ABOUT THE ARTIST

After writing her first songs at 24, Rachel Neal fell in love with sharing lyrics that cut straight to the bone, drawing from real-life moments, quiet strength, and unfiltered emotion. Whether she's singing about heartbreak, identity, or resilience, Neal's music invites listeners into the kind of stories that don't need dressing up — just a melody and the truth.

Drawing inspiration from Miranda Lambert, Patty Griffin, Brandi Carlile, and Sheryl Crow, Neal crafts music that resonates deeply with listeners.

Since the release of her debut single, Wildflower, Neal has steadily built a loyal fanbase and accumulated thousands of global streams. She has been nominated for Female Vocalist of the Year 2025 at the Josie Music Awards in Nashville, Tennessee, and for Breakthrough Artist of the Year 2024 at the Midwest Country Music Awards, highlighting her growing influence in the independent country music scene. Neal's rapidly rising career has already earned her the opportunity to open for the likes of Randy Houser and Hailey Whitters.

Rachel Neal continues to put in the work to grow her skills and write some honest and captivating music while drawing in a crowd with her pure tone and engaging talent.
