

Tao Realization

Tao realization systems are the only systems of development remaining upon the planet for mastery of humanity. The Earth lore systems of ascension fostering are fading due to the need to foster another level of spiritual mastery into self-realizing itself through time. Self is the conscious fabric of life. Consciousness is a striation of field that is fostered in the subtle bodies of the field. The subtle bodies reformat in self-development to foster striations of light. The light synthesizes with spirit and soul to foster realization of self.

The body attunes to self to actualize the consciousness in the direction of expanded awareness fostering divine concepts of life. Self is acknowledged through moments of introspection or meditation in which the communications of spirit and soul are readily heard. Self speaks a sacred language or prose cantor that must be fostered in the mind flux of the cortex of the brain in order to be comprehended. Only certain humans have the genetic systems to develop the cortex to comprehend self-actualizing itself through time.

Flowers of self-represent the bandwidths of communication of self-realizing itself within. Each flower hosts a specific path of comprehension of the divine over life. The flowers represent the seven rays of power (peach to orange), harmony (turquoise to blue), sustenance (pink to red), fostering (green to blue green), dreaming (violet to purple), and divine understanding (magenta to lavender). Each flower forms in a particular hue to foster divine understanding through time. Full spectrum mastery of all flowers of self is a goal of spirit to descend into matter to foster a full body soul infusion. Full body monadic infusion is a reflection of a succinct level of realization of the divine.

Soul and spirit are different. Spirit is a nonphysical resource of support for life in the form of dragons or demons, angels, mushroom consciousness (ancestral archives), consensus spirits (world based historical archives) and sun and moon systems (solar historical archives). Each spirit descends and blends with the self-striations of the subtle body systems to foster the development of Tao focuses through time. Spirit guides the pathway of self-development concepts of compassionate action in the life. Divine concepts are fostered through soul in a monadic infusion as the concepts of the flowers of self are mastered. Soul and spirit interplay until the monadic infusion is complete in a full body formation of self.

Spirit fosters the experience of oneness within from which compassionate expression for each can be fostered. Oneness is a motion of light syncopation of field that fosters an emotional response of the interconnectedness of all of life in self-development status of existence. Spirit creates the circuit that allows the flavor of oneness to be sustained through time. Oneness is the first level of actualization to occur in the birth of realization of self. Oneness is a flower associated with the bluebell formation of light motion. Realization occurs in six motions of self to be developed through time into a full spectrum hue of rays and all flowers of self-fostered in the mind.

Six Motions of Tao Realization

Oneness Theory of Life: Oneness is an expression of the union of Dao and Tao within that fosters the flavor of the sacred truth that all of life hosts spirit and consciousness. Everything and everyone is alive and therefore to be honored by self of the self within. Honor of the land, natural world spirits, dragons, angels, demons, and spirits of the planetary and solar system is the divine accord actualized in the light notions of field in oneness theory of life. As oneness theory is mastered, the first and base level of self-realizing itself is born. Spirit and soul fosters the flavor of oneness through sacred actions of light motions in the first flower of self known as the bluebell. The first flower is the first ray of blue embraced as a light synthesis motion of field. Each ray sustains a particular truth associated with the Dao within.

Monadic Infusion: Soul is a monadic relay from birth that fosters understanding of life experiences and realization of self in reincarnation cycles through time. Reincarnation is of the monad and not of the body. Monadic infusion leads to a soul driven life. Monadic infusion triggers the beautification of the self of the self within. Beauty is fostered in nine light motions of field that flower in the rays of pink to red in a red ginger formation. The pink to red ray fosters deep care of the planet within. Care of the planet is a triad flux of father, son and holy ghost or mother, father and child or creator nature and human system of thought-form stream. Monadic infusion requires visspa and vesspa mindset to develop into cherry synapse flux.

Visspa and vesspa foster communication that accord with spirit and soul to interpret the nonphysical relays through the self of the self within. The nonphysical relays communications in sacred text of bluebell and red ginger formations to begin with. Relays from the nonphysical direct the consciousness to foster the life in compassionate action through time. Prior to development of visspa and vesspa, self is difficult to interpret consciously. Developments prior to the infusion of the monad interpret self, spirit, and soul while asleep.

