The Cost

Luke 14:25-35: For Christians, living a cross-shaped life is both the beginning and the end of discipleship. Practically, living a cross-shaped life means we willingly embrace shame and sacrifice thereby demonstrating our weakness and God's strength to the world.

Reflection Questions

1. Recall a time where you embraced shame or sacrifice. Did you experience the presence of Christ in that moment? What was that like?
2. What do you find in your life threatening to make you tasteless salt? How would you go about working to preserve your "saltiness" for your sake and the sake of the world?

GEMS: Exciting News!

GEMS (Girls Everywhere Meeting the Savior) is starting this fall!

Beth and Irene will be the leaders and we cannot wait to share this ministry with the girls!

We would like to meet briefly with the girls and parents TODAY after church.
