Re: Lives Worth Saving – Active Shooter Seminar and Threat Assessment

Our Team here at Artesia Sawdust would highly recommend Kevin Brown, Lives Worth Saving, to do this really important training on Active Shooter. Mr. Brown is very knowledgeable and provided us with invaluable information when it comes to how to handle ourselves during an active shooter situation. He was very organized and professional, and his slide presentation was superb! He left all of us talking on how we will look at every situation through a new set of lenses. Our lives today are much different than the “old” days of innocence. Mr. Brown has provided us with the necessary tools to deal with any situation that becomes a threat. We have already implemented his suggestions regarding the threat assessment he provided us. We will continue to train and prepare our employees for a safe environment. All companies, big or small, need this kind of training and it cannot be over-emphasized the value of an expert to do this type of training. We are better prepared today than we were yesterday!

Thank you Mr. Brown!
