ATS Testimonials

Do not just take our word ... Take theirs!

Capital One Bank:

"ATS is an action-oriented company with a laser-like focus on serving their clients. Their deep experience and team-based approach allows them to help companies through realized success."

Steve Dolbow, Vice President

Del-Jen (a Fluor Company):

"We have known ATS and have had a great relationship with them for many years. There is no doubt that anyone who works with ATS will benefit like we have, because they went above and beyond. They care about long-term working relationships and understand the needs of our organization."

Jim Cashin Sr., Glendale, AZ, Director Admin & Operations

Dyno Nobel:

"ATS and I worked together on a North American program in more than twenty locations for the supply of explosives products and services. As part of the program a Continuous Improvement Process (CIP) known as Blast Optimization was used significantly reducing operating costs, while increasing productivity, improving capital, and reducing costs in the tens of millions of dollars."

EJ Burke, Texas, North America

GE:

“ATS led a national project that streamlined efficiency, improved capital, and reduced costs across the U.S. They engaged in the project, and their research was thorough and comprehensive.”

National Director, Maryland

Sprint (T-Mobile):

“Throughout the course of this national project with more than 4,000 devices we increased the overall discounts to 15% for monthly services, combined forty accounts into one account, and eliminated multiple carrier solutions. ATS drove this project by gathering detailed information regarding the current systems deployed and understanding the long-term cost for those systems. The bottom-line result was a 44% cost reduction with Capital Improvement in the tens of millions of dollars.”

Jon Schoepflin, Texas

GLA YWCA:

“ATS is the premiere go-to company for profit increase, capital improvement, and cost reduction! They worked beyond expectation on various tasks in procurement, finance, and administration, improving our profits and capital in the millions of dollars! ATS carries the highest level of integrity and professionalism, and we are pleased to recommend them to anyone looking for sustainable results.”

E. Luna, CFO

Republic Real Estate and Development Company:

“ATS worked with one of the largest Native American Casinos in the U.S. They were responsible for the development of a procurement department, as well as streamlining the efficiencies, processes, and procedures. The results of the reorganized systems and processes of procurement and asset management was profit increase, capital improvement, and cost reduction in the tens of millions of dollars annually.”

Mark Heiser, Nevada, Vice President

HK Sports:

“My company, HK Sports, collaborated with ATS to select us as a national company for uniform, sportswear.... supply to all their locations across the nation. Because of the process, cost was reduced to the client, communication increased; there was more efficiency, better customer service, and greater satisfaction.”

Jason Phipps, Virginia, CEO

Horizon Youth Services:

“Horizon Youth Services engaged ATS to provide procurement and training services to our company, such as Green Regulations; Contractor Purchasing System Review Regulations; Procurement Process and Procedures; the RFP process; Leadership; Communications; and other Procurement related topics. Their expertise helped our staff from across the country understand Government contracting requirements and provided a platform for greater efficiencies.”

Peter J. Calvo, New Jersey, President

CPS:

“We collaborated with ATS to reduce costs and centralize all print, stationary, envelopes, business cards, and miscellaneous marketing items across the U.S. in more than three hundred locations. The outcome for the company was a cost reduction of more than 30%, increased efficiency, brand management, and standardization, and a 24/7 online ordering system. We would recommend ATS to any client for cost reduction, increased efficiency, improved capital, and training.”

Scott Hargest, Maryland, CEO

ETR:

“ATS came in and helped us to do the following: Created Technical Guides for thirteen different areas in our organization; Centralized Standard Operating Procedures from each location to one standard for some areas (procurement, property, finance, and administration); Reduced costs for office supplies by 47% (more than $250,000), janitorial, cleaning, and green supplies by 24% (more than $120,000), and copiers by 17% (more than $70,000); Assessed our procurement systems for compliance with procurement plans for improvement; and provided procurement, green, assessment, and management training to our staff at each ETR location. ATS professionalism and the timeliness of our needs was as strong as their knowledge base on our business as a government contractor. We are fortunate to have found them!!!”

R. Dallas, CFO

Geiger:

“We at Geiger collaborated with ATS to create a successful national company store program for a large multi-billion-dollar company. Objectives were to reduce overall costs for branded promotional products and logo apparel while at the same time reinforcing the company’s brand through consistent use of the company’s identity throughout its various divisions. They made their objectives clear to us from the start and then collaborated carefully with us to craft a successful program that remains in effect today. Cost savings to the company amounted to 15% plus the resulting consistent display of the company’s brand in all regions. Efficiency improved as Geiger functioned as the single point of contact company-wide for all issues regarding use and display of logo on branded merchandise and apparel.”

Scott Boyages, CAS, Massachusetts

Global Consumer Products:

“ATS has high moral character. Their knowledge, experience, and success speak for themselves. They have the great ability to listen, define the needs, and then create a successful action plan to meet the client's needs. Their organization reflects their work and beliefs. I recommend their organization to any business needing a true professional partner.”

Garry Quarles, CEO

SAVE:

“We highly recommend ATS! There is no doubt they will serve your needs and save you money! They are one of the most diligent organizations I know!”
