False gods and Their Origins

It appears that in the light creator creations of the Tao that commands are made to cause physicality and the nonphysical to remain together. Such a command is something like this I intend that the nonphysical dance with the physical at all times; I intend that physical and nonphysical remain in harmony; I intend that physical and nonphysical expand together each ascension cycle. What does this cause here and in opposition? Well, this is the origins of the False gods, beloved.

For you see we have inadvertently separated physicality from non-physicality. This occurs due to the inadvertent intentions of I intend that the nonphysical separate from the physical; I intend that the physical and nonphysical go into disharmony; and I intend that the nonphysical ascend separate from one another. What has this caused ultimately? It has caused the nonphysical to separate from physicality and puff their way up the dimensions, and in so doing causes the experience of false gods and physical extinction. If physicality loses enough consciousness, it goes extinct.

The nonphysical in this region of domain appear to originate from two resources; one is a set of serpents that were cast to separate creations from themselves; and the other appears to be lost body level consciousness of humans, dolphins, whales, winged lions, nature, and each consensus reality that has existed in this region of domain and separated spirit and matter through combustion. As the nonphysical separates, it puffs up the dimensions. Because it arises out of body level consciousness, the nonphysical appears human in form.

This is why angels are depicted as humans with wings; this is why god or goddess is depicted as a nonphysical male or female humanoid form. However, such forms are cast due to loss of human holographic knowledge creating what appears to be a humanoid nonphysical vessel. This is also the same for nature, and there are false gods that appear as horses, buffalos, donkeys, rabbits and so on; and yet others that take the shape of a consensus reality of valleys, trees, streams, mountains and lakes or oceans; however, ultimately all of this occurs in the nonphysical due to loss of dream and consciousness on the part of physicality.

So why have we Terra fallen from the 24th Dimension as we exited the Great Central Sun? Our own body level consciousness began to extract itself from physicality and as enough was lost, we fell to the dimensions beneath. Yes, there is also a story of how this occurred upon each dimension of life. Sometimes it involved the human species creating nuclear war as upon Maldek and blowing us up. Sometimes it also involved false ascension that was so great and so much consciousness, chi and dream lifted off all at once that we fractured falling down the dimensions.

False ascension is as destructive therefore as a nuclear annihilation. Fission and false ascension karma was explored last year and forgiven.

The Origins of Fission and Combustion

As the Tao has continued to explore the karma for the separation of spirit and matter, what has been revealed is an interesting dance that we now better understand as a consensus enough to forgive. Combustion in false ascension separates spirit and matter. The body burns up and the body level consciousness is propelled up the dimensions into a state of freedom that dances as a false god and upon false god planes. Asur'Ana sat a long time one night pondering, what is gained in combustion? What she came to understand is that the body level consciousness gains freedom in the wake of the lost physical vessel. In the freedom, the body level consciousness believes that this is what ascension is and for; to separate spirit and matter.

This is also why so many nonphysical forces participating in this dance will tell you ascension is a nonphysical only phenomenon. Beloved, in the Tao nothing goes Home separate from itself, all must choose to go home together as a whole and complete bundle or package. Therefore, the body and its consciousness must return together. It is also due to the recurrent separation of spirit and matter upon all dimensions of life in this region of domain that everything also goes extinct over time, and nothing has returned Home to the Tao in 14 cycles. As the body level consciousness separates from physicality, it still requires chi to continue to animate itself; and dreams to dance with; and information to command with. Therefore, the freed up body level consciousness then tethers back into other humans or consensus realities to feed off of them as they have blown up the body that they originated from. As the false gods feed off existing consensus realities, it propels everything down in vibration, down in dimension and ultimately towards extinction.

Additionally, there are so many false gods from other time periods sucking the life of everything upon Earth that extinction occurs far more rapidly than in Tao cycles past in this region of domain. There are 14 cycles worth of false gods that separated spirit and matter that require chi to sustain themselves; and this is the real cause of the past 200,000 human years of falls upon Mother Earth; the life force and consciousness and dream are being sucked away faster than we can generate it, beloved.

The false gods believe that they are more important than physical life; and yet they cannot exist within physicality as there is no chi or dream to allow for their existence otherwise. It is the physical that generates all energy flow and dreams, beloved. This is a funny dilemma for the Tao to look at because if everything goes extinct or returns home, these forces will simply cease to exist as there is nothing left to sustain them.

The Tao is choosing however to intervene and remove such forces and in particular those from past cycles that are depleting Terra so. This frees Terra up to come to closure with those false gods that arose out of her own body or kingdoms upon her or another 3rd dimensional form this cycle. As those false gods that arose in other consensus realities are returned, then those that arose out of Terra or some species upon her are collapsed back into the molecular structure that they arose out of. Then all body level consciousness can be restored enough to ascend and all information lost can also be retrieved. As this occurs, everything will have its place and will be ready to return to the Great Central Sun dream and eventually unto the Tao.
