Build an arsenal of personal and career development tactics/goals that will be the cornerstone of your growth in your career and as a leader for years to come

Meet Your Coach!

Lisa Gary, PCC

I have been coaching business leaders for over 20 years and have worked and led teams in 4 different industries for over 30 years. So, I have walked a thousand miles in your shoes. I am an International Federation Coach (ICF), Professional Coach (PCC), Neuroleadership Brain-Based Coaching, as well as HOGAN Assessment certified. My passion is coaching and developing leaders to enable them to deliver outstanding results while building capable and inclusive teams. One of the most important investments leaders can make is to dive deep into themselves and develop their self awareness as there is no better tool to understand your leadership strengths, potential career derailers, values and your leadership reputation than the HOGAN Leadership Forecast Series.
