NOTE FROM THE PRESIDENT

"The strength of the team is each individual member and the strength of each member is the team"

Here at BOLDNET we are a team, which gives us an opportunity to work together in every situation, put in efforts, understand each other's point of views, give feedback, help each other and get the best outcomes possible. When we say we are a team, our buddies prove it, all of the buddies show qualities of selflessness, collaboration, and managing skills, we focus on the end goal. We believe in the concept that the whole is greater than the sum of its parts.

Our personalities and skillsets differ, which can create personal conflict, but when the entire team focuses on doing great work, the team members' differences turn into strengths, and goals are met and even exceeded. It forms a true, unbreakable bond between its members.

The French language has a wonderful phrase for teamwork: esprit de corps, which means- it is the spirit of a team that motivates its members to succeed. Unity and enthusiasm are shared in common interests and responsibilities. This inculcates things such as team spirit, respecting others, and valuing their contributions. It also means learning more can be achieved by working together than as individuals, we BOLDNET buddies do exactly that!

I thank BOLDNET for giving me the opportunity to lead such an amazing team! I will surely bring out the best in me and the whole team. With this, I present to you the fun-filled newsletter for this month. Enjoy!!

THEME OF THE MONTH

"There is always light if only we're brave enough to see it, if only we're brave enough to be it"

'People work so hard on their hard skills, but they don't know what they are. On the other hand, they never pay heed to the soft skills, but know very well what it is.'

Hard skills are specific abilities, or capabilities, that an individual can possess and demonstrate in a measured way. Soft skills are skills applicable to all professions. These include critical thinking, problem solving, public speaking, teamwork, leadership, career management and intercultural fluency.

Why are these important?

Hard skills ensure you can do your job to your fullest. It is what can land you a job. Soft skills like leadership, teamwork etc are important to keep the job.

The various themes of the introductions, the activities, everything is centred around career development and planning at its core. But the first building block of your chosen career field are soft and hard skills.

Soft and hard skills are the base. Strengthen the base, then build anything on top. But if the base is weak, the structure will collapse.

Learnings

- think from all angles of the problem and be inclusive of everyone, be confident while putting forward your views
- you should be able to express yourself and form a connect with people
- presentations shouldn't be judged upon what you speak but upon what people get from it
- even if you don't have amazing linguistic skills, you need to put forward your views

Saeed Kalate

Learnings

- improved my improvisation, writing skills, attention span, speech, time management
- Learnt that we are slowly shedding of the more polite formal side and of course while keeping it in a right amount and approaching the more argumentative manner of how a debate session would be
- Writing more in a shorter amount of time and concluding it properly it, and also intonation

JULY WRAP UP

“A ship is always safe at shore, but that’s not what it’s built for.”

A career development system is a mechanism that takes both the parties into consideration and helps them meet their objectives. We may look upon it as an effort to strike a balance between organizational workforce requirements and individual career needs. Everyone has their own personal desires and aspirations and needs to effectively utilize their personal skills to attain their career goals and objectives. On the other hand, organizations have needs for staffing and meeting present and future human resource requirements. A career development system can be effective in creating a supportive culture in the organization and help us grow and utilize our skills related to our career.

The first impression a person has of you is entirely up to you. The creatively themed introductions made sure we think before we speak, and not just give our introduction on the fly.

This month was filled with exciting activities.

A person with zero problem solving skills has no place in the professional world. That is what the first activity of the month taught us. Problem Solving. The topic was, ‘Healthcare problems faced by citizens of India.’

The debate topic was Home-schooling VS Traditional schooling. This activity taught us the importance of critical thinking, keeping the discussion on point and the importance of research.

Thinking on the spot. Using your knowledge base to deliver a speech. Speaking Skills. Fluency in English. All these skills are improved when giving impromptu speeches.

The last session of the month was a Guest Session. The guest speaker was Dr. Anjali Ramteke, an Assistant Professor at Skill development Centre, Savitribai Phule University, Pune. The session underlined the importance of learning in various fields besides your own. She told us about Swayam, a Government platform where one can access different learning courses.

JULY WRAP UP

She instructed us to not let our long term goals cast a shadow over our short term ones, and keep pushing yourself to your limits to achieve success.

We at Boldnet are a group of people who aim to keep polishing our jewel of a personality, till it shines even in the darkest of seas, and guides us to our destinations no matter what. With that, we ended on a high note, as more informed and enlightened and signed off on July 2022.
