The Act of Intention

The act of intending can be equated with commanding the God Goddess and I AM, Oversoul and Source of one's form and field to take a particular action in relation to one's evolutionary journey as a human being.

In the act of intention, the will centers related to each chakra unite sending the intent to the subtle bodies. First the intent, as it is made, is received from the will center to the mental body. The mental body then transcribes the command into the Language of Light thoughtform. Many may not realize that the solar sun has made a shift about nine months ago in which the only language now received for the purposes of manifestation and dream weaving from Earth or any planet in the solar system is the Language of Light.

As the emotional body receives the intention from the mental body, the emotional body infuses the communication with feelings, which causes the Language of Light to begin to spin.

The Language of Light is an emotionally based magnetic form of communication based on sound, tone, color and movement. It is the emotion that sets the energy moving in the proper manner that the communication can be understood by the sun.

After the energy begins to spin, the emotional body sends the communication to the intuitive body. It is through the intuitive body that one's soul and Mother Earth edit the communication to be in alignment with one's personal and global ascension, and also infuse one's intent with the power necessary to see the intention into the physical.

The intention, after it has been edited by soul, then moves on to the creative body, which relays the communication to the sun, which instantly relays back the intent to the manifestation planes of Earth. The intention, after it has been edited by soul, then moves on to the creative body, which relays the communication to the sun, which instantly relays back the intent to the manifestation planes of Earth. If the communication is a command or intention for boundaries, it is relayed immediately to the physical where it has instant affect over one's current energy field and life experience.