The monadic infusion begins as visspa and vesspa mindset developments. The first monadic infusion extends first into the chest into the breast plate and ribs. Monadic infusion begins a path of a soul driven life. Soul driven lives flux awareness of self and spirit into matter. Most destined for a soul driven life are born with a small monadic infusion into the heart cavity. As the first level of soul infusion is fostered, soul expands from the heart cavity into the bust from the head into the ribs. The first level of monadic infusion fosters 18-18 level pathways of divine understanding in life. 18-18 levels of pathways foster Tao realization to begin.

Mastery Levels of Self: There are six mastery levels of self that lead to a complete monadic infusion into the entire body through time. Mastery levels flower in quotients of light that is infused into the bones of the body. Light quotients must rise up into the 90th percentile in order for a full body monadic infusion to be fostered. Nerve development is a part of the journey into a soul driven life. The mastery levels increase the light motions of field and foster a light synthesis DNA to form in the biology.

The first mastery level is known as Budding the Self which fosters 40 percent of the cells to be infused with light. Light DNA begins to grow at this level. The second mastery level is known as Fostering Self and causes 50 percent of the cells to be infused with light. The third level is known as Maturing the Self and triggers 60 percent of cells to become light infused. The fourth level is known as Liquidating the Self which fosters an infusion of the monad into the feet and hands and fosters a 60 percent light quotient of field and biology. The fifth level is Fostering Self Realization which causes 75 percent of the cells to be light infused. The sixth level is called Mastery of Self and causes 86 percent of the field and form to grow to be light infused when complete.

Truth of Light Motion: The fourth level of self-realization fosters actualization of light synthesis. Actualization is a fostering of soul and spirit to cause a galaxy of stars to motion around the subtle bodies and large transfusion body. The galaxy is a display of a flowering of spirit merged with soul that fosters the journey into the divine for the actualization of spirit into matter. Actualization is not to be confused with the light body formations of field leading up to a full body monadic infusion.

The full body monadic infusion requires the growth of the mindset and nervous repose into a visspa and vesspa synapse formations. Visspa and vesspa synapses form not only in the cortex but down the spine and into the neck, sacrum, feet, and hands. A full body repose from head to toes and back is required for the monadic infusion to complete. The galaxy of stars bursts into motion as the monadic infusion is complete and the nervous repose is consistent from head to toe. Bunions in the nerves is a sign that the nervous repose is in its development stages in this cycle. Bunions are burst nerves that often occur in visspa and vesspa nerve growth through time.

Self-Actualization: Self-actualization occurs in four stages of mastery of spirit into matter. The first stage of actualization involves the nervous repose into the term “Ama’ama”. Ama’ama is the divine understanding that each is divine within and in life. The second stage involves the repose of “Dantay’dantay” which translates into the divine interpretation that all is to be cared for regardless of position in the wheel of life. Ama’ama and Dantay’dantay are chants that occur within the field as the light motions flower in particular rays associated with pink, orchid, and blue. Ama’ama and Dantay’dantay represent the rays of rebirth in a complete reversal of the life script. A complete reversal of the life is needed to foster the first stages of self-actualization. The pink, orchid, and blue rays foster the divine accord of self. The divine accord of self acknowledges that one is also divine along with all others.

Divine Realization: The third stage of actualization is known as Muna’muna. As the repose of Muna’muna sings in the field, the rays of yellow, orange and peach are mastered as divine concepts of self-realizing itself. Yellow, orange, and peach rays foster the divine ordering of the life into a new and purposeful dream. Self-realizing itself gives birth to a yogi within. A yogi is one who may teach divine understanding unto those who choose to follow their notions and receive divine dreams as a repose and gift of spirit and soul in the exchange.

The fourth stage of actualization fosters dreaming of “Ama’yogi”. The repose of Ama’yogi in the field fosters the master into motions of purposeful actions with others. As Ama’yogi reposes the rays of green and lavender motions in a light synthesis of field to cause a global presence of one who has mastered divinity within. Yogis hold global positions to foster the planet in the direction of divine realization of the whole.

Tao development is a succinct dream to align with in an accord with the planet. The planetary Dao and Tao direct the planetary dreams of mastery of each in an alignment from spirit into matter. Spirit drives the dreams of monadic infusion at varying degrees of octaves of synthesis and flower of self-development within. Octaves are monitored for quotients of light in the biology along with flowers that are mastered in the cortex of the mind and transfusion bodies through time. Surrendering the will of self unto the planetary Dao and Tao is a part of the equation of mastery to be fostered in accord with the mastery quotients in the biology and biological mindset.

