

ACP Statement

ACP eligibility will be determined for the FCC by Universal Service Administrative Company's National Verifier and National Lifeline Accountability Database, or an alternative verification process approved by the FCC.

Request Your Tablet Page– Request Your Tablet Lifeline program participants are eligible to participate in the new federal government-funded Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP). The ACP is a government benefit program operated by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) that provides discounts on monthly broadband internet access service and a one-time discount on certain connected devices.

The ACP monthly service and device discounts cannot be transferred to other individuals or households. An eligible household is limited to one monthly service discount and one device discount. ACP benefits may be obtained from any participating provider of your choosing and your monthly service benefit may be transferred to another provider subject to regulatory restrictions.

If the FCC announces the end of the ACP or we discontinue our ACP service offers, we will notify you and you will revert to receiving only the standard FREE Lifeline plan where available and if you are eligible. Where Lifeline plans are not available or if you are not eligible, you may keep your service by selecting from one of our existing prepaid or data-only plans and paying the applicable undiscounted rate plus applicable fees and taxes.

The ACP shares the same qualifying eligibility programs as Lifeline – participation in SNAP, Medicaid, SSI, Federal Public Housing Assistance, and Veterans and Survivors Pension Benefit Fund. Additional eligibility criteria are unique to ACP and do not qualify for Lifeline. These include Pell Grants (current award year recipients), Free and Reduced-Price School Lunch and Breakfast, WIC Program, and income at or below 200% of the federal poverty level.

Program eligibility will be determined for the FCC by Universal Service Administrative Company's National Verifier and National Lifeline Accountability Database, or an alternative verification process approved by the FCC.
