The Will Centers

The will centers are reconstructed more or less by initiation 3000 and sits inside of each chakra center. Each chakra center at 3,000 segments consists of three sets of triple spheres that rotate around one another; the top layer representing the conscious layer, the middle the subconscious layer, and the back layer represents the unconscious.

Inside of the middle or subconscious layer of each of the seven major chakra centers is another triple sphere pattern. It is roughly 1/3 the size of the other chakras, is a triple sphere pattern, and represents the Will Center.

The will centers should begin to be constructed after initiation 2,200 as the chakras become triple sphere in nature. One will see that one will have a triple sphere internal to the other three chakras that represents the will center.

Much like the subtle bodies that have become intertwined with the energy of others, along with chakras, grid work, sexual energy, and the light body, one is forever separating oneself in ascension.

Intention

I intend to dissolve all grid work in all energy flow in my auric field, chakra system, subtle bodies, grid work and light body that is not of my energy signature. I return such energy to whomever it belongs to. I retrieve my energy from all others that I have given grid work unto. I now reweave my own field with my own grid work founded upon my own energy signature.

Chi moves two ways, beloved. One receives chi through the fire that runs through one's kundalini that is provided through the Aurora by Mother Earth unto all living things, and the crystalline cells themselves produce fire in the act of digesting the sugar within the cycle of cellular metabolism.

It is the fire that is produced upon a cellular level that causes the vibration of the form to increase.

As more and more cells become crystalline, more fire is produced by the entire form, which causes the molecules of the form to rotate faster and faster.

At first, the molecules continue to hold the rotational solar system type patterning; after about 1,800 DNA segments, molecules begin to convert to a triple sphere movement, which generates more chi yet allowing for continued resurrection and ascension of the form.

The light body also changes shape from a multi-faceted Mer-Ka-Ba to a Triple Sphere shape as initiation 2,000 is mastered. One will clearly see all spheres of the triple sphere chakras as they rotate.

The Light Body

The light body of the Bodhisattva expands around initiation 5,500 to become an integrity symbol, or in other terms a second triple sphere is added above the first one, and the two sets of triple spheres rotate around one another creating a yet larger energy flow.

The light body is a body double and holds a larger version of the etheric body and all chakras. It is the light body that one can travel within during dreamtime for meetings or the purposes of researching information surrounding one's ascent.

Due to the misuse of light body travel amongst ascending initiates, light body movement has been restricted in recent months to the bare minimum required to ascend, and special escorts are required to disengage from the etheric vessel.

It is the light body that gathers photonic energy emanating from the Great Central Sun and utilizes such energy to rotate the larger chakras that sustain one's global auric field.

The auric field of the Bodhisattva expands to be outside of the moon's orbit, boarding upon becoming solar in nature. It is also the light body that acts as a bridge for information from one's soul, oversoul and source to the physical vessel and consciousness of the form.