Biological Mindset

Biological mindset drives the human dreams into nuances of care, love, fostering of one another, and wholeness theory and truth.

Medicine Bag Systems

The medicine bag of self is an oscillation of the divine to protect those actualizing self in any era. The medicine bag of self is an astute understanding of the Dao and Tao of the nature of karmic afflictions upon Earth. The karma is so great that the likelihood of an incident of harm is great in most lives fostering development into self-realization in this cycle. Harm is an intrinsic part of karmic happenstances of fate that may illicit anger, perjury, a fostering of violence or accidents of the physical in this cycle. Perjury is so great due to demonic affluences that it is not unlikely that most self-developing into realizing self could be harmed in one or more karmic actions of fate in the life.

The motions of the Tao within foster a removal of the perjured fate so that the harm does not act out in the physical dreams of life of the adept.

The will of the Tao is a fostering of self-development. It is the will of the Tao that redirects the dreams of non-fate as realization is fostered. The will of the Tao is a fostering of many medicines of self that trigger awareness to flux and realization to unfold.

The Tao of the planet monitors the self-actualization while the Tao within fosters realization sequences of dreams. Realization sequences foster karmic habitat to flux others into and out of the life of the one developing or realizing self. The interplay between individuals highlights the karmic stanza of self to be forgiven. The medicine bag of self aids in the actions needed to forgive difficult dream sequences of fate through time. The Tao within applies the medicine bag of self when needed.

The Tao within fosters the medicine bag of self to flux open in sequences of dreams fostering new keys for continued development into realization fostering. The medicine bag is not only a protective stanza over the life but an unfolding of understanding that is archetypal and Tao oriented within. Tao oriented knowledge is a subtle nuance of self that fosters the direction of the attention of the consciousness to foster realization of self. Realization of self is a medicine applied to the physical and etheric. Medicine aids the wounds of the ancestry to heal within.

Realization archetypes today are wounded from many demonic interludes that crucified the physical in the ancestries associated. The medicine bag of self-fosters the forgiveness of ancestral plight through keys released through time. Life unfolds often in parallel to the ancestral strife allowing the physical a journey of forgiveness into compassionate action through time. Archetypes collide in ascension relays of self. Often archetypal duress is forgiven as self-realization is fostered from ascension systems of earlier development.

Self-Development into Realization: Medicine Bag Gifts of the Tao

Sustenance of Health

The first medicine gift is a sustainable system of light infusion to foster health of all biological systems of ethereal and physical existence. The sustenance of health medicine bag renews the biology for durations of up to 14 years. If self-development continues beyond the first 14-year cycle, the key can be fostered again by the Dao within for another 14 years of sustenance. Three sustenance key inaugurations only are allowed in this cycle. There are four keys associated that must ring to foster a renewal of field and form. Most foster two renewals and not three due to toxic mayhem of the current human plight upon Earth.

Hope for a New Future

As self-development is launched, a new dream unfolds taking the initiate on a new roadmap of fate. The hope key fosters a new dream to arise and be chosen for and then fostered in each 14-year cycle. If another cycle is inaugurated, the hope key is triggered again to foster yet another dream from another part of the karmic habitat of fate that fluxes open in an accord of the Dao within. Three hope key inaugurations are allowed this cycle with three different dreams to unfold in the life. Most may not live more than two life dreams in this cycle due to loss of physical sustenance through time. There are 8 keys that foster hope for a new future that ring to redirect the life unfolding in each adept.

Truth of the Tao

The truth of the Tao within is fostered as a fate key unfolds in certain octaves of self-development initiation. The truth of the Tao is a very unique process in which the fostering of the life unfolds in a direction that is introspective and inner driven. The truth of the Tao orientation fosters a life that is motioned from within through Tao dreaming accolades of self. This key only inaugurates once. Tao dreaming continues through all self-development into self-realization categories of dream.

Tao dreaming can alter dreams at the speed of sound in self-development levels of initiation. Dreams alter in 4 to 9 month sequences of time at the speed of sound. As light quotients are initiated, dreaming at the speed of light begins fostering alterations to the unfolding dreams instantaneously. Instant dreaming must be driven in sacred service to the Tao within to foster non-harm in the life. There are 14 truth keys to be fostered in the medicine bag through time. Each key fosters a deeper bandwidth of Tao direction in the life. Seven keys are associated with self-development status of initiations. Seven additional keys foster further Tao realization to flux forth in initiations beyond self-development octaves of fate.

