The History of Our Solar System and Cosmos

There is much riding upon the success of Terra's ascension along with the ascent of our solar Sun, the sun's Sun, and the 18th Dimensional Sun. All suns are a part of the core of the Tao extended into this region of domain and of the same star that exited the Great Central Sun upon the 24th Dimension long ago. The 24th Dimensional Terra was pulled down the dimensions, shattering into smaller and smaller pieces and parts, the smallest of which is known as Earth. The solar, universal, and cosmic history share a story that most humans will understand as it is a part of our own recent history, as well as more ancient history in relation to the Family of Anu. Upon each dimension there was first a fall in human form. This fall was generally the result of an inversion of field due to either exiting the Great Central Sun or falling to a dimension of thoughtform beneath the threshold that sustained life upon the dimension above. As a creation moves through dimensions, it also moves from one dream to another, not unlike moving out of the Great Central Sun dream.

The boundaries between dreams contain a set of mirrors that turn the field and language along with thoughtform inside out. Inside out thoughtform is now better understood than at the time Terra exited the Great Central Sun and causes a splintering into two poles; one pole contains destructive thoughtform and the other creative thoughtform. Creations outside the Sun then move between the two poles, having creative and destructive cycles, with the destructive cycles leading to circumstances that then cause a fall down the dimensions, and a splintering of the creation into multidimensionality.

Earth was a part of the collective suns that splintered upon the 24th dimension. This creation did have human life upon it that exited with the star out of the Great Central Sun Dream. Human thoughtform turned inside out in the experience leading to creative followed by destructive cycles. It was during the first destructive cycle of thoughtform that another group of larger headed humans arrived from other electrical and non-resonant magnetic creations upon space craft. These humans had sustained their existence many cycles by consuming other creations. Humans fell in love between creations intermixing DNA that was very dissonant, and this caused offspring to be born that were destructive in nature.

The destructive natured offspring lost capabilities that their parents took for granted due to dissonant DNA, including the capacity to instantly manifest whatever they envisioned or move about the physical plane with thought and focus. In losing such capabilities, the offspring began to manifest transportation to carry them where they could not go on their own any longer, and other objects to make life easier upon the physical plane.

Over time boredom took over subsequent generations of mutants, who also interbred with yet other humans from yet other creations, chose to create a pared down slave race of other humans to wait upon them. This occurred as more and more of the human hologram turned inside out causing parts to fragment. The humans that were lesser than whole and were bred for servitude were related to the fragmented bits of human hologram that had shattered in the interbreeding of dissonant genealogies from variant creations of life form.

The slave nations were pared down and limited due to the limited holographic nature that they reflected. When a possible ascension cycle came forth as the creative thoughtform took hold in the next cycle, the attempt to ascend became distorted. Those that were the offspring of humans that had interbred still retained a larger cranium and more spiritual understanding than those who were smaller headed and had been bred as slaves. However, they were from variant creations and chose to ascend variant geometrical patterns non-resonant with Terra. The ascension of geometrical patterns that were dissonant led to combustion. Some who attempted to ascend with multiple geometrical patterns never emerged upon the next dimension of thoughtform, but rather the body combusted as there was not enough chi to launch the ascension given the variations of patterns that were non-resonant.

The combustion left a dream of annihilation through the fire element. In the following destructive cycles, humans began to war upon one another, particularly the smaller headed ones. Those who were gifted at creating devices constructed nuclear weaponry which is related to the dream of combustion left over from false ascension of the larger headed spiritual elite. The nuclear weaponry was detonated in warfare, and Terra shattered falling into the 18th and 12th dimensions in a single destructive cycle. This is the history of Earth that those ascending are mapping upon your dimension and upon the 12th Dimension, where there is a Sun that continues to exist to this day from this time period.

Our solar Sun was one of two 12th dimensional suns that remained from the 24th dimensional holocaust. One Sun had human life upon it known as Maldek. The other Sun remained pure of human life. The history from the dimension above more or less repeated on Maldek, leading to another nuclear annihilation which shattered her into the fifth and third dimensions. Maldek splintered into 9 suns and 18 planets that shattered across time, space and form. This is the origins of your solar Sun and Earth along with three other planets in our solar system including Venus, Saturn, and Neptune.

Our solar system held not human life until Sirius seeded human life upon Earth. Sirius A and B are another part of Maldek that was propelled down into the fifth and third dimensions similar to our solar Sun and Earth, Venus, Neptune, and Saturn. It is perhaps for this reason that humans upon Sirius felt drawn to Earth, which is the only remaining planet that resembles Sirius A and B in its dream. Sirius A and B were on the verge of repeating the same karma that developed upon Maldek and chose in the end to attempt to ascend each of their planets into stars instead. This occurred only 30,000 Earth years ago or 120,000 human years.

Alas not enough was known about ascension to create this journey without fragmenting yet again, and so, Sirius A and B fragmented in the attempt to ascend, although they did merge into two fifth dimensional bodies. What fractured off and was left behind in a vastly incomplete ascension was propelled into those creations like Earth that were related to Maldek. Earth absorbed about 1/3 of Sirius B's fragmentation in her incomplete ascension leading further to propelling Terra towards extinction.

Now and in this cycle, Terra is completing with this karma and returning the density that belongs unto Sirius B along with 18 other creations that have used her as a holding tank for their unwanted unconscious. As the unconscious of other creations lift, and this will take another 50 years of global ascension ahead (as humans measure time), Terra will be on her way Home to the Tao via the Great Central Sun Dream.
