Prayer vs. Intent

Mother Theresa was a powerful individual. She knew the power of intent. There are stories in which Mother Theresa intended a cease-fire in war torn nations so that she could cross particular war zones and assist those in need. Mother Theresa caused the cease-fire through intent of will, and because she had ascended, her intent was more powerful than the generals and armies warring against one another. Therefore, her thoughtform over-rode theirs, and a cease fire was the result.

Many humans are confused about prayer. Long ago, the dark created planes of prayer. Much like the belief in heaven, humans were guided to pray for this or that. Sometimes what is prayed for is fulfilled upon, and sometimes not. Prayers towards God Goddess began long ago in the era of the Annanuki, whom built shrines unto themselves for the masses of slaves to worship. In the worship and through prayer, the Annanuki collected the power and chi from the masses of slaves to extend their lives. After the death of the Annanuki, they continued to take the chi and power from the planes of prayer to sustain their nonphysical existence. Furthermore, the False

Gods take the chi and power from humans whom pray to sustain their dominion up through recent times.

When one prays, one gives their power to a nonphysical entity. Your power lies within. You are God Goddess in form. You have a soul, oversoul and source. Your source is the God Goddess of your being. Source doesn't want you to pray, but to intend your reality. Intention is an act of will. When one intends, one isn't an impoverished and powerless human begging some being to change their fate, but a powerful ascending master whom commands their reality!

As an ascending human, one not only INTENDS TO ASCEND, but intends harmlessness, and intends to complete karma with all that one can in a given day, week, month, or year in order to continue to ascend. When one acknowledges that there is karma between oneself and another, the simple choice of "I intend to release my karma with such and such" has the effect of accomplishing the goal. When one acknowledges that they need certain funds to live or travel to places that support Earth's choice to ascend, the simple choice of "I intend to have all funds necessary to live, ascend and support Earth's ascension" has the effect of accomplishing the goal. When one acknowledges that they are ungrounded, the simple choice of "I intend to ground and connect to Mother Earth and my soul and source" has the effect of accomplishing the goal.

The Heart Is Your Gateway Home

The heart is the gateway to your source, to your soul, and to all dimensions. Your heart contains the knowledge of the ages and can guide you home if you so allow it.

It is your soul, your source, that must guide you home, must guide you upon your path of ascension. So, allow the process, allow the cleansing, feel the pain, and then feel the ecstasy of union as enough of the heart has opened to allow for it.

You are not alone. You have never been alone. However, you have perceived yourself as alone due to the armoring of the heart, which disconnected soul and source from your life experience, and for all of your ancestors' life experiences. You have thousands and thousands of lifetimes of separation, each of which must be addressed, healed, processed, and released in order for a continuous and ongoing experience of connection and divine union to become your truth of experience upon Earth. Allow the processing, go into the memories of your ancestors' lives, and release the pain and loneliness therein. In so doing, your connection to Source and your connection to God Goddess/All That Is shall be repaired, one step at a time.

Change

There are many personal experiences for initiates on the path of ascension. However, there are parallels in the journey that one could consider "signposts" that one is on their way Home rather than moving in a dead-end and non-ascending path. The one major signpost is change.

Change is essential to ascension. One cannot ascend without leaving their job behind and creating a sovereign form of income. One cannot ascend and not leave behind the friends, family members or spouse that is not choosing to ascend, for the continued interaction only delays one's increasing frequency. One cannot ascend without all areas of one's life experience shifting to reflect the unity-based paradigm that one is emerging into. It is not possible.

So, we guide you to allow the change. Each change will lighten the load of attachment that penetrates the field causing one to move up in frequency, and in so doing, one shall feel more free, more liberated, and in the freedom and the liberation, one has the first taste of returning Home in one's life experience.