Love of the Tao Within

Love of the Tao is a Dao driven motion to ignite a key to foster divine union within. Divine union is an oscillation of the Dao and Tao within the heart accolade of self. The heart accolade expands into a flourish of light that fosters the flavor of deep care of the heart within. The love of the Tao drives dreams forth in new directions that foster care of the adept in the dreams of life. The love of the Tao continues to expand as the heart accolade expands through time as compassionate action is fostered. There are 18 keys for the love of the Tao dreaming fostered through self-development status of initiations.

Heart of the Tao

The heart of the Tao is an opening into self-realization medicine bag keys. The heart of the Tao fluxes open in seven stages through time. Many Tao attributes of fate motion forth into the life dreams as the heart of the Tao motions are fostered. There are 8 keys that foster the heart of the Tao notions through time. The heart of the Tao is not an easy motion to master except in certain regions upon Earth.

The gates for heart systems only flux in 12 regions upon Earth including Hawaii, Iceland, Portugal, Spain, Tahiti, Australia, New Zealand, parts of the US, and parts of Canada in the west. In the East, the heart motions are sustainable in the Himalayas, Taiwan and Vietnam primarily. It is for this reason that self-realization is limited in this cycle as the heart of the Tao is a necessary mastery for realization to occur in each adept.

Sustainable Notions of Self

Sustainable notions of self are the first medicine bag key for self-realization to flux forth. Sustainable notions provide the fabric through which the life form is recast and renewed through light infusion. Light infusion quotients are embodied into the seventy to 80th percentile in the physical to foster sustainable notions of self keys. There are 12 keys that trigger sustainability in the cellular notions of life. Cellular sustainability is an ageless and timeless existence that can foster self-realization through time.

Life Form Enhancement

The life form enhancement is a motion to renew the biology into the 84 percent range of light quotient within. As the biology motions more light than non-light, the life form is enhanced into a stalactite or quasar star system that surrounds the large transfusion body. The star of self is given birth unto in the octaves mastered in the early notions of self-realizing itself into divine notions of life. The medicine bag grows to be double the size in its fostering of health, dreaming the life, fostering friendship or group associations, fostering the truth of the Tao in the life expression, and to offset dharmic habitat of strife through time. There are 200 keys associated with the enhanced medicine bag for self-realizing itself through time.

The medicine bag of the star self-fosters 800 additional keys through time allowing new divine concepts to be embraced in the life. Divine concepts are not new but ancient ley lines to the Mother Sun awareness of self. The Mother Sun Dream accolades the medicine bag of the star self to expand through time into new concepts of the divine to be mastered. The Dao within enhances the medicine bag to foster the dreams of the physical.

Medicine Bag Systems of Self

The medicine bag systems of self is an oscillation of the Mother Sun to foster awareness into realization stanzas of life. Realization stanzas are a resounding series of cadences of thoughts and sounds that foster divine understanding. Divine concepts unfold in fourteen sequences through time. Divine understanding is an oscillation of truth of the Mother Sun ley lines of self. The ley lines of self are a fostering of transfusion systems that host gates into the Mother Sun. All transfusion systems lead to the Mother early notions of self-realizing itself into divine notions of life. The medicine bag grows to be double the size in its fostering of health, dreaming the life, fostering friendship or group associations, fostering the truth of the Tao in the life expression, and to offset dharmic habitat of strife through time. There are 200 keys associated with the enhanced medicine bag for self-realizing itself through time.

The medicine bag of the star self-fosters 800 additional keys through time allowing new divine concepts to be embraced in the life. Divine concepts are not new but ancient ley lines to the Mother Sun awareness of self. The Mother Sun Dream accolades the medicine bag of the star self to expand through time into new concepts of the divine to be mastered. The Dao within enhances the medicine bag to foster the dreams of the physical.

Medicine Bag Systems of Self

The medicine bag systems of self is an oscillation of the Mother Sun to foster awareness into realization stanzas of life. Realization stanzas are a resounding series of cadences of thoughts and sounds that foster divine understanding. Divine concepts unfold in fourteen sequences through time. Divine understanding is an oscillation of truth of the Mother Sun ley lines of self. The ley lines of self are a fostering of transfusion systems that host gates into the Mother Sun. All transfusion systems lead to the Mother Sun.
